Shoes That Express Distinction

There is a sense of satisfaction in the possession of any article of recognized quality.

In the case of footwear, quality is not only a satisfaction but a good investment.

It lengthens the service of the shoe and protects the health of the wearer through correct fitting. It also brings the advantages that come in any walk of life to the one who is well groomed.

That's why we sell the shoes designed and produced by the best of American Shoe Makers.

The Great Adventure

Glance backward with us, the Seniors, who are about to launch into the sea of life and see in vision some of the things that we remember from our school days. At first sight there is one thing that stands out most of all, the letters M. C. H. S. Our ambition was to be graduated under that famous label, to be a part of the great body of Alumni that the school boasts. This was not to be so, however, but on the contrary we are to be the first to leave the school under the new label, I. H. S. We have but little regret for the change, because we realize this to be the turning point in the progress of the school. For a generation M. C. H. S. has been steadily advancing until now she can leap forward in longer strides, and we feel that the changing of the name is the signal for the great advance forward.

Many things go to prove this. Our faculty has increased. Our student body outnumbers all previous enrollments and a greater interest is being shown in education itself. But now we are leaving and memories crowd our brain. Perhaps we see a gridiron looming before us. In the distance we see two dim lines and through the dusty haze we recognize the majestic colors of "ORANGE AND BLACK." Faintly to our ears come the signals, then, with a mighty rush, we see our warriors crossing the goal line. A great shout goes up, then, all is still. Or, perhaps we hear the distant tolling of the bell and our blood thrills, for to us the sounding of that bell is the token of victory. But all those things are gone now and we face the trials of life. We are on the border of a new beginning, the turning point in our lives, and a false move might prove fatal. But we do not start blindly. We keenly realize our situation and we are just as determined as ever to succeed. We hope to be just as good citizens as we were students, to enter our daily duties with as much determination and grit as we did our football and other athletics, to live and let live and help one another daily.

So now we leave with several great objects in view; to stand for that which is right, to defend the weak and breathe the free air of democracy, to be ideal citizens. Thus will we start on the "great adventure."

"For tho' from out our bourne of time and place
The flood may bear me far,
I hope to see my Pilot face to face
When I have crost the bar."

This is one body of men we seldom see as a body official though they are seen frequently at their various places of business. But we know enough to understand that they constitute the governing force of the city schools, are all eminently successful as busiess men, and are decidedly public spirited. Thus we can approach the matter of writing a word about our Board of Education.

These gentlemen have not only their own affairs to attend to but there is an unusually large amount of public business to be administered. Their duties this year are more extensive and more exacting than they were last year, and it is not unlikely that the next few years will lay even greater burdens upon them. Their reward will be measured almost wholly by the use the boys and girls make of the abundant opportunities offered by these splendid schools.

This year they have the added weight of the High School to carry, and the new Junior to be built. Next year the entire High School system must be revised and run to suit the new conditions. While the immediate management devolves upon the superintendent and the principals, still the Board is the base upon which all these operations are worked out. They are the combined executive and legislative system, and ultimately to them we look for that strong, rational backing an aggressive superintendent and his teachers must have in order in insure the highest type of success.

Not only are these gentlemen good business and professional men but they are men of pleasing personality. We sincerely hope we will not be misunderstood if we call your attention to the fine group shown on the page opposite. This, as you will readily observe, includes not only the members of our Board of Education but their co-worker, our superintendent, Mr. Risdon. It is not flattery to say you cannot find a finer group pictured in any book. We think it crudely stating a fact.

The class is in hearty accord with our Annual staff in their dedication of this number of The Orange and Black to these gentlemen.

The Function of a High School

It is our ambition to make the Independence High School serve the needs of the boys and girls to the fullest possible extent. At no time in the life of youth, is opportunity more important or the dividends on right teaching greater. The high school age is the sorting out, the testing period. We should here discover the ambitions, the tastes, the capabilities of each individual student and so manipulate his environment, so direct his thinking, so adapt courses of study to him as to guarantee the richest rewards. Not only must this institution fully meet the needs of the boys and girls who will enter college, but it must just as completely, just as definitely prepare that larger group who enter the various activities in the arena of life. It must do its utmost to store his mind with useful knowledge, to develop and discipline all his faculties, inspire confidence in his powers, broaden his mental vision, elevate and crystallize his ideals, develop habits of social service and enrich his personality by the associations of broad minded, well poised, sympathetic men and women.

An unhappy person is never an efficient individual. Nature so organized us that it is only when we find joy in our work that our faculties function to their full capacity. So the atmosphere of the school must be friendly, cordial, sympathetic, that optimism and happiness characterize the whole student body. School is not only a preparation for life, it is a vital sector of life itself. Most of the characteristics that prevail in manhood are here acquired: habits become fixed, aims and purposes solidify. Here the keen diagnostician of human nature can quite accurately foretell whether the youth promises to become an asset or a liability to society. Such fundamental qualities as industry, perseverance, straight thinking, tenacity of purpose, reliable judgment, and the like are clearly present or wanting. The floater of the school is pretty sure to be the driftwood of society.

Society doesn't look upon the school as a charity and can reasonably expect it to be a dividend paying investment in the essential qualities of efficient citizenship. The recipient of the opportunities thus provded by public taxation should pay back in service many times what it has cost to educate him. He should prove an efficient producer in whatever field of endeavor he may enter. Education is not for ease but for labor of the most effective type. It should not represent energy working at cross purposes, but energy organized, skilled, directed so as to function in constructive enterprises. The more numerous and complicated life's demands become, the more extended and diversified must be the opportunities offered in the schools. It is our ambition to make the institution which is the finishing school for the masses meet to the fullest extent the demands of the hour.

C. S. RISDON, Superintendent of Schools.

Supt. C. S. Risdon

Principal S. M. Nees

THE FACULTY

MR. RISDON, City Superintendent.

There are few if any pupils in our school who were born when C. S. Risdon became Superintendent of the schools of Independence. None of us ever had classes with him. Few of us ever were brought upon the carpet before him. Yet there are few of us who are not acquainted with him and rejoice to know that the acquaintance is more or less mutual. We think of him as a very busy man, working for the best interests of the boys and girls, yet at the same time able to see a fellow and learn his troubles if need be, or rejoice in his triumphs.

Mr. Risdon is not only Superintendent of one of the best city schools in Kansas, but his skill and untiring efforts have gone very far toward creating that high standard. He is active in club and civic work of the city, is presiding officer of the next Teachers' Association of Southeastern Kansas meeting at Parsons, and an active member of the Board of Directors of the State Teacher's Association; and it's all for the kiddies. In Mr. Risdon's eye there's nothing too good for his thousands of boys and girls.

MR. NEES, Principal.

The work of S. M. Nees extends back to the time beyond which the memory of most Independence people runneth not. Throughout the years of his administration he has kept in close touch with world affairs and with the business, vocational, social and religious life of the people whom he has so faithfully served. Mr. Nees is a tireless worker, and is strictly attentive to duty's call. We cannot imagine his shirking any task imposed upon him. Along with his school labors he has for years been the efficient Treasurer of the State Teachers' Association, and, too, he has made some enviable records in baseball, tennis, bowling and golf. His motto seems to be, "Keep your eye on the ball." He is an ideal high school principal.

MR. CASTILLO, Assistant Principal.

I. H. S. is fortunate in having for assistant principal so able a man as E. J. Castillo. He is the able instructor in Agriculture and Biological sciences. At the same time he is faculty advisor to the Annual Staff, a position held by him ever since the work of the first Annual was organized. He is a good worker and says he enjoys teaching above all other work. Not only is he a teacher but he seems always to be ready to assume the responsibilities of principal whenever that duty falls upon him.

MISS PATERSON.

To be a man without a country would be only about half as bad as to hold a debate without Miss Paterson. Miss Paterson's specialty is English and she is a most capable person for that line of work. As a driller of debate teams she has shown herself time and again to be one of the most capable in this part of the state. Not only does she handle the Senior English work but she supervises the work of the Y. W. and finds great pleasure in her administration.

MR. BEAL.

Mr. Beal's ability as Athletic Director is well indicated by the number of cups won for our school. His teams have been the pride of the school not only because they win, but they are always trained to be, above all else, real ladies and gentlemen. We are counting on having B. O. B. with us again next year to lead our teams to even greater victories. He seems not to care for girls, but he may some day care for a girl. And when a lady's in the case, why, all other things give place, for awhile.

MISS STEVENS.

Miss Helen K. Stevens is one of our able instructors in Mathematics, and not only is she well grounded in her subjects but she gets and gives great pleasure as a teacher. As a side study she has a 7th hour class in Physiology and is a very capable critic of the I. H. S. Student. And do you know, this strict and accomplished instructor is a very pleasing person, and you should have her accompany you on your next class hikes or picnic excursions.

MISS INGLEMAN.

We learn upon excellent authority that Miss Ingleman has deliberately cast

Anna Patterson

E. J. Castillo

Georgie Brown

Louise Evans

Anna A. Ingleman

Jessie P. Stewart

Louise Russell

W. L. Newell

Lucile Otto

aside some fine propositions in order to remain in the teaching profession. I. H. S. receives the benefit. Seldom a pupil of hers is found who has anything but praise for Anna Ingleman. For years she was the "Freshman's friend," a title she earned by her kindly offices to Freshman, or any others as to that. Now she organizes and directs our class plays and Oral English productions. Her pupils draw a full house, too.

MISS LOUISE RUSSELL

Only a few years ago Miss Russell came into our school, but she fits in so completely that it seems she has always been a part of it. She was mistaken for a high school pupil when she first came, but she has demonstrated her claim to being a college graduate in her teaching experience with us. Her work is English and she is one of the able critics of The Student. We are sorry to learn she was not an applicant for reelection, but certainly wish her unlimited success wherever she may choose to work.

MRS. BALL.

Mrs. Eva Ball was for several years one of our best grade teachers. As a high school teacher she is just as successful to say the least, and is a much sought after school marm by her pupils. Being a sort of all 'round teacher she was given the work in Physical Geography along with the English and enjoys teaching them both. We regret that she was not an applicant for reelection.

MRS. SHIVE.

One of the most useful members of the faculty is a good Study Hall Supervisor. Mrs. Agnes Shive fills the bill in every respect. She is of a class graduated in recent years, knows the tendencies of kids in a crowd, and both sympathizes with them and holds them level. We wish she were going to be with the school next year for we know some freshmen who will be here for the first time and would like to meet her,—will need to meet her or someone who understands study hall tactics.

MISS HENDERSON.

When we got too numerous for ordinary bounds to hold us. we simply overflowed into the Auditorium. Miss Edith Henderson was chosen to herd the overflow crowd and she has been very successful at the job. She has also been a sort of Secretary, keeping daily records from teachers' reports, and otherwise assisting in office work. One reason she enjoys chorus is that she gives up the room the fourth hour. She prefers to rule by love, and her room is never a place of sadness.

MISS PEARL RUSSELL

When our patient and efficient Librarian, Miss Cooper, left us last fall, we were quite fortunate in securing the services of Pearl Russell, a graduate of M. C. H. S. and one trained in the handling and use of a good library. Miss Russell isn't very large, but she is good looking, helpful and patient. Some of the boys forgot at first that she wasn't a pupil, and were about—but then she headed that off all right. No dates.

MISS OTTO.

When war, mad war threatened civilization, Lucile Otto, a product of M. C. H. S., willingly offered her services, was accepted, and was an army nurse in America and Europe. Those of us who know of her Red Cross work and of her work in this school have a well defined idea that her work was well and conscienciously done in those awful days. Her classes are quite interesting and every girl enrolled feels today that she has received full measure of value for her time in class and study. Why cannot we boys go to school to Miss Otto?

MR. NEWELL, Principal of the Lincoln.

Versatility personified, a happy medium between the clown and the sage! If industry, study and meditation make a teacher and leader he is "it." A veritable Napoleon as an organizer, an Eli Perkins as a story teller and sometimes "Wilson" in his faculty meetings. However, since his marriage recently he is not nearly so autocratic as formerly. Sic semper tyrannis.

MISS BURNS.

In common with certain famous people, Miss Burns has many attributes. Like

Mrs. Agnes Shive

Paul O. Goepfert

Mrs. Eva Ball

Rachel Clark

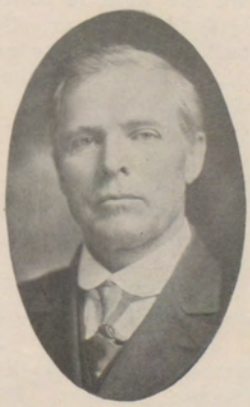

Minnie Burns

Pearl Brown

Treva Miller

J. J. Baker

Helen K. Stevens

Queen Elizabeth in administrative ability and coloring! Like Shakespeare in command of English and coloring! Like Cleopatra in attractiveness and coloring! She is fond of saying, "Almost all great characters have red hair!" Miss Burns enjoys the distinction of being the only charter member left at the Lincoln building. She has planted herself upon the job and who is able to move her? Nobody wishes to move her.

MISS BROWN.

In the "grand and glorious" state that has the honor of being Miss Georgia Brown's birthplace, the auto supplements the horse, the eighteenth amendment has destroyed another of the state's characteristics, but Miss Brown continues to be the example of the last and most important member of the "trite trio" that makes Kentucky famous—"Fine horses, good whisky, pretty women." She is a fine product of the old M. C. H. S. Neither trifles annoy nor perplexities disturb the calm serenity of her quiet manner. She teaches most when she teaches not at all—"unconscious influence."

MISS MILLER.

Miss Miller, is a graduate of M. C. H. S. and has a way of pleasing everybody. She is a lady of many words, but few of them are chosen.

