Foreword

To the students, we of the staff of the 1960 Communico respectfully give you your book. We have tried to show, in pictures and words, a little of your campus, a little of the gaiety, a few of the events and happenings that have gone to make up the story of this year.

In reality, it was not we who made up this book, but you; you supplied the faces, the personalities, the events that are recorded here. It is a lasting record of one of your years as a student at I.C.C.

In retrospect this year will grow. When you leave you will take with you memories; this book will hold a key to part of them.

To the graduates who will leave, never to return but as a visitor, we bid a fond farewell.

FIRST ROW: Goergia Lee Rockwell, Clerk; Lonnie Wood, Superintendent; John O'Brien, and Dorothy Beahm.
STANDING: Francis Potts, President; Jack Sanders, R. J. Osborn, and Albert Sewell.

The Board of Education of the city of Independence has put forth great efforts to maintain a high standard in education.

This board has worked hard for every student in this city. Its members have aided in planning our curriculum and have been in sympathy with our outside activities.

Besides being of great aid to I.C.C. students, this organization is also greatly respected by citizens, both those who have children in school and those who do not. For they realize that the board is striving always to improve the quality of teachers, equipment, curriculum, and buildings for the benefit of all Independence.

We, the staff of the 1960 COMMUNICO, dedicate this book to Miss Opal Orr, Librarian. Every student at Independence Community College knows, and appreciates, Miss Orr and the excellent work which she does. Not only does she run the library successfully, but, at any time, she is willing to help individual students search for vital information which they might need. We hope this dedication will in part portray our thankfulness and appreciation to Miss Orr.

ICC Players Present

"Strawberry phosphate, please, Mr. Morgan."

On the evenings of November 20 and 21, 1959, the I.C.C. Players presented Thornton Wilder's Pulitzer Prize winner, "Our Town." The play symbolizes life in its truest and most poignant sense. The plot is simple. A young couple fall in love and are married. The girl dies. But interwoven into the classic are moments of depth which reveal the eternal truths of all human existence.

"Once again now, 'Art thou weary, art thou languid?'"

"Up here's Main Street"

Thespians Receive First "Anna's"

BEST ACTRESS
Susan Colburn won the best actress award for her inspiring portrayal of the Empress in "The Recognition Scene" from "Anastasia."

A precendent was established on January 18, 1960, in the I.C.C. auditorium with the presentation of the "Anna" awards for outstanding performances in a series of one-act plays presented by student directors as a semester project. The awards are named after the late Miss Annna Ingleman who promoted an interest in drama in the Independence schools.

It is hoped the "Anna" awards will become a tradition at I.C.C., a tangible object to be presented to those people who work diligently to make I.C.C. drama productions successful.

BEST ACTOR
Larry Lobitz received the best actor award with his vivid portrayal of the bishop in "The Bishop's Candlesticks."

BEST PLAY. "The Bishop's Candlesticks," based on an incident from Les Miserables by Victor Hugo, received the best play award. A picture of the same may be seen on the preceding page.

BEST SUPPORTING ACTOR
Bill Clement received the best supporting actor award for his entertaining portrayal of a spirited youngster in "The Happy Journey."

BEST DIRECTOR
Georgia High received the best director award with her excellent direction of "Anastasia."

BEST SUPPORTING ACTRESS
Sue Sellars gave an award winning performance for best supporting actress in "The Happy Journey."

"Blue Notes" Entertain at Many School Dances in Area

The Members of the "Blue Notes" dance band are Craig Baker, Karen Cook, Fred Sutter, Charles Cotten, Edgar Barbera, Eddie Mordy, Jerry Watson, Gene Hunt, Gary House, Jim Clement, Ernie Hammond, Jack Wilhelm, Louise McAlister, and Mr. Lloyd Mordy.

The Independence Community College "Blue Notes" were organized by Mr. Lloyd Mordy, instrumental supervisor, in 1953. The dance band is a group of band students that wish to excel in music and have a special interest and ability in the line of fine phrasing and reading ability. The group meets regularly every week for practice with no academic credit.

The past years have seen the dance band on television and at many dances.

Highlighting the year of 1959-60 the "Blue Notes" played for the high school coronation basketball dance, the college basketball coronation dance, assemblies, programs at the Civic clubs, and on the radio. Closing out the school year, they played for the Cherryvale High School junior-senior prom.

"Mood Indigo" is the theme that is becoming more familiar each time the fine dance band is heard. Membership is open in this unique group to those who can qualify.