Ever talking, ever walking
As life goes along,
And her voice, while it is thrilling
Is not always raised in song.

"Age cannot wither nor custom stale her infinite variety."

MISS GILMAN.

Atchison grows some tall ones and some nice ones, too. Potato Hill is a great spot, anyway. So when this school drew Miss Lois Gilman to teach us boys and girls in Latin we came out ahead . Her knowledge of the foundation principles of the language she teaches, and her understanding of the trials of the student of Latin makes Miss Gilman a sympathetic teacher and so gives her plenty to do. She is Sophomore advisor and it is part of her job to lead us in Chapel singing. No function of a social nature is complete unless she has entertained with at least one solo.

MISS LAKE.

We used to think in this city that it took a man to teach History and Economics. It does. But then a woman can do it, too. Miss Lake can and she has large classes in both subjects. She is quite a jolly young pedagogue and a few times has frightened her boys by saying, "Now, if you love me don't say that again." After the first shock the young fellow kind of wishes she would repeat it, but somehow she doesn't repeat that particular lesson.

MISS SPRADLING.

Helen Spradling is a graduate of the high school of this place—never attended any but Independence schools till she went to college. That is why she is such a thorough teacher. She has one fault, however, she will throw her pocketbook or hat down anywhere about the building and try to recall the spot later. She teaches a variety of good old H. S. subjects and coaches the Girls' basketball teams besides. She does such splendid work at coaching that her girls found only one girls' team in the league that could beat them. Her pet name is Penny. No one knows why, so you needn't inquire.

MISS STAPLES.

Miss Staples descended upon us last fall and dived immediately into the work assigned her. She is very enthusiastic and is also said to entertain some very positive notions as to the conduct of school work. Added to her class duties is another one, Faculty Advisor to the Juniors, a position she fills with great credit. Not only is she a student and a teacher, but she is efficient in athletics.

MR. DAVIS.

When Rex Davis, an ex-service man, struck this town he hit it to teach Mathematics if he couldn't get the Physical Sciences. His opportunity came last summer and he was assigned to his favorite department. Mr. Davis is a fine teacher of

Helen Spradling

M. S. Berry

Edna Lake

Lois Gilman

C. R. Wood

Edith Henderson

Pearl Russell

Rex Davis

Ida O'Brien

Mathematics, but is probably more successful in Physics and Chemistry. He takes us upon all sorts of scientific investigations, and explains a multitude of natural phenomena to us in a clear manner. He is now the only Faculty member who takes lunch at the school building.

MISS O'BRIEN.

Miss O'Brien is a product of this high school and of at least two universities. Not only is she a thorough student of English, but speaks and teaches nicely both the Spanish and French, and probably could do as well with German. A young woman of sound judgment she is often sought for advice on matters connected with the school. We may be mistaken, we hope we are—but we believe she will not be with us again.

MR. BERRY.

M. S. Berry is the good looking ex-service young man who holds down room 7. His classes are large. His vacant hours are full. His lunch hour is disturbed. His telephone rings uninterruptedly. There is no escape for Berry and no one in particular is to blame, for he is a good man in a good position, and the school is fortunate. Along with his duties as teacher he is Faculty Advisor to the Freshmen and now Freshmen get their dues.

MISS STEWART.

When the United States entered the World War, Jessie P. Stewart gave up her position in M. C. H. S. and volunteered for service with the government. She was accepted and did important work at Washington, D. C. The war over and a vacancy having occurred in her former position she was called back and is, as formerly, the very efficient teacher of Office Practice, Stenography and Typewriting, and Chief Critic of The Student. There is no loud noise where Miss Stewart holds forth, but there is some very acceptable work being done there.

MR. BAKER.

J. J. Baker was born in Kentucky, raised in Bourbon County, Kans,, graduated in Lying County and then came to Walnut to teach their little ones. Mr. Baker is a jolly good teacher and makes Bookkeeping quite an intresting subject for his boys and girls. He enjoys being a teacher above all callings but wouldn't mind at all being a farmer.

MISS BROWN.

K. S. A. C. is a good school as we've often been told, but Miss Brown is proof sufficient. Her department is Domestic Science and she is right there at cooking time. O Boy! but she can do some artistic stunts. And she is teaching our girls to prepare some of the most delectable stuff imaginable. Miss Brown gets all our vote for reelection.

MISS CLARK.

Miss Clark, of the Domestic Art department, is another most excellent proof that Kansas has a good Agricultural college. Her classes are over-flowing with pretty girls but any time you are permitted to carry a phone call down there you find them very busy and much interested. We are not a good judge of women's toggery, but we have Orville Davis' word and he says that the Art girls have a fine chance to learn sewing and planning. So Miss Clark also gets all our vote for reelection.

MISS EVANS.

Miss Louise Evans was well known in Independence as the successful director of Music in the high school when we Seniors entered the institution. Every year since we have been here she has accomplished something worth while in her line, and judging from decisions of good judges she is one of the best directors of chorus and glee club organizations in southern Kansas. As a teacher of piano she excells, and her special voice teaching is of a superior quality.

MR. WOOD.

Mr. C. R. Wood, our popular instructor in Manual Arts, was graduated from this high school, continued his studies at Pittsburg, was a World War service man,

Bert O. Beal

Frances Staples

and found his wife at Lyons, Kans. Mr. Wood is said to be as accomplished a pianist as he is woodworker, but we have never yet heard him in Chapel. His boys turn out some very fancy pieces that seem to be about as fine articles as much costly stuff found at our furniture stores.

MR. GOEPFERT.

When we were kids in the grades Paul Goepfert came to Independence from Chicago to lead the city band. We recall thinking he must be a big man for the place if he came from Chicago and we have had no occasion yet to think otherwise. He found here a sentiment strong for music, and that sentiment he has religiously cultivated. Hiss skill at training boys bands in considered wonderful. If Mr. Geopfert doesn't leave till we tell him to go, won't he stay a while?

Lingering Memories

Who always sits in room three the while
Who always goes right there with a smile?
It's Penny.

In trouble where can we always go?
Always to one, who'll help us just so?
It's Penny.

Who coached and trained us in basketball,
Stood by us in victory, defeat and all?
It's Penny.

And if to me in after years
Someone should say, "It now appears
It's the real sport the world reveres,"
It's Penny.

For I'd recall each High School day
And then I'm sure, I'd quickly say,
"If ever a sport has come my way,
It's Penny."

Home Nursing Class

The Home Nursing Course

M. C. H. S. was one of the very first schools in the state to take advantage of the training and experience of our country's famous war nurses. Many of these young women are not only trained nurses but good teachers. So it seemed to thoughtful school men the wise thing to do to secure their services in connection with school room work. The practicability of the scheme so strongly apealed to Mr. Nees that he lost no time in establishing in M. C. H. S. the Home Nursing course. The success of the move attests the wisdom of the action.

Miss Lucile Otto, the instructor, is a graduate of M. C. H. S. She is a registered nurse having taken training at St. Luke's, Kansas City, and post graduate work in Chicago. Later she spent a year in France as Red Cross Nurse. She has been connected with the Red Cross work in Independence ever since returning from overseas service, and with this institution ever since the inauguration of the Home Nursing course. Miss Otto is a valuable addition to this faculty of excellent instructors.

One of the essential purposes of the course is to fit girls to safeguard their own health and to help give nursing care to others. Some of the subjects taught are: Care of Babies and children; Emergency Medicines and other remedies; Equipment and care of rooms of the sick; and the handling of victims of accidents. Almost any subject concerning the care of the sick and the preservation of health is discussed in class room. So far seventy-five girls have completed the course and have received the Red Cross Certificate.

The Departments

THE SCIENCES—Those taught in I. H. S. are: Physics, Chemistry, Botany, Physiology, Physiography, General Science and Agriculture. In all classes double periods twice a week are used excepting in Physiology, General Science and Physiography. Frequent trips are taken by these various classes to study buildings, factories, farms, equipment, machinery and plants of the community. Notes are kept and studied in class, conclusions are drawn, and reviews taken from these accounts.

ENGLISH—The work in English is extensive and thorough. The time and effort of five excellent instructors are given to this broad subject, and the stacks of essays, poems, narratives, reviews and quizzes make the task seem appalling at a glance. But it is not appalling. No terror darkens the hours of teachers or pupils. On the contrary the task is generally undertaken with confidence and completed with satisfaction.

FOREIGN—We are now offering Latin, Spanish and French in this course, and 220 of our students enrolled in the classes this term. The teachers are especially well trained and those pupils whom they grant passing grades are as a rule well grounded in the rudiments of these languages. They know something about relating this knowledge to the use of our own language also.

HISTORY—Time flies, the world moves, and our own day is the culmination of Myriad events. Hence we find Ancient, Medieval, and Modern events and their causes and effects, General History, English History, American History taught to our various classes. In addition to these Civics and Economics are studied with special bearing upon our own affairs and conditions.

NORMAL TRAINING—Few if any professions or callings are of more importance than that of the teacher. Training the child and the youth in such a way as to develop the useful citizen is a serious undertaking and no unskilled labor should ever be employed at the task. For many years our school has conducted in a very creditable manner a Normal course and scores of useful teachers have been trained in the institution.

COMMERCIAL—This high school offers a course in business principles and conduct that is rarely excelled, even by any business colleges. Of the thirty-two credits given in this course, sixteen are strictly business, while the remainder correlate well with them and not only broaden the horizon of the pupil but assist him to perceive the fitness into each other of the various business relations of mankind. Our graduates adapt themselves readily to new situations.

VOCATIONAL—Of the many things that make our school popular with patrons not the least are Manual Training and Domestic Arts and Sciences. In fact they are among the very popular courses offered, and the passing years seem to increase this popularity. Had we the room we could use well more than twice the teaching force we now employ.

PHYSICAL TRAINING—This feature of our instruction has for years been a popular one, but not until recent years has it been reduced to a science with our school. Since we have had a regular system of coaching interest has been greatly increased. Independence is on the map. The map knows it, too. Twice a week training in the gymnasium besides athletic contests will soon make strong, self-reliant men and women of our energetic boys and girls.

MUSIC—We are coming in music. Although we have been second in the League for three consecutive years the fact still remains that we are probably as well trained in music as the winner. Instruction is in both vocal and instrumental music. Good singing, good band, good orchestra, good piano playing—we are proud of our attainments along all these lines.

LIBRARY—As a very valuable aid to all phases of high school work, as a practically indispensible feature of the whole system, we cannot forget our library. In connection with the librarian we employ the services of two others, our "study hall teachers." These three members of our faculty have very trying positions to fill, but they have acquitted themselves nicely.

The success of any organization depends largely upon the capability of the officers. With this in view you can see one of the reasons for the success of the class of twenty-two. It has always been the custom to follow the leadersip of our superiors, but in this case some of us would find it rather embarrassing to follow the suit of our president and plunge into the depths of despair,—no! matrimony. But even with this handicap we can truthfully say that we are the largest class (and we think the best class) that ever graduated from I. H. S., having only one exception in the former M. C. H. S. We, the Seniors have succeeded in introducing many things that here-to-fore have been unknown in the daily routine of the school, and not only this but in the usual events that took place, we have come out with colors flying. The social affairs, planned and carried out by us were a decided success, and as to the athletic side of senior life we were the shining star. For did we not win the inter-class track meet with nearly double the points made by the Juniors? And not only in track but in other events the Seniors participated with equal success. Then during the year twenty-two, the "I. H. S. Student" also made its debut into the life of the high school and had as its editor a member of our class. As for "tacky day" the play put on by the Seniors in chapel was a howling success in more ways than one.

So now we ask you; why shouldn't we feel proud of our class? And for this reason we choose as our motto "In aquam vitae," meaning "Into the Sea of Life," and hope that we will be able to plunge into this sea and rise above as successfully, as we did into the affairs of the high school. So with this aim in view, we, the Seniors, of nineteen hundred-twenty-two, bid I. H. S. adieu!

Farewell---Class Poem

When the very last class has recited
And all the exams are done,
When we've written long hours on the Annual
And at last our victory's won;
We shall pause, and think for a moment
Of things that are far---far back,
Of the days when we've been loyal
To the banner, Orange and Black.

We enlisted in '18 as Freshmen
As green as they make 'em, too,
But nothing could dampen our spirits
Or halt this adventurous crew;
And the spirit of game, true fighters
Has guided us through the breeze
As we held to the course nor faltered
In calm or in troubled seas.

And now as we think of commencement
And know that the time is near,
There comes the sorrow of leaving
The friends that we hold so dear.
That they may be true to the high school
And hold her standard high,
Is the cherished hope of the Seniors
As we bid them all good-bye.

—Bill Renc "22."

Familiar Expressions

Miss Ingleman: "Come on again!" "We'll take just a minute for some of us to get settled down!"
Mr. Castello: "We'll look at this for a little bit."
Mrs. Shives: "Please leave papers and magazines on the front row."
Miss Russell: "Mr. Allen, please sit down!"
Miss O'Brien: "Haven't you people even studied this lesson?"
Miss Spradling: "We—well, well'er, yes."
Miss Evans: "I want to meet the chorus at the fourth hour."
Miss Lake: "How perfectly lovely!"
Miss Staples: "Don't some people make you sick."
Miss Louise Russell: "I wonder if that is so."
Mr. Davis: "Where do you get that?"

"The Charm School"

CAST: Hooper, Pitts, Truman, Ingram, Leach, Potts, Cook, McVey, Hill, Geckeler Burke, Loftus, Ingleman, Wagner, Campbell, Scott, Callahan, Navarre.

"The Charm School"

One of the great school events is the Senior Play. This year's play, "The Charm School," is a play with all the characteristics of an interesting plot, "charming" girls, still more "charming" men and very un-"charming" teachers.

Walter Loftus, the hero, deserves special mention. Walter had no previous training in dramatic work, but he seems absolutely at home in the part of Mr. Bevans. Skeet may yet make Wally Reid take second place as a captivator of the fair sex.

Miss Betty Burke as Elise Bendotti captivates by her vivacity and irresistible "charm" and Sally (Ruth Ingram) and George Boyde (Forrest Geckeler) are a combination of fun and high spirits that creates all the necessary excitement.

We hope Doyle Hooper will not always be as stern and gruff as when he is Mr. Johns. The twins, Kenneth Leech and Paul Truman and the teachers, Helen Scott and Marie Pitts, afford excellent contrasts. In fact the entire cast does exceedingly well.

Much of the success of the play is due to the splendid coaching of Miss Ingleman, assisted by Miss Spradling. Miss Ingleman again proves her ability as a coach in the choice of her characters and the way in which the characters respond.

The Junior-Senior Banquet

Of the many events toward which a pupil of our high school looks forward, few if any offer more enticing anticipations than the annual banquet given by the Juniors to the graduating Seniors. This is a day of real sport, the thrill that comes once in a life time. At this function the outgoing students are splendidly greeted, lavishly entertained, and sincerely cheered along the way by the incoming Seniors.

At 6:30 Wednesday evening, May 3, began one of the finest banquets ever given by the Juniors, according to teachers who have been here several years. Not even our banquet last year excelled it. None unless the War banquet given to the class of '19 has excelled this year's function in earnestness shown in preparation, perfection of menu, tastefulness of decorations, excellence of service, fitness of speeches, and uniformity of good will. The Juniors are good hosts, the Seniors fine guests.

Le Ray Spradling, "Buster" for short, was Toastmaster and did the part in good shape. He fittingly introduced each speaker in his turn, and as the speeches were all good the evening passed rapidliy. Mr. Nees was the last speaker and made a most interesting talk on "Seriousness and Success."

We were all sorry Superintendent Risdon could not be with us, especas he was to speak on "Retrospect and Prospect." However, we know that Mr. Risdon's best wishes were with us. The Program must be seen in print to be appreciated.

Junior Class History

On a warm July afternoon, in the year 1952, two people, seated in the shade on a lawn were taking respite from the heat in the cooling breezes and enjoying a cool drink from a nearby fountain. One was a successful business man in the prime of his life, the other a neatly dressed woman of great renown in the women's business world. They had been classmates when attending I. H. S. in 1922 and had not met since their graduation in '23. Soon they were recalling incidents of their High School life.

"What wonderful times we enjoyed in High School especially during our Junior year in 1922. This as I recall it was the first year of the new I. H. S.," the woman was remarking as she gazed toughtfully away toward the west where the blazing sun was beginning to sink.

"Yes," replied the man, "How proud we were of our class affairs and of the exploits of any Junior individual. Our class we believed was by far the best in school. We had nine sturdy heroes on the football team, five of whom received letters. Tiny Meyers, a Junior husky, was elected captain for '23. In basketball, too, there were fast players on the squad that were Juniors. The track captain, Henry Speer was a Junior and many other mainstays of the track team were Juniors. We took second in the Inter-class track meet held before the selection of the school team. Both of the school cheer leaders were Juniors. It seems to me as I look back, that the Junior class was the life of the High School, being leaders in nearly every school activity." The man's face wore a wistful expression as he thought of the happy days spent in I. H. S. long ago.

"All you have said is true," responded the woman, "but you have not told all yet. In girls basketball we were strongly represented. There were fifteen Junior boys and girls in the vocal music work and thirteen in the orchestra and band. One of the boys on the male quartet was a Junior; two of the girls on the girls' quartet were Juniors. Besides these, there were two Junior girls on the Y. W. C. A. cabinet and three boys on the Y. M. C. A. cabinet. The presidents for both organization for the next year were elected from the Junior class. We must not forget our fine debate teams. Of nine debaters, six were Juniors; four girls and two boys. There were seven Junior boys and girls on the I. H. S. Student staff and their efforts went far to make it a success.

"Socially, too, our class was a great success. Under our organization we carried out all business in an orderly manner and with dispatch. All class meetings were well attended and great interest was shown by the members in class activities. Besides our class meetings, we enjoyed three social events during the year. One was a Tacky Party, and the second was a truck ride over town, followed by a picnic at the stock pavilion. If a merrier crowd ever had a more rollicksome time I've never heard of it. The third and greatest was the Junior-Senior banquet on May 3d. How we did work and plan to make it a success. The Seniors voted that it was a real affair, too.

"We all had good days during our Senior H. S. year; but our Junior year was far the best. We were as privileged as the Seniors but did not have to worry about Senior finals, class play, commencement and all the other things that make the last year hard, to say nothing of being free from answering the great question, "What next?" that faces every Senior on finishing High School. No, I will never forget nor cease to enjoy, the memory of the happy days spent as Juniors in I. H. S. year 1922."

The sun sank slowly in the west. The twilight advanced and the shadows depened. Long the two still sat silent, musing—each wrapped in thoughts of the happy times long past.

—Earl Hussong, (President).

The Sophomore Class

The sophomore class of 1921-22 has the honor of being the largest of any of the classes in the history of the school. Its numbers were so large that it was necessary to supply another teacher of English at the beginning of the school year.

Only a few of the sophomores had come to this school during their freshman year. As a consequence the sophomores were as bad as the freshmen at the beginning of the first term in trying to find the rooms. Mr. Nees, however, willingly gave information and explanation in chapel, and the Y. W. C. A. girls were kind enough to station themselves at certain parts of the halls for the purpose of giving information.

The lessons which the teachers assigned were another difficulty of the class, which must not be forgotten. These lessons seemed to be mountains unable to be climbed. Now, however, as the sophomores look back upon them, they seem footsteps that led to the happiness which has now been obtained.

This year's sophomores have made a very good showing in the musical side of the school. The greater portion of our fine I. H. S. orchestra and band consist of sophomores, while a large number were members of the glee clubs, the chorus, and the quartets. Individuals have performed in chapel as accompanists and otherwise. The sophomores are very proud of their musical ability. Moreover they have also taken creditable part in many of the dramatic performances given in chapel.

Members have also participated with interest in the athletic performances of the school. Laurel Heiser and Niles Smith, sophomores, were two of the foot-ball letter men. There was also a large number of sophomores on the second team, and there were several of them on this second basketball team also. Donna Krueger was in most of the games which the girls' basketball team played. An informal party, a formal party, and a picnic comprise the social events of the year.

There is a large number of sophomores who are members of the Y. W. C. A. and the Hi-Y. In the recent Y. W. C. A. membership campaign several sophomores joined, two of them have already become cabinet members.

The sophomore class has a large honor roll. The following persons are those who received an average of 90 or above in all subjects during the first term: John Antener, Grace Hamlin, Viola Arrington, Wayne Harries, first term: John Antener, Grace Hamlin, Viola Arrington, Wayne Harris, Brewster, Donna Krueger, Marion Brown, Goldie La Force, Helen Cornell, Vera Lolley, Kenneth Cornell, Helen Dittmer, Oriel Mears, Lucile Dunning, Edith Melugin, Vivian Fansler, Caryl Murphy, Ethel Gilreath, Carl Niemeyer, Morna Zell Wagstaff.

The members of this year's Sophomore Class have been members of an excellent class, and hope to be members of an equally good Junior Class in the coming year.

Freshmen History

In time to come the year 1922 will stand out among all others in the history of I. H. S. as a red letter year. It marks the passing of the old "M C" and substitutes therefor the "I" and this substitution gives to the High School the largest Freshman class in the history of the institution. In numbers there is consolation.

Our claim to honors is not based alone upon the size of the class. We are as great in loyalty as we are large in numbers, and for real school spirit and for being keenly alive and full of pep at all social and athletic events we claim to be second to none—leaders, not followers.

The Glee club, under the direction of Miss Richardson assisted by Miss Miller, consisting of twenty-four girls has appeared several times during the school year, and each time scored a hit.

The Freshman English classes presented this year, for the annual play "Jimmie's Aunt Jane." The play was well chosen, being one that has often been put on by college students and more experienced "dramatists" but never better given than by the carefully selected Freshman bunch of this year's class.

We even won fourth place in the inter-class track meet. Our all star volley ball team and all star amory ball teams have never been defeated and have a standing challenge to any team in the world.

As this mighty host of Freshmen moves onward, make way, give place, O ye Wisers, ye youngers and ye elders; for when we have outgrown our "Freshy green gowns" and shall adopt the wise ways of the owly old Soph, we shall be dolled up in our war paint and with our tomahawk hew us a place in class and field and gym. Pad well your heels lest they become bruised in your mad scramble to a place of safety. Leave no task unfinished for we will be too busy with our forward march to pause and patch up unfinished work or correct your mistakes.

AVE ATQUE VALE: TO FRESHMEN

"So it goes—
You are here and you pass
Ere one knows,
Year by year, class by class—
And we scarcely are aware of the white sand running
From the pale hour-glass.
Be you clever—lazy—cunning—
You may fail . .you may pass . .
But you pass . . pass . . pass . .
And as each professor throws
Scraps of information at the mass,
And you pass, pass, pass,
And you pass without pity,
And you pass, and you pass
With the most ingenious graces
Leaving your abandoned places
To the long, strong rows
To another throng of faces
Till they pass . . pass . . pass . .
And they pass . . and they pass . .
So it goes.

Freshman Girls' Glee Club

The Freshman Girls' Glee Club

Among other activities the Lincoln Freshman Class has maintained a Girls' Glee Club under the leadership of Miss Miller and Miss Richardson. They have sung a number of times in chapel and showed excellent ability in their performance in the Freshman Class Play.

The Glee Club consists of the following members:

Blanche Harris
Flora Dittmer
Ruth Budke
Marie Clarke
Violet La Force
Violet Nodwifth

Freshman Play, "Jimmie's Aunt Jane"

The third big dramatic Triumph of the season was "Jimmie's Aunt Jane" by Walter Ben Hare. The play was staged by the Freshman English Classes at theBeldorf Theater and was coached by Miss Treva Miller who is indeed a very capable director. The plot deals with college life and is full of complications, excitement and laughs.

From the beginning, the audience was held and many pronounced it the best Freshman production they had ever witnessed. The cast was large, the scenery appropriate, and the costumes were in harmony. Every little detail was well worked out and the production was a real success.

The Cheer Leaders

As in everything else, I. H. S. has been most fortunate in having two cheer leaders who could always be depended upon. In order for leaders to have an audience it was necessary for them to be attractive, intelligent and witty. Thus was selected Miss Venus Jones and Mr. Lee Troutman. Miss Jones was especially adapted for attracting the boys to practice while Mr. Lee Troutman was a human magnet for the sweet little girls. In this way we acquired the best two cheer leaders the school has ever known. They supplied the pep and the school won the victories. They did their best and the school is proud of them.

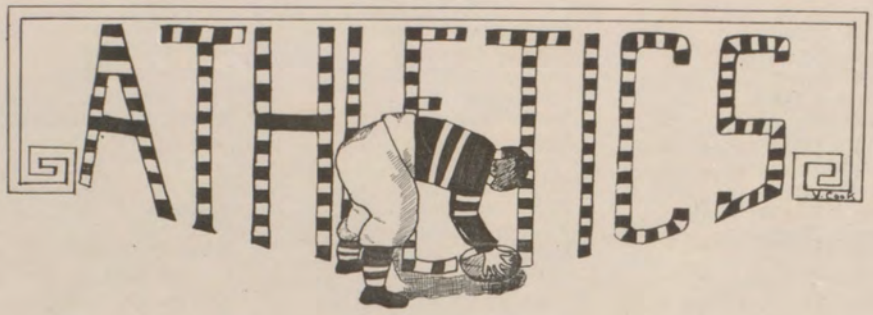

THE FOOTBALL BANQUETS

For several years it has been the custom to entertain the football squad with a "feed." This year was no exception and the football players were given two fine Banquets. The first banquet was given for the letter men only; while the second entertained the entire football squad. At these occasions many noted speeches were delivered that will go down in history as equals to Lincoln's Gettysburg address. Fat Prescott burst forth with an extraordinary amount of eloquence and was heartily applauded. A picture of the squad was also presented to Mr. Beal as a token of the team's good will.

There is an old saying that: "the way to a man's heart is through his stomach." Thus the domestic science departments have won their way into the hearts of not only the football squad, but other students as well as faculty members.

The food was delicious, the decorations were beautiful and the service incomparable. The banquets, on the whole, were a hunger killing success.

P. S.—Ask any football man about drinking Orange Nectar with a spoon.

1921 Football Review

The prospects for a successful season were indeed bright, when about fifty-five gridiron candidates responded to Coach Beal's invitation to come out for the first practice. Ten of the eighteen letter men of last year were back again with us this year. From this material, through gruelling practice, Coach Beal moulded one of the best teams in the state.

The opening game of the season was played here with the Nowata High School. The visiting team had a heavier line of defense, and had already played several games. But the game ended in a tie and the visitors were compelled to return home disappointed, by not adding another victory to their laurels.

The second encounter was with Caney. We always expect a close contest when we play at Caney and, although I. H. S. won by four touchdowns, it was a hard fought game from beginning to end. On two different occasions Caney advanced to our twelve yard line, but lacked the necessary punch to put the oval across the goal line. The game was a decided victory for us, ending 26 to 0.

Neodesha gave the local team and rooters a real scare by their unusually fierce line of attacks. They scored the first touchdown but soon afterwards our boys had pushed the pigskin across their goal line and tied the score. Later in the game we succeeded in scoring another touchdown but failed to kick the goal, which ended the scoring for either side and when the final whistle blew the score was N. H. S. 7, I. H. S. 13.