1960 Communico Staff Claims Yearbook "Tremendous"

We of the staff of the 1960 Communico sincerely hope that we have presented you with a clear and concise record of the achievements and activities of the students of I.C.C. It is our hope that you will keep this book over which we have labored so long as a reminder of your many carefree and happy days spent in school.

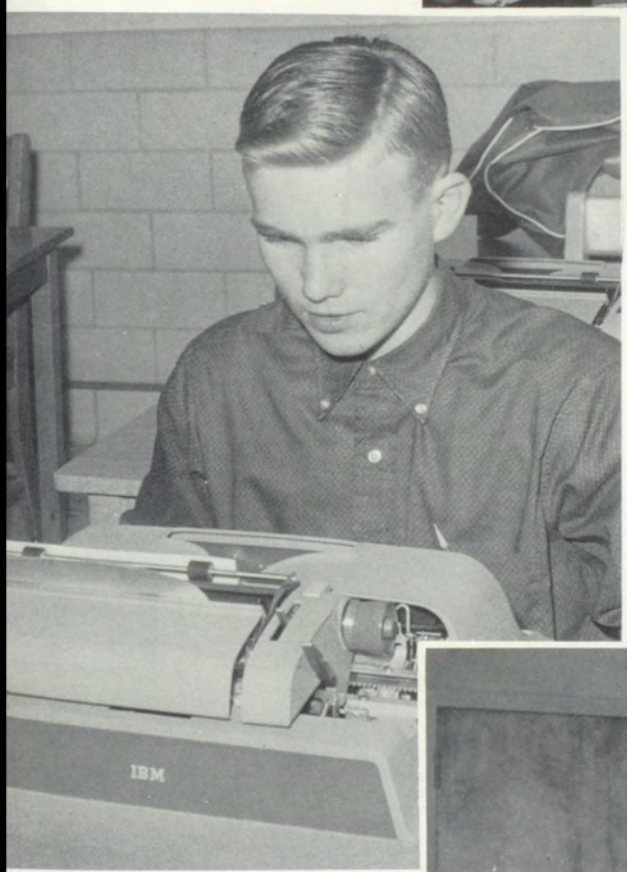

The staff has relied heavily on Andrea Emmot, Editor, and Judy Richardson, Business Manager, and, of course, its two Sponsors Mr. Clyde Evans and Mr. Charles Belt.

We are happy to bring to you this year color in our book. We feel that this color has added much to the splendor of the book as a whole. The cover and cover design were chosen to give the book a more brilliant appearance. The supplement and index page which were added to the book in the spring have helped to make this book complete in every way. We have endeavored to bring you a yearbook which pictures many more students than yearbooks of previous years.

The above partial list gives some idea of the tremendous amount of planning and work that goes into a publication of this kind. It is a voluntary effort that comes only with a spirit of wishing to do something worth while.

Judy Richardson and Mike Sherwood work diligently on copy to be ready for next deadline.

Typing is one of the very important and tedious tasks of putting a yearbook together as shown here by Tom Snyder.

The Indepen

Pirates Down ... 70-63 in Thriller

Marsha Banion and Susan Colburn team up to make page two one of the most interesting.

Editing page three are Karen Cook and Audrey Leonard.

Keeping the Student supplied with good photographs is the job of Larry Lobitz. Photography Editor. Mary Jane Wilson is kept busy as Business Manager.

lence Student

Keeping posted on all local sports happenings are Ronald Ulm, Tom Carter, and Tom Small, page four editors.

Mailing copies of the Student to advertisers and subscribers is a huge job for Circulation Managers, Velda Osborn and Judy Morley.

Busy pasting up the pages for the college magazine is Judy Salisbury, capable staff member.

Checking the assignment chart on the bulletin board is Roger O'Connor, staff sports writer.

THE BUCCANEER

Dorothy Sexton checks the spelling of a difficult word.

Writing and preparing copy is one of the many duties which keep Tom Todd busy.

Barbara Price can be found hunting news around the campus.

Leonard Vorderbruegge is busy with the huge task of typing copy for the next issue.

Norman Schwatken has a large job in writing stories and selling Bucs.

Writing local sports events for the magazine requires many hours of thoughtful work by Ray Wood.

Betty Phillips checks her box to see if anything new has developed.

FOURTH ROW: Hill, Watson, Roberto, Hanna, Burnett, Wade, Mentzol, Armstrong.