The third V. V. L. game was played at Oswego, which was an easy victory for I. H. S. Although several of our regulars were on the sick list, still we came out on top, by a score of 41 to 0.

Fredonia was next to contest the ability of our warriors. They came with the idea of "taking home the bacon," but our men went in with the same pep, confidence and determination, which they showed throughout the season and slipped one over on F. H. S. by a score of 42 to 3. Skeet was the star of the day. He intercepted a pass, and made a 60 yard run for a touchdown.

The next victim for Captain Skeet's squad was Cherryvale, which was an easy victory resulting in a score of 34 to 0. There was little loss of blood on either side, but "Booger" received a slightly bruised leg during the battle.

Next we defeated Labette County High School at Altamont 48 to 0. A feature of the game was the support which a group of Altamont men gave, by rooting. Organized rooting like that would be a credit to any school in the league.

The next game was to have been played at Iola, but rain made it necessary for Iola to cancel the game. But lo! The feature game of the season approaches with a battle to take place on the local gridiron with our ancient rival, Coffeyville. The Coffeyville men appeared on the field 30 minutes late but with 45 in uniform. However, it was soon to be seen that it would take many more to defeat our invincibles. The largest crowd that ever witnessed a football game in Montgomery county saw Coffeyville go down to defeat by a score of 35 to 0.

A very noticeable feature of this contest was the absence of our own coach from the field unless properly summoned. You've got to give it to Beal along many lines, but playing the game fair and square, victory or defeat, is his forte.

In memory of the I. H. S. second team, otherwise known as "scrubs," whose ever-present loyalty and faithfulness was so evident throughout the season, we dedicate this space. They played their first game with Elk City, Thursday, October 6, winning 6 to 0, "Bus" Spradling making the touchdown. The following week they played Coffeyville's second team winning 21 to 0. They were also scheduled to play Thayer, November 19, but had to be cancelled on account of rain. This gave us an undefeated second team as well as a first.

FOOTBALL TEAM

BERT O. BEAL (Coach)

Here's the man that's the cause of it all. To Mr. Beal belongs the credit of turing out one of the strongest and best teams in the state. His fine personality, his desire for clean sports, his high ideals, all tend to give him the power to lead and mold a fine bunch of boys into a strong, hard fighting football machine. In action he is cool and decisive. He stays off of the gridiron unless called for. Thus we consider Mr. Beal to be an ideal coach and we are proud to know that he is a faculty member of I. H. S.

CAPT. WALTER LOFTUS, "Skeet"

Loftus played quarter-back this year, won his second letter and made a record to be envied. Piloting a team through a season without defeat is a remarkable achievement, and much credit for this must be attributed to his style of "talkin' things up" when the team was in a tight place. His good judgment, his ability to carry the ball combined with his accurate passing went far to make this one of the best teams M. C. H. S. ever had, one which future students of I. H. S. will look upon with great respect.

LLOYD MYERS, "Tiny"

Height 6 feet, weight 196 pounds. Myers is the captain-elect for the season 1922, and we wish him the success the captains of the past two years have had, not a defeat the entire time. He played right guard this year and received his third letter. The little fellow weighs only 196 pounds and is little more than 6 feet tall. Tiny is respected by all of the members of the team, and it is an assured fact that he will have the hearty co-operation of all.

GAYLORD TOLIN, "Gay"

Height 5 ft. 10¼ in., wt. 148 lbs. Football seems to be Tolin's second nature. He is good in interference and never loses his head under any circumstances. This is "Gay's" second year on the team here, but he spent a year in the military school's eleven. He played left-half back, and was dreaded by his opponents.

ROY G. ROMIG, "Fat"

Height 5 ft. 9 in., weight 183 lbs. Roy is another veteran of two year's of undefeated football and he will be back again next year to help the squad to go undefeated through another season. Better full backs are hard to find.

MARVIN C. BREWSTER, "Speedy"

Height 5 ft. 10½ in., wt. 162 lbs. This is "Speedy's" first year on the squad and he will be one of the team's most valuable men next year. He played half-back and was a good, consistent ground gainer.

CARL SCHMIDT, "Smickey"

Height 5 ft. 7 in., weight 138 lbs. This was "Smickey's" first year on the team, but he played football like a veteran. He had wonderful interference, was speedy and played consistent football every minute he was on the field. He will be back next year and will be greatly feared by neighboring teams.

ORVILLE DAVIS, "Big Boy"

Height 6 feet, weight 170 pounds. Davis is the only man on the team who has four letters to his credit. He was right end man this year, but played tackle the other three years. His self- confidence and strength made him one of the most valuable line men on the team. It is rumored that Big Boy intends to settle down to home life after graduation.

FORREST GECKELER, "Pussy"

Height 5 ft. 11 in., weight 195 lbs. There was no center in the league with the ability to snap the ball back from center, as that of "Geck." On defense he had the eye for being first where he was needed and succeeded in breaking up many forward passes of the opponents. Geck graduates this year and has three letters to his credit.

THOMAS EARL ALLEN, "Booger"

Height 5 ft. 11½ in., wt. 150 lbs. This is Earl's second and last year on our team and he was as clean a football player as ever donned the togs. He played right-end and could always be depended upon to do his part.

PAUL FEATHERNGILL, "Feather"

Height 5 ft. 11 in., weight 175 lbs. "Feather" is a Junior and will be back again next year to gain another stripe. His plunging ability enables him to make steady gains. He was always full of pep, and when he got started he was hard to stop.

RAYMOND BATCHELOR, "Blondy"

"Blondy" played left-end this year and made a reputation for himself by usually getting his man before his man got a good start. This is "Blondy's" last year in I. H. S. His motto, "Slow to speak but quick to act," is characteristic of the lad.

GLEN SCOTT, "Scotty II"

Height 5 ft. 10½ in., wt. 152 lbs. This was Glen's first year on the squad, but he played real football. No one ever worried about left-guard as long as "Scotty" was in that position, as he is one of those fellows who really play football and do all their playing on the field.

HENRY HECKERT, "Heck"

Height 6 ft. 1¼ in., wt. 155 lbs. Heckert showed us this year, that he could play football as well as basketball. His defense could be likened to a stone wall. Heck will not be with us next year. He played left-end and was especially noted for pulling down forward passes from the air.

FLOYD SCOTT, "Scotty"

Height 6 feet, weight 180 pounds. This was Floyd's second year on the team as right-tackle, and he could always bring his man to dirt when the opportunity came for a tackle. "Scotty" has yet another year at his favorite sport, and his tackles will be still more effective than they were this year. Scotty is one of those reliable old boys who intend to do right whatever is to be done.

LAUREL HEISER, "Hi"

Height 5 ft. 7 in., weight 142 lbs. This was the second year for Heiser as half and his end runs and fake plays were a feature of every game. He will be a very valuable asset to the team next year. This year Hi was selected as an all-valley half and was given the captaincy of the all-Valley team

ALFORD PRESCOTT, "Fat"

Height 5 ft. 9 in., weight 193 lbs. Prescott did not look like first team material at the beginning of the season, but because of his fighting spirit he soon won a position on the I. H. S. eleven. His weight, together with his aggressive style of play caused Fat to be one of the best defensive players in the Verdigris Valley, and he still has three more years in high school.

CHARLES YOE, "Little Yoe"

Height 5 ft. 9 in., weight 165 lbs. Yoe has made a name for himself on the gridiron in the two years he has been on the team. Seldom was a line impenetrable to him. and he had plenty of that old winning stuff we call fight. "Little Yoe" is one of the nine Seniors whose loss we lament.

Girls' Basket Ball Team

Girls' Basket Ball Team

Marv's Wonders is an appropriate name for the girls' team of '22. They played a wonderful game for such a light weight aggregation and their Captain's name was Marvel. Their speed and ability made up for their small size. They showed that quality not quantity counts.

The twenty-two season was a success as to wins and losses. Out of ten games eight were victories and only two defeats. It was unfortunate that one of the games lost was the tie game for possession of the V. V. cup. Cherryvale was the only team able to win a victory from I. H. S.

Six of this year's players were Seniors and Elaine, Freda, Nora, Helen, Virginia and Marvel will be missed greatly in next year's line-up. The outlook is not hopeless, however, for there are six girls left who have kept up practice all season and will be in good shape to fill these vacant positions.

Those who wore the Orange and Black this season were: Marvel Tharp, Virginia Cook, Venus Jones, forwards; Elaine Potts, Helen Tharp, Freda Dunbar, Florence Ruthrauff, centers; Nora Davidson, Helen Selleck, Nina Patterson, Donna Krueger, guards. Those who received letters are: Marvel, Virginia, Venus, Elaine, Freda, Nora, Helen and Donna.

Following is the schedule:

Parsons	17	Independence	29	Altamont	5	Independence	14
Elk City	15	Independence	34	Caney	7	Independence	17
Oswego	5	Independence	30	Cherryvale	21	Independence	20
Cherryvale	12	Independence	14	Oswego	14	Independence	18
Buffalo	19	Independence	38	Cherryvale	22	Independence	16

Altamont and Caney each cancelled a game giving I. H. S. a 2-0 decision. Two other very interesting games were won by the team, one against the Old Stars 28-26 and one against the faculty 52-13, making fourteen games in all, 12 victories.

Girls' Basket Ball Party

Perhaps one of the most enjoyable social functions of the year was the Girls' Basket Ball Valentine party given at the home of Miss Helen Spradling, 205 South Eleventh. The affair was staged in honor of the many victories achieved by the celebrating squad. The rooms were beautifully decorated and many novelty games were played during the evening. The guests were arrayed in costumes varying from Indian to Dukes and this feature alone was enough to make the party a success.

The Personel: Hostesses: Miss Helen Spradling and the members of the Girls' Basket Ball team; Virginaa Cook, Marvel Tharp, Nora Davidson, Helen Selleck, Elaine Potts, Freda Dunbar, Florence Ruthrauff, Kate Tilton, Donna Krueger, Katherine Loftus, Nina Patterson and Helen Tharp. Guests: Miss Edra Lake, Morna Zell Wagstaff, Le Ray Spradling, Walter Loftus, Charles Yoe, Ray Frampton, Raymond Batchelor, Jay Mason, Henry Heckert, Carl Field, Fred Brady, Theo Underwood, and Superintendent Risdon.

THE ALUMNI ENTERTAINMENT

The annual entertainment of the Seniors by the Alumni Association will be staged on the evening of May 16th, '22. The Seniors have long looked forward to this event with much enthusiasm mingled with apprehension. They have also accepted a challenge to play the Association a game of Baseball at the park and both teams are putting forth every effort to bring home the bacon.

Boys' Basketball Team

Boys' Basketball

The season of 1922 opened with good prospects for another championship team. Practice began the week after Thanksgiving, with about thirty-five men reporting. It soon became necessary to reduce the squad to about fifteen men, but even then it was hard to select the best men for the different positions on the first team.

The letter men of last year's squad who came out this season are: Captain Henry Heckert, Charles Yoe, Walter Loftus and Gaylord Tolin. Even though the others were not letter men, they were old hands at the game and did much towards making ours the championship team this year. The name "Wampus Cats" was taken at the beginning of the season and the team was known by that name afterwards.

The final choice of the team was late in the season; consequently there were a number of men who played in the first games who should be given due credit. The letter men of '22 are Captain Heckert, Raymond Batchelor, Walter Loftus, Charles Yoe, Doyle Hooper, Earl Allen, Leo Ryan, Ernest Sewell and Forrest Geckeler. Every letter man of '22 will graduate so it will be necessary to build an entirely new team next year. All of the letter men and members of the squad displayed a real sportsmanlike attitude during the season and all played the game in a very creditable manner but no doubt all will agree that the stalwart playing of Captain Henry Heckert deserves special mention and attention. Our "Cap" was always there with the "goods" and could be depended upon to play a good, consistent game both on defense and offense.

Other men who deserve honorable mention are: Brady, Featherngill, Spradling, Tolin, F. Scott, Meyers, Mason, Brown and Niles Smith.

Basketball Schedule 1922

Of twelve games scheduled we won seven, lost four and got one off of Fredonia by forfeit.

District Tournament

The boys' team from I. H. S. entered the District tournament, which was held at Coffeyville, March 10, 11. For the first game of the tournament the boys drew Chanute. The first half Chanute easily outplayed I. H. S., but the second half the teams were about even, Chanute winning by a good score. The losers of the first round played for consolation. Independence defeated Chetopa, Cherryvale, and then lost to Columbus by a small score. Chanute defeated Coffeyville for the district championship, making Coffeyville second, and Caney defeated Fredonia for third place.

Track

With the close of the besketball season came the opening of the track season of 1922. The letter men of last year's team who came out for track this year are: Henry Speer, Gaylord Tolin, Dwight Brown, Forrest Geckeler, Laurel Heiser, Gerald Townsell and Raymond Batchelor. Besides these fellows there was much new material, about sixty men in all coming out.

Something new for this school was the inter-class Track and Field Meet. This was postponed several time on account of the rainy season, but was finally held Wednesday and Thursday, April 12, 13. The purpose of this meet was two-fold: to create interest in track, and to help to discover the best material for the school teams which represented I. H. S. in a dual meet held with Parsons, Wednesday April 19. The Seniors won the meet with a total of 52 points, the Juniors were second with 31 points, the Sophomores third with 22½ points and the Freshmen last with 16½ points. A medal was presented to the high point man, Barney Martin, a banner to the winning class, and blue and red ribbons for first and second places in the events. As a result there was cchosen a team that made a wonderful record in its dual meet, winning from Parsons 80½ to 40½. Out of fourteen events I. H. S. won 11 firsts and Parsons 3. Gerald Townsell was high point man in this meet.