The "I" Club was formed with the purpose of creating higher standards for the athletes to follow and give our students and the people of Independence better athletics. This organization is composed of lettermen in the college division. During an athlete's sophomore year he is awarded a letter jacket after he has filled the requirements and has passed at least ten semester hours of work during the semester he participated in the sport in which the letter was awarded. Highlighting the year is the picnic held in the spring. The boys raised money during the year by selling Pirate felt banners and selling concessions. Officers for this year were Tom Hallacy, president; Tom Russell, vice-president; Dave McKenna, secretary; Harry Stephenson, treasurer; and Merlin Bigham, representative.

Independence Community College Players

The Independence Community College Players is an organization that is entirely honorary by nature. Membership in the club must be earned by participation in an all-school play either as a member of the cast or production staff. The Players share a common bond of enthusiasm for the theater.

The major production presented by the Players was "Our Town". See pages 56 and 57 for more on the same.

During the second semester the Players attended a production on the University of Kansas campus.

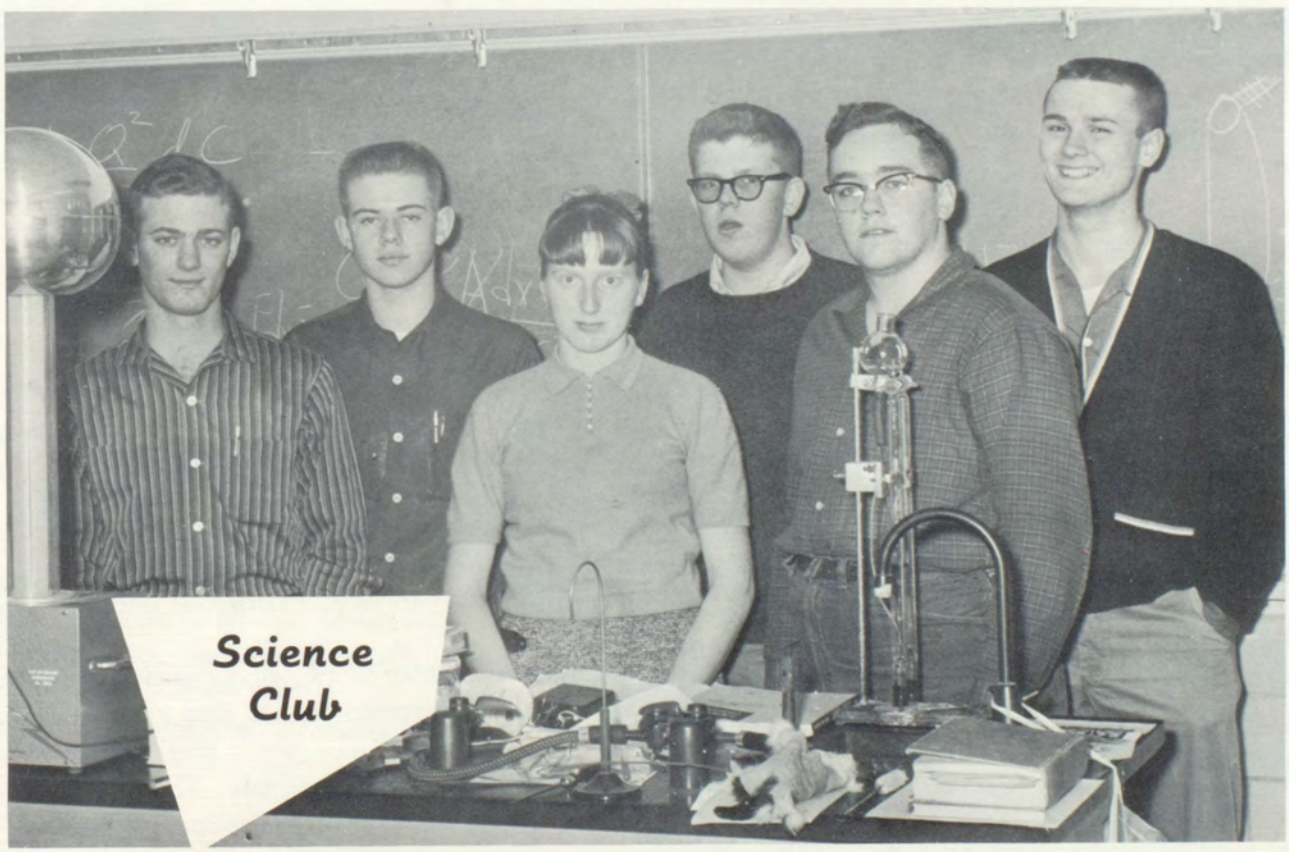

The Art Club is open to all students of Independence Community College. Members are given an opportunity to further their interests in drawing, painting, sculpture, and ceramics. Members include: Mr. Elia, Robbins, Brown, J. Andres, Rowe, Warren, Koschin, G. Andres, and Cook.