ORCHESTRA

Music Review

Realizing the importance of music as a necessary adjunct to a broad and liberal education, the students have manifested marked interest by taking part in the musical activities of the school. The work in both the vocal and instrumental departments has been a marked success. In fact this has become one of the strongest departments in the school.

The third Annual Verdigris Valley League Music Contest was held Friday March 24, at the Beldorf theater. Eight high schools contested. I. H. S. won second place with two firsts and three seconds. The strong competition in the various numbers made the program very interesting, and the large audiences seemed very appreciative.

The chorus sang "By Babylon's Wave," by Gounod, and won first place. They received the highest grade given in the entire contest.

The girls' quartet singing "Sleepy Time" by Collins took first place. We may feel proud of the quartet, considering the fact that all eight schools were entered in this number. The work of the boy's quartet was exceptionally good. They took second place with "Sleep Ma Lil Pigeon" by Fearis.

This was the first year for the entrance of the orchestra in the league contest. Its rendition of "Raymond Overture" by Thomas was indeed a success, taking second place, although our grades showed us as tied with the winner of first place.

Joe Fitzpatrick represented I. H. S. in boys' solo, singing "Gems" by Chaminade and Vernon Goepfert in violin solo, playing "Souvenir de Posew" by Wieniasky. Both did splendidly and deserve much credit for their work.

I. H. S. has a band that cannot be surpassed by any school band in the state. It has made several appearances at the chapel hour and was heard at all the football games.

BAND

Besides entering the music contest the music department gave a concert Wednesday evening, April 19, in the school auditorium. The purpose of this was to raise funds to help purchase instruments for the orchestra. This was in every way a success.

The wonderful success attained by the Music department is chiefly attributed to Miss Evans and Mr. Goepfert. Their untiring efforts have made the departments one of the live organizations of the school. There is a strong feeling we will win the cup next year.

Orchestra and Band

1922! The first year of I. H. S., but the second year of an organized orchestra. The first week of school a number of students playing instruments met and began practicing on Tuesday, Wednesday, and Thursday afternoons.

The orchestra under the efficient direction of Prof. Goepfert had made several public appearances including the Music Contest in which the I. H. S. orchestra won second place although having the same average as Neodesha, the winner of first Also the orchestra had a part on the concert program given by the Music Department. This concert was given for the purpose of raising money for the buying of much needed instruments for the orchestra. Undoubtedly the present organization will be surpassed by the one next year.

Officers were elected at the first of the term as follows: Marion Dollison, president; Donald Salathiel, vice-president; Otto Culbert, secretary and treasurer; Robert Campbel, librarian.

This is also the second year of the Band. Prof. Goepfert has also directed this organization. The band has played at all the home football games, at several basket ball games and in chapel. The band by the snappy pieces which it played has inspired the football and basketball players to win many a game and the school may well say, "What would a football game be without the band." The band this year was much larger than last and it is fully expected to be larger next year.

Benefit Concert

In order that our Orchestra could have a better instrumentation a concert was given to help raise the necessary money. As a result, a splendid program was rendered by the Glee Clubs and Orchestra.

Selections were given by the Mixed Chorus, Boys' and Girls' Glee Clubs, the Quartets and Orchestra. There were also two solos. The audience was well pleased and the program netted us the price of several valuable instruments.

Music Soloists

Joseph Fitzpatrick

Venus Jones

Vernon Goepfert

A large part of the success of the glee clubs and chorus depends upon the accompanist. So a great deal of credit is due to Venus Jones who has been the accompanist this year. When it comes to accompanying Venus can't be beat. Her splendid co-operation has been invaluable.

Joseph Fitzpatrick was the vocal soloist this year. "Joe" is a tenor and if he keeps on will be a second John McCormack. He entered the Verdigris Valley Music Contest singing "Gems" by Chaurinade and won second place among three contestants.

Vernon "Shorty" Goepfert was the violin soloist. Vernon is one of the youngest members in the Music Department, and one of the most promising. We are expecting big things of him, because he must be a promising lad who, so young, may have the talent even to be entered in so notable a contest.

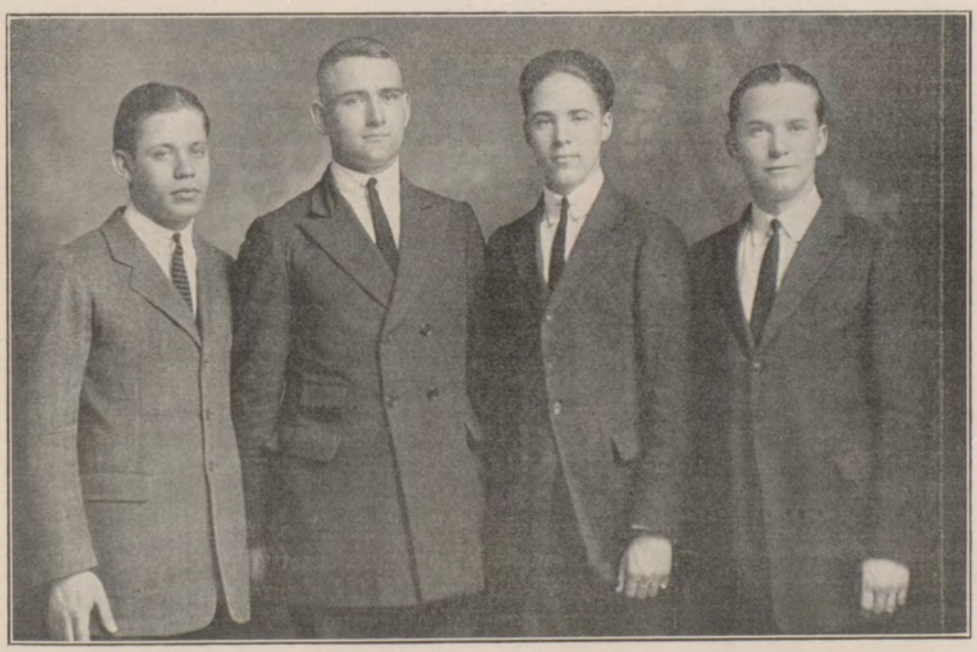

The Quartets

When we look in the trophy case we see a pennant there with the words "Girls Quartet." This recalls to our mind the fact that in the V. V. contest I. H. S. had an excellent Girls' Quartet. So excellent were they, when they sang "Sleepy Time," by Collins, that the Judges gave I. H. S. first place in this number. Zora Riggs, soprano; Ruth Ingram, second soprano; Mildred Lynch, first alto; and Wintress Lugenbeal, second alto composed the Girls' Quartet.

The Boys' Quartet was also a credit to I. H. S. The Judges of the contest did not give them first place, but the next best, second place. I. H. S. is proud of the way these boys sang "Mammy's Lil Pigeon" by Fearis. The Boys' Quartet is composed of Joe Fitzpatrick, tenor; John Denman, second tenor; Roy Romig, baritone and Leon Salathiel, basso.

Girls' Glee Club

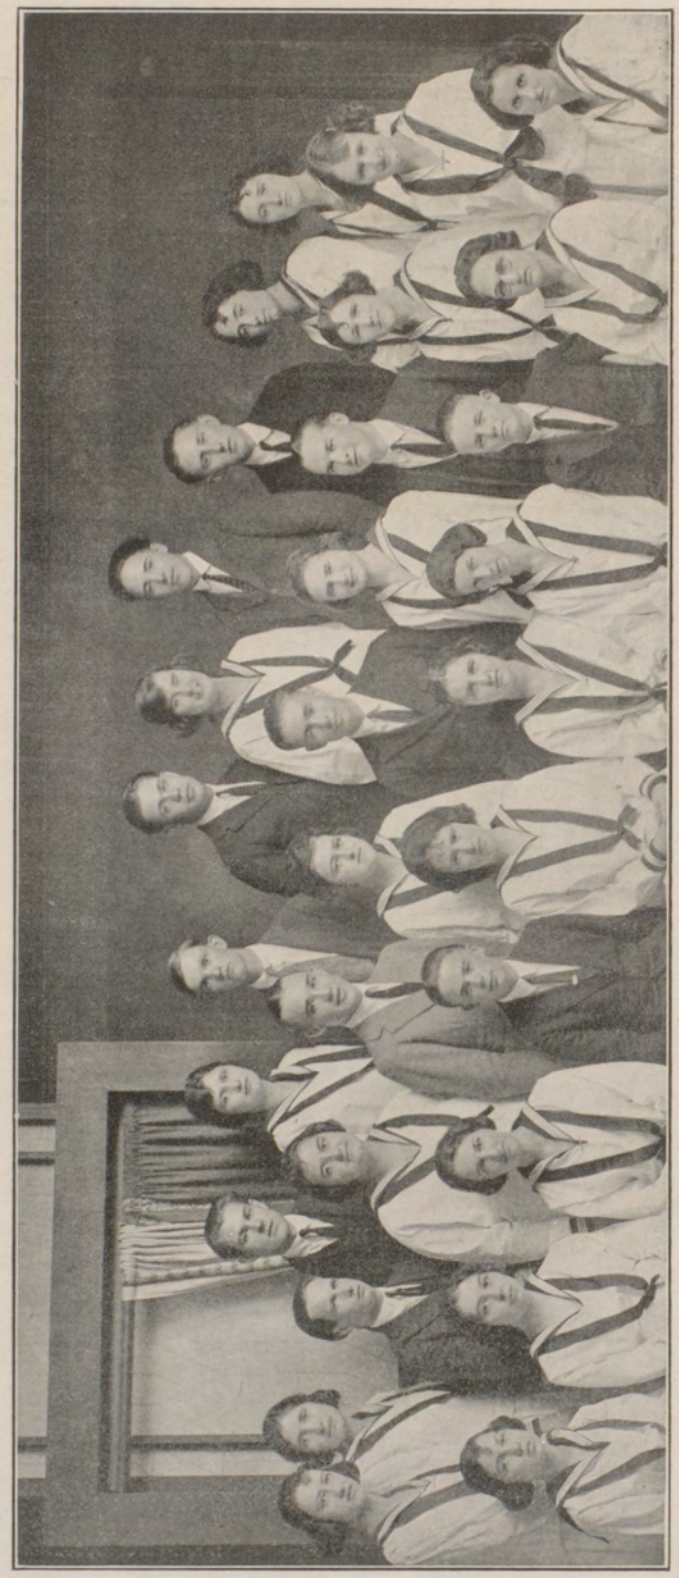

Girls desiring to enter Girls' Glee Club met one day the first week of school and began regular practice every fourth hour. To the students completing one year of this work one credit is given.

This Glee Club has made rapid progress under the very capable leadership of Miss Evans. Their success is evident by the fact that they have had numerous invitations to sing at various places and they have pleased their audience on every occasion. I. H. S. is very fortunate in having such talent to choose from to represent this institution.

Although some of the leading singers graduated last year, there was ample material left to choose from, and we hope the club will continue as an organization because next year it will help I. H. S. to bring the music cup to our school.

CHORUS

Boys' Glee Club

At the beginning of school last September a request was made in chapel, that all boys interested in vocal training would meet during the fourth hour. The response was larger than usual.

This body formerd a Glee Club and began regular practice every fourth hour with exception when they were required to meet with the Girls' Glee Club on certain occasions.

This Boys' Glee Club has proved to be a popular organization. This is shown by their numerous invitations out to various places. Their performances have met with approval by their audiences. They have shown lots of pep, practicing before and after school for various occasions, which is due to interest in the work under the direction of Miss Evans. This club is composed of the best talent in I. H. S. and no one doubts but what it would have taken first place had it entered the V. V. L. contest. It has appeared in chapel numerous times and has met with the approval of every student.

The Chorus is composed of members from the Girls' and Boys' Glee Clubs, and is limited to thirty-two members. The purpose of Chorus rehearsal is primarily to enlarge the scope of musical training given the students in the Glee Club work.

The Chorus which represented I. H. S. in the V. V. L. Music contest took first place for which they have received due credit. The splendid work of the Chorus is also due largely to the wonderful work of Miss Evans.

THE ASSOCIATION

So much is to be said of the Alumni Association of M. C. H. S. that it is difficult to be governed by the editor-in-chief's limitations to two pages on the subject.

When the school became the Independence High School, the Alumni were left nominally orphans, but in the hearts of those more than a thousand "old grads," it will always be "old Montgomery High" and memories of days and years spent there will be held ever dear. Although more than 60 per cent of them have matriculated at higher institutions of learning and though they are scattered now to the four corners of the earth, from Canada to Mexico, from California to New York, from South America to India, that same loyalty to the school, and to the ideals for which it has always stood, exists as of old.

Of the alumni, many have chosen to be teachers, some are lawyers, doctors, nurses, accountants, many hold responsible positions in the world of finance: there are missionaries, stenographers, salesmen and even a circus cashier, to say nothing of those experts among experts, the housewives whose required qualifications are legion. Many have lately entered the sea of matrimony, so we print herewith:

THE AVERAGE STUDENT

"With negligence you make for better or worse
The high school your universe,
And so with almost perfect orthodoxy
You lead your whole existence as by proxy."

ODE TO THE JANITOR

"O Janitor, I envy you,
The rich, constructive work you do,
You have accomplished something, when,
Your hall clean-swept at half-past ten,
You take yourself away to reap
The harvest of a well-earned sleep.

But I . . . The rubble that one finds
In half these adolescent minds
Is littered fast and hard and thick,
I sweep, I sweep, but still there stick
Cobwebs and dross; and after all,
They never gleam like your swept hall,
Nor show achievement like the floors
Of your successful corridors."

Dee Dee Club

Otto Myer Mary Wagner Ray Frampton Clair Midcap

The batteries for the Dee Dee Club are Work and Play; for the opposing team Inferior English and Poor Reading, Umpire Anna Ingleman, Play Ball! You know how the game ended. If you don't, consult the umpire.

The Dee Dee Club was organized by combining Miss Ingleman's Oral English classes. This organized body chose its title and club officers. Clair Midcap was chosen president, Mary Wagner, vice president, Ray Frampton, secretary, while Otto Meyer overcame the financial difficulties. We are especially fortunate this year because we had for our club advisor one from whom most of us took English, when we were Freshies, Miss Ingleman, commonly known as the "Freshies Friend," but about 100% of the Seniors agree with the Freshies about her friendship. Her duties for the betterment of Oral English were too numerous for me to remember but among the most important were the training of Betty Burke, our Declamation contestant, and the participants of Expression and Senior plays.

You must not get the idea that all the Dee Dee Club did was work for this is quite wrong. We went on truck rides, picnics, and attended a great many athletics activities in body. Every member was a booster for all the school activities and we will always be ready to help I. H. S. win new honors.

"Bobbie Takes a Look" with "Clarence"

The Oral English classes of Independence High School have staged two remarkable plays this year. It is the custom for the classes to give one play a year but under the direction of Miss Ingleman, the classes this year outdid all other classes by giving the two plays, "Bobby Takes a Look" and "Clarence."

"Bobby Takes a Look" was given Tuesday, January 17, in the High School Auditorium. The play concerned an ex-soldier who was engaged to two girls at the same time, one a little French girl whom he met overseas, and the other his old sweetheart at home. On the night when his engagement was to be announced to Kay Hilton, Bobby is in an accident which causes him to be blind for a short time, and as he is in a very nervous condition he sees a vision. In this vision Yvonne, the little French girl arrives and Bobby has a very hard time to keep Kay from finding it out, but he is successful. After the vision leaves and Bobby regains his eye sight, Yvonne really does come but she is on her honeymoon with an English Lord and Bobby feels quite relieved to find himself engaged to only one girl.

"Clarence" a popular comedy by Booth Tarkington was presented at the Beldorf.

The play was about an ex-soldier by the name of Clarence, who after returning home had no job and who seemed to be in bad health. He finally secures a position in the Wheeler family, which consists of Mr. and Mrs. Wheeler, Bobby and Cora, the son and daughter, and Miss Pinney, Cora's governess. Cora immediately falls in love with Clarence and Bobby falls in love with Miss Pinney. But fate decreed different and Miss Pinney and Clarence fell in love with each other. Clarence proved to be a big success.

Declamation Contest

The Declamation Contest was a very interesting event in the Verdigris Valley this year, and much interest was shown by this school as a whole. Two students, Miss Betty Burke and Miss Mary Wagner were chosen as the two best in the preliminary. A final try-out between them was to be held in Chapel, but when the time came Miss Wagner was ill and was unable to try-out, and as the inner school contest date was near at hand Miss Burke was sent. All this time Miss Ingleman had been working faithfully with both girls, and either of the two was capable of the hard task of contesting for the cup.

At the contest Miss Burke acquainted herself with credit in spite of the annoying handicap of a heavy cold which rendered her quite hoarse. Notwithstanding this she won third honors for I. H. S. Miss Burke recited "A Scrap of College Love" by Drumngoale while the winner, Fredonia used "The Finger of God," which won for them first place. Mildred Russell was their contestant.

The Lecture Course

This year as usual we had a splendid lecture course. The first number was rendered by the Mendelssohn Musical Club, headed by Howard C. Everts a flutist and soloist of national reputation. The next number by the Kaufman Male Quartet was full of pep and delighted the entire audience. The third number was given by Josef Konecenny; it was fortunate indeed to have him play for us this year. Hon. Nels Darling delivered an excellent lecture on Civics and Citizenship as the fourth number of the course. The last number was a scientific lecture and demonstration by Glen L. Morris which was very entertaining as well as educational. Every number on the course was entirely satifactory and well worth the patronage of the students and friends of the school. This institution offers a lecture course every year and the best talent obtainable is always presented.

Hussong Navarre Heckman Riggs McEnaney Allison Jarboe

Debate, 1922

Many frivolous and silly questions are debated and talked about. For instance, Benjamin Franklin once said, "Any fool can get married, but it takes a genius to remain a bachelor." The question debated in the Verdigris Valley League was a vital one to ten million people: Resolved, That the United States should grant the Philippine Islands their immediate independence.

Eight "Daniel Websters" were chosen from fourteen who tried out for the teams. The ones selected were Roland Sanford, Frances Heckman, Marjorie Navarre, Earl Hussong, Mildred Lynch, and Mae Ellison. Roland soon moved to California and Mildred's physician advised against her participation in so trying an event, so the substitutes were used in their stead.

The teams were soon selected and work began in earnest. The affirmative of the question as stated above was taken by Frances Heckman, Marjorie Navarre and Ernest Jarboe; the negative by Rose McEnany, Mae Ellison and Earl Hussong. Then came the preparation. How the teams did work! They gathered information in overwhelming abundance and proceeded to select and devour till at last six excellent speeches were prepared and good foundation laid for substantial rebuttal.

On February 8th, the negative team went to Caney, the affirmative debated Coffeyville here. The teams were successful, winning both debates. Then the bell rang and the air was filled with glad shouting. In the second round, held February 22, the affirmative team was defeated by Oswego, the negative, however, defeated Neodesha. By the count of the judges, Neodesha was awarded the cup, but we were second in the League.

When the Debaters "counted their blessing," how many things they were thankful for, even though they did not win the cup. They found that probably the most important benefit was the valuable training received under the capable leadership of Miss Paterson. Miss O'Brien and Miss Ingleman also gave many hours of their precious time in order to help win the debate. But we did not win and we have no alibi to offer. We died fighting hard. Another who deserves honorable mention is Roma Riggs, who with only a week's preparation so ably took Marjorie Navarre's part, as Marjorie had become dangerously ill. And lastly, the support and loyalty of a large portion of the student body and the faculty.

Those of you who now are Juniors and Sophomores show your loyalty earlier in the game next year by trying-out for the victorious Debate Teams of 1923. If fifty or more enter the preliminaries there can be little doubt but you will win the league championship. It's well worth the effort.

The I. H. S. Student

The Orange and Black of '22 makes a better appearance for having the I. H. S. Student's first issue and its excellent staff to grace these pages. The Student has been a boom to our high school in many ways. Its pages at each issue have sparkled with bright things—good wholesome articles, paragraphs, ads, and jokes. Favorable comment has been heard on every side and the beauty of all this has not been marred by adverse criticism. In fact almost complete absence of adverse criticism has been a noticeable feature of each issue.

In this connection this Annual would like to venture the assertion that any student staff that follows will be compelled to do some extra hard work to excell the present force editing The I. H. S. Student.

Bill Reno and Staff, ably directed and assisted by Miss Stewart, Miss Stevens and Miss Russell have litertlly "started something." We feel that they are entitled to enjoy the liberty of displaying a certain amount of genuine, unaffected egotism if they care to do so, for they have done a real service to the schools of Independence, and the greatest reward they may ever receive for this service will be the satisfaction of having undertaken a great task and of feeling, rightly too, that they have done it well. The Orange and Black wishes its companion, The Student, abundant success in the wonderful years yet to come.

OUR PAPER

'Tis a plucky little sheet—
The Student,
It is gotten up so neat—
The Student.
And its English is so choice
That we dearly love its voice
O'er the jokes we all rejoice,
In The Student.

'Tis a loyal little sheet—
The Student,
Such corrections as are meet
The Student
Always takes with perfect grace
Knowing well correction's place
Will forever find a space,
In The Student.

And this charming little sheet—
The Student,
Shall next year the echoes greet—
The Student,
May its hine on Glory's page,
May its virtues never age,
Nor the words and precepts sage,
In The Student.

These little pesters beat the nation.
All this we learn from science teachers
And desultory talks of preachers.
So down with eating and with drinking!
Away with kissing and with winking!
Avast with everything that's freighted.
And loaded down or over weighted
With such a frisky little being
As no one ever hopes of seeing.

Where can man buy a cap for his knee?
Or a key for a lock of his hair?
Can his eyes be called an academy, because there are pupils there?

Can the crook of his elbow be sent to jail?
And if so what did he do?
How does he sharpen his shoulder blades?

MOST UNFORTUNATE.

The most unfortunate letter in the alphabet some say is the letter E because it is always out of cash, forever in debt, never out of danger and in Hell all the time. It is the center of honesty and is always in love. It is the beginning of encouragement and the end of failure. These things are true, still it is never in war, and always in peace and always in something to eat. It is the beginning of existence, the commencement of ease and the end of trouble. Without it there would be no life, no heaven.

HOW THEY ANSWER.

Freshman: 'Ain't done my lesson, couldn't."

Soph: "Didn't get my lesson, because I forgot to take my book home."

Junior: "Much as I wished to have done my lesson last nite, it was utterly impossible as I had an important engagement."

Senior: "Kind madam: A percipitation prevented noctornalation causing a super-abundance of incapacitation, preventing noctournal mental exertion, I thank you .

Sept. 6.—Chapel for the new term was held for the first time today, Tuesday. Principal Nees welcomed the students back to school and gave various information necessary for students.

Sept. 7.—The chapel period was spent in announcing changes in teachers and classes, Y. W. C. A., social, music and such.

Sept. 8.—Thursday the students exhibited their singing ability Two or three selections were sung which were led by Miss Lois Gilman, and Miss Evans was at the Piano.

Sept. 9.—Friday the students had the honor of hearing Miss Helen Smith, who had just finished a Chautauqua tour in Illinois. She was accompanied by Miss Mirriam Merritt at the piano. She sang several beautiful and entertaining selections. Miss Smith is a graduate of M.C.H.S. and we are proud of her success as musician.

Sept. 12.—Monday chapel period was spent in announcing changes in classes and more instructions were given to the students. The enrollment for school up to this date was five hundred fifty four.

Sept. 13.—Mr. Castillo had charge of chapel. He read a very interesting item from the "Outlook" on the condition of affairs in Europe.

Sept. 15.—Mr. Davis had the responsibility of entertaining the students. He gave a very interesting talk on "Time" explaining how it is kept and corrected regularly.

Sept. 16.—The students sang two songs, led by Miss Gilman and then Mr. Nees gave a speech in which he urged the students not to drop out of school.

Sept. 19.—Moday mght be given the name of "Money Day." A straw vote was taken to find out how many students would buy lecture course tickets and then how many would buy football season tickets. It was annouced that a home nursing class under the direction of our Red Cross nurse, Miss Lucille Otto, would soon be organized.

Sept. 20.—Miss Paterson told of a five week's trip given Boy Scouts of Clinton, Iowa, during the summer. Two hundred boy scouts were taken on a five weeks' trip through the Yellowstone national park. She then compared this with the student's nine months "trip" through school and expressed the hope that we might all come through as safe as did the boys.

Sept. 21.—The chapel period was turned over to Miss Anna Ingleman, who recited a few poems which she had learned during the summer. This was quite a treat to us all.

Sept. 23.—Friday the students had the honor of having with them Professor Baumgartner of the Kansas University. In his talk he complimented the school in many ways. He was there in behalf of the Memorial Hall which is being built at the University. Following this all the boys who had been practising football were called to the platform and their captain "Skeet" Loftus made a fine talk and urged all the students to attend the game and help beat Nowata.

Sept. 26.—Mrs. Fred Anderson who has been teaching for Miss Russell during her absence, gave two very fine readings. The first one was "Soldier of France," and the other was "Sister's Best Fellow." Both selections were greatly appreciated.

Sept. 27—The boys met in the study hall and the girls in the auditorium. The purpose of the boys' meeting was to encourage them to attend the Hi-Y. Mr. Beal told the boys how much they needed the organizaton and explained how much it meant to them. The purpose of the girls' meeting was to get them interested in the Y. W. C. A. Miss Paterson gave a fine talk on etiquette.

Sept. 30.—Miss Staples gave a talk on the word "If." She also read two poems, they were: "If for Girls", by Elizabeeth Otis, and "If for Boys," by Kipling.

Oct. 3.—The chapel period was turned over to Miss Ida O'Brien who told the students about "The Four Horseman of the Apocalypse" which was to be shown at the Beldorf theater this week. Miss O'Brien has read the book in Spanish and has seen the picture this summer in California. She also told about the author of the book, Vicente Blasco Ibanez.

Oct. 4.—Miss Lois Gilman sang three entertaining songs. They were "The Hindu Song", "Old Pal, Why Don't You Answer Me", and "The Lilac Tree". She was accompanied by Miss Mornazell Wagstaff.

Oct. 6.—Miss Helen Stevens gave a very interesting talk on Mathematics. She reminded the students that although nearly everything is continually changing, there are certain mathematical truths that will never change.

Oct. 11.—Miss Paterson explained the details of the debate and urged that tryout speeches be ready by Oct. 25. Miss Spradling had charge of the rest of the period. She told of "The Then Days and the Now Days", and drew some interesting conclusions.

Oct. 13.—The Freshman, Sophomore, Junior and Senior classes each met in separate rooms for the purpose of organizing the classes.

Oct. 14.—Friday the Girls' Glee Club entertained the student body by singing three songs. They were "Echo Song", "Will o' the Wisp" and "Pancake Song." A snake dance was annouced for seven-thirty, and Mr. Nees gave a short talk about the treatment they expected Neodesha to receive from Independence.

Oct. 17.—Monday Dr. F. W. Lewis of the Emporia College favored us with a fine talk on hardships and things that go to discourage the high school students. He advised them to go ahead and try harder when things go against them. Miss Mary Self, who is home on a visit from the Horner Institute gave two very interesting readings.

Oct. 18.—Miss Lake entertained us nicely by singing two songs, "Within the Garden of My Heart" and "A Bowl of Roses."

Oct. 20.—Superintendent C. S. Risdon was at the school and gave a helpful talk to the students. He discussed briefly the advantages that were afforded the students and what was expected of them in return.

Oct. 26.—Mr. Baker had charge of the chapel period. After entertaining the students with a few jokes, he read a magazine article on "The High Cost of Low Living."

Oct. 27.—A good long Chapel! Joseph Juvenal, posing as Tommy Ryan, for eight years middleweight champion of the world, told the students of his early life and education. Ryan claims one of the secrets to old age is the clean life. Mr. Charles G. Titus, International Secretary for the Y. M. C. A. gave a fine talk. He emphasized that it was necessary to have a certain extent of faith for a true life. Both talks were appreciated by all the assembly.

Nov. 2.—The Rev. J. R. Schultz, State Superintendent of the Prison Reforms told about the lives of the prisoners and about some of the commonly known crimes and their causes.

Nov. 8.—Dr. Rice from Michigan who graduated from the Independence High School 32 years ago gave a splendid talk on "How far the teachers' influence goes with the students." Miss Spradling announced girls' basketball practise.

Nov. 9.—Wednesday Miss Stewart had charge of the chapel period. She told three stories of boys who had made good. One of the boys had derived a motto which he said was the secret of his success. It was "Wanting to, Trying to, and Keeping at it." If this Motto be coupled with ambition success is certain.

Nov. 10.—A patriotic program was put on by the Oral English class under the direction of Miss Ingleman. The program consisted of "Lest We Forget" by the double quartet; "The Fool", a reading by Helen Scott; "Some Service", by Bill Reno; "In Flander's Field", by the double quartet; "Jean Deprez", a reading by Treva Lawler; and "America for Me", a reading by Roma Riggs. Mr. Nees called attention to the service flag which had been put up for the occasion. There are 286 stars, 7 of which are gold. The period was closed by singing "The Star Spangled Banner."

Nov. 14.—The chapel time was given to the football players. Several of the team made speeches and Mr. Beal a short talk. Also Mr. Nees told us that I. H. S. now has a record of 204 points and has had only 10 scores made against her.

Nov. 17.—The high school band entertained the students on Thursday. The selections which they played were, "Rosebud," "Bohemian Girl," "Betty," "Spirits of Spring," and "Peggy O'Neal." Everyone enjoys hearing the band.

Nov. 22.—The Oral English classes put on two short plays. The first was at a recruiting station where Ray Frampton acted as recruiting officer and Bill Reno as a colored man enlisting in the army. The other play was entitled "A Matrimonial Advertisement." Both plays were well acted and were enjoyed immensely.

Nov. 28.—The Chapel period was given over to the football players. Coach Beal compared this year's football team with last year's team. He also said that this year's record was a good starter for I. H. S. Walter Loftus then made a short speech in which he said that the rooting at the games went a long way in helping them to win. He also said that the second team should receive more credit for their hard work.

Nov. 29.—Miss Brown read some Psalms from the Bible, thus giving a strictly religious chapel service.

Nov. 30.—Miss Clark gave us a treat. She recited some poems that she had learned in high school.

Dec. 1.—The second division of the Freshman English class under the direction of Miss Staples gave a class recitation on Famous Men and Women of today. Miss Bertha Wright told of Helen Keller, Dorothy Featherngill told of Gene Stratten Porter's life, Marguerite Heintz told of Madame Curie, and Etha Dungan told about Luther Burbank.

Dec. 5.—Mr. Nees announced that this week was to be educational week. He then gave a comparison of the late world war and the war of 1898 and a talk on Colonel of the Lost Batallion. The talk was given to promote education and patriotism.

Dec. 6.—Mrs. Ball gave an interesting talk on "Patriotism," and then told some true stories of the soldiers in France. This was one of the best talks on the subject ever delivered from our platform.

Dec. 16.—Friday the period was turned over to the discussion of the school paper. Miss Stewart had charge. The school took a vote to elect an editor for the paper. William Reno was selected for that important position. This assures no foolishness.

Dec. 19.—Dr. Crumbine, secretary of the state board of health, spoke on the necessity of education. This was a very able talk and carried a good lesson along with it.

Jan. 3.—Miss O'Brien gave a very interesting review of the book, "The Next War," by Will Irwin. That the human race may be almost exterminated by modern methods of warfare, is the prediction of this author.

Jan. 5.—The student body was agreeably entertained at the chapel hour by four members of the Expression class. Excellent readings were kiven by Vera McCall, Lolita Sams, Blanche Harris, closing with a selection and encore by Mick Melugin taken from "Verdigris Valley Verse."

Jan. 9.—Miss Marie Park, of Neodesha, entertained the students in chapel by reading for them "A Pleasure Exertion" by Samantha Allen. Her rendition was very pleasing.

Jan. 10.—Football sweaters presented in chapel to undefeated team. Seventeen boys received sweaters and each boy made a speech. They seem to think speech making is harder than playing football. Prescott proved to be the orator of the day.

Jan. 25.—During the chapel period Wednesday, Helen Dittmer delighted the I. H. S. students with three excellently rendered piano numbers; "Evening Star"—Wagner, "Polanise"—Chopin, and "Will O' the Wisp"—Jensen.

Jan. 30.—The Rev. Doctor H. A. Gordon, pastor of the First M. E. Church, gave an excellent address to the high school students. The theme of his talk was closer relation between education and religion.

Feb. 1.—Wednesday, the orchestra gave an excellent program. We are very proud of the improvement these pupils are making along this line. This is Music Week.

Feb. 2.—The Girls' and Boys' Glee Clubs and the Girls' Quartet sang Thursday morning. Miss Lois Gilman sang two numbers, in one of which she had the students join in the chorus.

Feb. 3.—The high school band made its first public appearance Friday and I. H. S. is very proud of it. After the band the girls' basketball team appeared on the stage all "dolled up" in their new uniforms, and each girl recited a verse corresponding to the letter she wore. Following this they sang "Oh, we've got the pep." This was a fitting "pep" chapel to rouse enthusiasm for the Cherryvale game.

Feb. 13.—The football trophy for the 1921 championship of the Verdigris Valley League was displayed in chapel before being placed in the trophy case. This silver trophy is in the form of a football with the words "I. H. S. Football Champions, V. V. L., 1921" engraved on it. You may be sure we are all very proud of our standing in the league.

Feb. 14.—Tuesday President F. W. Lewis and Mr. L. F. Weatherwax, of Emporia College, delighted the student body with a splendid program. Mr. Weatherwax sang several numbers and received enthusiastic applause from the students. Dr. Lewis chose a line from the last song for his text and gave us a splendid address. His text was, "I am the master of my fate; I am the captain of my soul."

Feb. 25.—The girls' quartet from Ottawa University, Miss Spradling's school, pleasantly entertained the school during the assembly period with a program of vocal and instrumental music. They also gave us a sample of their school yells.

The first of a series of talks to be given by local bankers was given by A. W. Shulthis, president of The Citizens First National Bank. These talks are being given in order that the students may get a general knowledge of the banking business. Mr. Shulthis gave us something to think of along a line quite new to most of us.

March 2.—The girls met in the auditorium and the boys in the study hall. Mr. J. I. Billman, of the Western Reference and Band Association, gave aa very excellent speech to the boys on the subject "Pigs and Pyramids." The Y. W. delegates who attended the state conference at Wellington, gave reports of the meeting before the girls' assembly. Each delegate told of some phase of the conference that particularly impressed her.

March 7.—The second address of the series by bankers was delivered by Mr. Mr. J. I. Billman, of the Western Reference and Band Association, gave a very State Bank. Mr. Bertenshaw covered the subject "Loans and Discounts" very thoroughly and admirably. After the address Supt. Risdon presented to the school a fine portrait of Mr. Nees, which is a gift of the Scott Studio. The students showed their appreciation of the gift and of Mr. Risdon's splendid address by their hearty applause.

March 16.—Bankers again. In accordance with the educational program of the American Bankers' Association, the third of a series of talks on banking was given Thursday by Paul Nees, representing the Commercial National Bank. He handled the subject "Drafts and Letters of Credit" in a very able manner, explaining each point definitely and concisely.

March 17.—St. Patrick's Day. The quartets sang their contest numbers in chapel. This gave every one an opportunity to hear them and also gave them some practice in singing before an audience. The double quartet then sang "My Father and Mother were Irish." This was very pleasing to all. Glad to know it.

March 21.—Veron Goepfert, our contestant for the violin solo, played his piece for us. The orchestra also played their contest number. We are all proud of our musicians and feel sure they will do themselves credit in the Music Contest next Friday.

March 22.—Wednesday we were entertained by Joe Fitzpatrick, and the mixed chorus. They gave their contest numbers. Miss Evans is certainly to be complimented for the excellent training she has given these contestants.

Mr. R. W. Cates, of the Citizens First National Bank, gave the fourth of the series of bankers' talks Thursday, in an able explanation of "Bank Deposits and Checks." Mr. Cates enlivened his able talk with some fine humor. The faculty put on a stunt. They wore caps and arm bands of "black and blue," the faculty colors, and the team marched upon the platform carrying their black and blue banner bearing the word "faculty." They closed the program by singing "The High School Teachers Ain't What They Used to Be."

March 27.—The result of the Music Contest was reported and although we made only second place, still we are proud of our standing. Several of the teachers gave short talks and they all complimented Mr. Nees for the splendid way he managed this affair.

March 28.—The basketball girls put on a guessing game at the chapel hour to advertise the Independence-Cherryvale game. The girls by clever stunts signified the following: "Basketball tie game between Independence and Cherryvale at Coffeyville March 28." They were assisted by Miss Josephine Hansen, who represented Cherryvale.

March 30.—Mr. E. V. Wood, of the Security State Bank, made an excellent speech on "Bank Statements." He illustrated his talk with a large chart showing a typical bank statement. Each item of the statement was clearly explained. His talk was the fifth of the series which is being given by local bankers.

"The Fatal Necklace", a melodrama played in real airdome style, put on by the Oral English students as an advertisement of the play "Clarence." The play was very cleverly acted.

April 4.—We were honored by a word from Darius A. Brown, personal representative of U. S. Sec. of Labor Davis, and former mayor of Kansas City, Mo. His subject was "The Advantages of Education" and his talk was very inspiring. He pointed out that the successful boy or girl is the one who grasps every opportunity.

April 5.—Senior Tacky Day, and a clever program, representing the last day at "Hickory Holler' school. The program consisted of recitations, songs, essays and a "dialogue" by four pupils. The recitations "Ten Little Bachelors" and "To Graduate or Not to Graduate" were especailly good. The essays on "Cuts," on "Cases," and on "Sophomores" were clever indeed. The jokes on the students and faculty members were both amusing and well directed. As a closing, the Seniors gave their yells from the platform.

April 6.—Thursday morning the sixth of the series of bank talks was given. Mr. E. H. Pugh of the Kansas Savings & Trust Co. explained the purpose and usefulness of a trust company and cited many transactions illustrating his points. This was one of the most interesting talks we've had this year.

April 11.—Miss Ingleman's expression class gave a program consisting of recitations of poems by James Whitcomb Riley. The program was as follows.

"Our Hired Girl" ..... Sharlin Brewster.
"Prior to Miss Belle's Appearance" ..... Viola Arrington
"Little Ophant Annie" ..... Beatrice DeVore
"The Raggedy Man" ..... Eunice Humphrey
"The Happy Little Cripple" ..... Eulala Crosson
"The Bear Family" ..... Josephine Blades

April 14.—Friday morning the student body enjoyed a real treat when Miss Helen Smith, a graduate of M. C. H. S. sang several selections in chapel. Miss Smith has a very beautiful and excellently trained soprano voice and a charming personality. The piano accompaniments were played by Mr. E. W. Hille.

April 17.—The student body was both very much surprised and pleased to have Mohammed Allah, an Arabian, to speak to them during the chapel hour. Dr. Allah was formerly a Mohammedan priest but is now a Christian. He has studied in England and many other countries and speaks thirty-three languages. He told of some of the Arabian customs and of some of his experiences in Arabia. On account of becoming a Christian he was forced to leave his country and his wife and children were stoned. Dr. Allah is now attending Northwestern College.

Ask the Seniors, Any Senior,—
If they've not been asked this question
At the time when school's beginning
At the school time in September
By a freshman from the country
Or a Soph from out the Lincoln,—
What is chapel and where it is;
Won't you tell me all about it?
Well my dears here is the story
Of the things we do in chapel
And the reason why we have it.
First of all it's in the morning
From ten ten until ten thirty.
Mr. Nees then rings for order.
Tell us all we should get quiet
Then sometimes a teacher gives us
Pleasant talks or some announcements
Or perhaps an outside speaker
Makes a speech or entertains us.
Then again we sing together
And are led by Lois Gilman.
The department then of music
Sometimes furnishes a program
Furnishes a splendid program
By the orchestra or Glee Clubs.
And I'm sure we al enjoy it.
lSometime, too, We have some yelling
That is when we are the victors
Victors o'er another high school.
But one thing I must remind you
Never fail to come to chapel
To assemble every morning
For the things we see and hear there
Are worth while to every student.

Young Women's Christian Association

The year 1922 has been a very prosperous one for our meetings are held every two weeks, on Monday, with a member of the faculty and a student as leaders, and these meetings have all proven very beneficial.

One evening the first week of school a very successful reception was given for the new girls of the school. These are the prospective Y. W. workers. Every girl had a good time.

We were very fortunate to have as our guest, at one of our meetings, Miss Katherine Vance the Y. W. C. A. Missionary Secretary in China, to whose support our girls contribute. She showed the girls some very beautiful Chinese costumes and pictures. We are always delighted to have outside speakers come to tell us of their work.

Three members of our society, Frances Heckman, Beatrice Devore, Zora Riggs and the chairman of our Y. W. board, Miss Helen Spradling, went as delegates to the State Conference at Wellington, Kans. All profited much by the Conference. It was a live meeting.

We are planning to send five delegates to Estes Park, Colorado, this ssummer, and the Y. W. girls all hope that next fall the association in I. H. S. will profit by the results of this conference and next year be able to send a larger delegation.

Hi-Y, 1921-22

Before the term commenced the Y. M. C. A. cabinet met and outlined the schedule for the year. Though the name of the school had changed it was the same school with its high ideals and noble standards which were enhanced through the influence of the Y. M. C. A., one of the strongest piers supporting the good name of the Old School.

The "Y" started out full of pep, their enthusiasm being aroused by the officers from the State Y. M. C. A. Camp, "Camp Wood." What did they do? The "Y" boys were the first aid that came to the Freshmen as guides to help locate them. Then the first announcement that all the boys received was from the "Y", which was a token of welcome to be a member and a "Y" worker.

Several fine talks were delivered by business men and ministers who were kind enough to give us of their time and effort. We certainly apprciated their kindness. But in the interesting discussions carried on in the Bible Study class is where the true Christian training comes in. We studied "The Manhood of the Master" by Harry Fosdick, and from it were brought some wonderful thoughts.

The physical side of the triangle also was emphasized, for every Tuesday night after the Bible Study we had a little work out in the gymnasium. Back of all this however were the high ideals and noble principles taught and instilled into us by our advisor, Mr. Beal and our principal, Mr. Nees.

Louise A.: "Marion told me that you told her that secret that I told you not to tell her."

Katherene S.: "Cat! I told her not to tell you."

Louise A.: "Well, I told her I wouldn't tell you if she told me, so don't tell her I did."

Shotgun: "Wrong—now that I've got the suit I'm a debit to my tailor."

Joe: "Did you know that a kiss is the language of love?"

Elizabeth: "Then why don't you say something?"

"Have you ever
Walked in the Booth
Lobby and caught the
Glance of the prettiest
Girl there—and have her
Smile—a wonderful smile
And walk toward you
With both hands outstretched
And the lovelite shining
In her eyes—?
And go right past you
And kiss the boy behind you?
Ah! such things as these
Cause men to drink."—Glen Megill.

Scotty: "See that chap coming there, he's our math teacher. He's so bashful he acts like litmus paper."

Ernest S.: "Howzat?"

Scotty: "Why, when he's with a girl he turns pink and when he's alone he gets blue."

Kenneth Leech: "What color do you like best for a bride."

Theron Lolley: "I prefer white myself."

The Annual

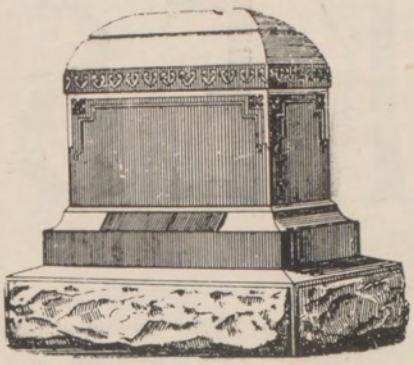

The 1922 Annual is now yours. For months we have been trying to get something worth while ready for you. We hope you will appreciate to some extent what it means to put out a book of this nature—The Orange and Black. The Staff, headed by Ray Frampton, a fine, good looking young fellow, deserves very little censure and much praise. They have made a neat book, one deserving to rank well among such publications.

This Annual, like its predecessors, is intended to record for preservation a few of the many activities of a school of this kind. It must, in a way, be a picture of our school life. Yet we must admit that many of the finest things said, done, or thought; some of the finest class work presented in school; some of the most valuable lessons that can be taught are entirely unsung in these pages. These are some of the lessons no pupil can report, lessons no pupil can ever forget, and none but the adult of mature years can hope to appreciate. And, too, these are the things that will be living and throbbing, vital parts of us when this book shall have ceased even to be a memory.

Independence is essentially a good town. Our people seem to stand almost as a unit for anything that is good. They took great pride in the Montgomery County High School, chiefly because it stood for the best in education. This school in the beginning fitted well into their own educational plans, and continued to do so throughout the years. They have acquired a good school, and now they bend their splendid energies to make it even a better one, and the work goes on with never a halt.

So it has come about quite naturally that our business men, our men and women of affairs have shown the same fine courtesy toward our staff workers as was shown in the former years. They believe in the school they support. They believe in their boys and girls. They sympathize with them in their youthful efforts and overlook their errors, yet all the while giving that wholesome support to the facultty and school that serves as a valuable corrective and thorough stimulant. Without this support the Annual cannot be a success. With such support its success is assured and its future is very bright. So we feel very grateful toward all interested, and hope our readers will fully understand what such support means to any of the school activities.

Sincerely yours,
E. J. CASTILLO, Faculty Advisor.

THE GIRLS OF TODAY

Oh, shades of the barefoot boy!
Blessings on Thee, little girl,
Bare-kneed miss with brain awhirl—
With thy rolled-down shado hose
Where the duece are all thy clothes?
And thy red mouth-such a sight—
Smeared with lip-stick day and night!
With your powder and your paint
Cobweb blouse that almost aint!
To the heart, dear, you give me pains;
Haint yer mother any brains?
—Fat Prescott.

"Yes," remarked Lucile, "It's called altar because that's where we girls alter our names."

Scotty: "Here's a half dollar for you."

Brandenburg: "Shall we reserve a place for you?"

Scotty: "No. Purty soon I'll have to come in with two girls and I want you to tell me there's no room. Savvy?"

Mrs. Castillo: "In five months we shall celebrate our silver wedding."

Cas: "Better wait five years and then we can celebrate the 30 Year's War."

Birdie: "When a woman is in love she acts like a fool."

Lee: "But when a man is in love it isn't altogether acting."

Miss Lake: "You have been drinking! You can't kiss me—"

Mr. Berry: "Please—"

Miss Lake: "Until you tell me where you get it."

Gene Brown: "Why do you always wear clocks on your stockings."

Doris M. (simpering): "To keep my feet awake."

Gene Brown (musingly): "Seems to me they'd make good hat trimmings."

Henry D.: 'Will you go to the dance with me tonight?"

Venus J.: "I should say not!"

Henry D.: "Well, what are you going to say?"

"His girl goes to the opera house,
Mine goes to the movie show.
His girl wears silk, and satins,
Mine wears calico.
His girl is gay and frivolous,
Mine's demure and good.
Do you think that I would change with him?
You bet your life I would."
—Lee Troutman.

Miss Paterson: "It tells here of the death of an old friend, peace to her ashes."

Mr. Baker: "Oh, is that where she went."

Irma Clubine: "Do you play on the piano?"

Helen Dittmer: No, I used to but my mother made me stop."

I. C.: "How is that?"

H. D.: "She was afraid I'd fall off."

Marvin Brown: "I have a good job at Gus'.

Marene: "What do you do?"

Marion: "Milk chocolate."

Chas.: "I understand that what your father left you amounted to a good figure."

Helen Field: "No, I inherited my good figure from my mother."

Of late we have heard much on Evolution and Darwin's writings. Here's a definition of Evolution that might help. Evolution is that infinitessimally slow reintergration of matter and the concurrent dissipation of motion wherein matter passes from one definite homogeneity through an intermnally and indefinite incoherent hetirogeneity tending universally toward a future definite coherency and substantial reincarnation and transformation.

"ORVILLE SAID TO LUCILE"

I'll build a cozy iittle home if you marry me — but I'll wait till lumber comes down to normal

"LUCILE"—Answer

I'll wait a great deal longer than that before I'll marry a gink like you

"I've got a notion in my dome that I will build a cozy home when lumber prices tumble." He told her this with beaming pride, when asking her to be his bride, and he was far from humble. "I've got a notion in my brain," the girlie answered with disdain, "that you are not the fellow that I would hanker to annex, for you disgrace your very sex; you've got a taint of yellow. Have you the nerve to ask a maid to wed, admitting you're afraid to build a place to take her? If that the way you'd win a wife, you better lead a single life—or see an undertaker. I wouldn't choose a man like that, who had no place to hang his hat: I much prefer it single. You think that you are provident by hanging on to every cent so you can hear it jingle. My motto "BUILD RIGHT NOW," is sane. Your hedging gives me a pain. You are not a half man, sir. The man I wed must not demur; must let no obstacle deter—buy the lumber of Kessler—and there you have your answer."

GO TO COLLEGE

The 1% of college men in America has furnished 55% of the American presidents; 62% of the Secretaries of State; 50% of the Secretaries of the Treasury; 62% of the Attorney Generals; and 69% of the Supreme Court Justices.

A college graduate has one chance in 173 to become famous.

A High School graduate has one chance in 1606.

An elementary School graduate has one chance in 40,841.

Without schooling one has one chance in 161,290.

Maybe a little learning is not so dangerous after all.

The strategetic advantage of tomorrow will belong to that nation with the best trained leadership. Only thinkers can lead.

It was the oft described moonlight scene. Presently she said, "Oh Red dear, I can't understand why you lavish your affections on me above all the other girls in the world. Do tell me."

Red: "I don't know, Nora. And all my friends say they can't make it out either."

- - - -

"What's wrong?" asked Miss Spradling, "You look worried."

"I am," he replied, "I wrote a note to May asking her to marry me, and one to my father asking him if he took me for a fool. Some one called up and said, 'Yes.' I don't know which it was."

- - - -

"Most folks are yearning for somebody," Miss Lake.

- - - -

"Embrace your opportunities, especially if they are good looking," Forrest Geckeler.

- - - -

"Many who ask for daughter's hand get only papa's foot," Pete Page.

- - - -

Hi: "Who is that homely looking girl over there?"
John: "She is my sister."
Hi: "That's all right, old sport, you ought to see mine!"

SWEET HEART
"THE BEST EVER"

Miss Lake: "Why I could name the presidents in order when I was in High School."
Paul T: "That's nothin. There were not so many."

Miss Stevens: "What is Trigonometry?"
Truby J: "A man with three wives!"

May Allison says that convincing argument is one that agrees with her own ideas on a subject.

Ruth Dunkin wonders where that dollar landed that Washington threw across the Potomac.

Meredith: "Father said he'd kill the first fellow that kissed me."
Hi, innocently: "Well, did he?"

"I showed he an engagement ring.
You're blind to all my love," I cried,
She gazed upon the glittering thing,
"But not yet stone blind" she sighed.

B. O. Beal.

"Do you think you could ever learn to love me?"
Nita: "I don't know, Joe. I loved algebrra once."

Now I sit me down to cram
I pray that I'll pass this exam.
But if I fail to get this junk,
I still must hope I do not flunk.

Frank Foster.

At Church: Miss Paterson remembered that she had left the dinner in the oven and gas going. She wrote a note and sent it to Mrs. Banks. That lady thinking it an announcement, handed it to an usher who in due time passed it up to the minister, Dr. Howard. It read, "don't forget to shut off the gas as soon as possible."

Spring has came, snow has went.
It was not did by accident.
Birds have flew as you have saw,
Back north again, by Nature's law.

Sophomore English

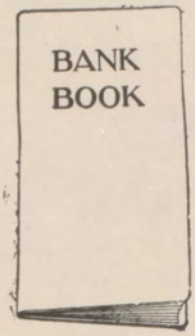

In chapel: "Miss Gilman will sing again, 'I can not tell you why'. "

Mr. Baker: "I decided to economize by buying the cheaper cuts of meat instead of the choice ones."
Mr. Castillo: "How did it work?"
Mr. Baker: "The butcher got freightened and cut off my credit."
Mother: "Where did you learn to swear like that?"
Marene (quickly): "From Pa's shaving, Uncle's golf, brother's flivver, and sister's parrot."

Father: "This report displeases me greatly."
Kenneth: "Yes, I told Mr. Davis it would but he wouldn't change it."

Geck: "You interest me, strangely, as no girl ever has."
Wanda: "Yes, you told me that last night."
Geck: "Oh, was that you?"

"So Nora returned Red's ring?"
"Yes, she mailed it with a label on the box 'Glass, handle with care'."

Mr. Beal, (over album of views) "Don't you—ah—just love an ancient ruin?"

Miss Staples (flutteringly): "Oh, this is so sudden!"

Ray: "I hear the crowd hooted you when you appeared!"

Bill: "False, my boy, false, all false, there was no crowd."

Joe Allen: "Come on George I ain't going to leave no dough in this bank. The cashier's got his hat on."

Stranger: "I met Miss Cook the other night. There's a woman for you!"

Skeet: "Not for me. I've already asked her."

Arthur Billings and his friend had just encountered a bull-dog and Arthur started a prompt retreat.

She exclaimed: "You said you'd face death for me!"

He flung back: "I would, but that dog is alive!"

Two girls were heard discussing the new dollars. The conversation was as follows: "Sneagle,"

"Snotneagle, Snowl."

"Sneither, Snostrich."

Ancient History puzzles me
I never could see why,
After all those reigns that we had,
It still should be so dry.
Frsh. Essay.

Lucile: O, don't mind the dog. Why, he'll eat from your hand.
Orville: Yes, but by golly, I'm afraid he'll eat from my leg!

Lee Troutman got that black eye by straining it at studying Geometry.

Joe: Why do you girls put so much powder on your faces?
Bettie: Why to prevent chaps.
Joe: Prevent nothing! You do it to attract chaps.

Don S: You had a new girl at the Beldorf last night, I see.
Hilbert: New! nothing doin. That was the old one painted over.

Red paid two dollars for a fine new handkerchief. He says he doesn't think that's much to blow in.