America's Future Homemakers Learn by Doing

The Future Homemakers of America is the national organization of pupils studying homemaking in high school. It is a part of the homemaking program and it offers opportunity for the further development of pupil initiative in planning and carrying out activites related to homemaking. Three degrees of achievement offer the individual opportunity for further personal growth.

Alice Alford is president of the local chapter. Other officers include: Margaret Tucker, vice-president; Deanna Sainer, secretary; Judy Newman, treasurer; Rosalee Rundell, representative; Sally Price, song leader; Norma Harvey, historian; and Karen Moser, reporter.

The annual state FHA meeting was held in Topeka on March 12, and the delegates from ICC were Margaret Tucker, Rosalee Rundell, Deanna Sainer and Karen Moser.

They sponsored an FHA week from April 3-9 and had a parent supper. The group went to church in a body also. Cookies for the spring prom were made by the girls in future homemaking.

Bulldogs Win SEK League Undefeated for 3 Seasons

Head coach Emmot and his assistant Richardson go over some of the new plays they are preparing to teach the squad.

UNPRECEDENTED BULLDOG RECORD

The 1959-60 rangy and talented Bulldog crew moved to a new school record with its third undefeated and untied football season in a row. With several SEK teams having their strongest teams in several years, the school is extremely proud of their third consecutive championship and twenty-four game winning streak. Several games were played in inclement weather, but the Bulldogs were able to master this problem as well as their opponents. Even though Ft. Scott provided the toughest opposition during the season, the Bulldog victory over ancient-foe Coffeyville was the crowning achievement for the team.

Coffeyville passed their way to a 7-0 lead in the first quarter, but the Bulldogs thoroughly outplayed them the rest of the game and left the field with a 12-7 win. An experienced backfield of David Sicks, Dick Rumfelt, Bill Randolph, and Tommy Jones parlayed with newcomers Ted Holley and Johnny Sanders gave the Bulldogs the size, speed, and power it needed to ramble through eight opponents. The line, led by pass-catching specialists Pete Pierce and J. R. McIntosh, expert blockers Bill Reynolds, Tom Carter, Jerry Rumfelt, Mike Silger and Fred Russell, and defensive specialists Milton Faust, Mossie Agosto, and Wayne Burnett, had too much finesse, initiative and courage for the opponents forward walls. Several other team members turned in such creditable performances that loyal team supporters are anxiously awaiting the next school term. Of course, much credit for the fine manner in which the Bulldogs play must be given to the two coaches, "Kayo" Emmot and Ned Richardson. There is no doubt that here on our coaching staff at ICC we have the greatest coaches in the state!!

Muscles Strain as Pirates Fight

Al Cerne
Head Coach

The 1959 Pirates wasted little time in establishing themselves as the finest squad to represent I.C.C. In the opening conference game at Garden City, the Pirates outclassed the Broncs to take an easy 35-13 victory. The next three games were no contest as the high-geared Pirates rolled for 106 points while holding their opponents to 13.

Going into the traditional rivalry game at Coffeyville with the Red Ravens, the Pirates were, for the first time in the history of the school, rated the No. 1 team in the Northern Division of the United States by the NJCAA. It was, at this time, the Pirates absorbed their first loss of the season.

Bouncing back like the Champions they were, the Pirates trounced the Ft. Scott Greyhounds 74-0 and gained National recognition by way of the Associated Press for shortening the last two quarters 12 minutes to hold down the score.

The Pirates finished in second place in the Conference by downing Ark City and Dodge City in the final two games.

Swashbuckling, High-Flying Pirates

The Independence Pirates opened their 1959-60 basketball campaign with only one starter back from the team that had opened the previous season, which had been the most illustrious in the school's history.

However, with a total of eight lettermen in the ranks along with some tall and talented freshmen, Coach Bob Sneller's swashbuckling Buccaneers immediately set out to take up where they had left off on their previous marks.

The Pirates opened their season with a sparkling 79-62 victory over the defending national runner-up, the Mankato, Minnesota, Vikings. Such Powerhouses as Pratt, Ark City, Parsons, and Coffeyville fell before the Buc assault as ICC raced to a 9-0 record, including the Iola holiday tourney crown.

The first loss was suffered at Wichita University to the freshman team there, but Indy bounced back to stampede to 12 more wins in a row for a scintillating 21-1 record that earned the Pirates national recognition.

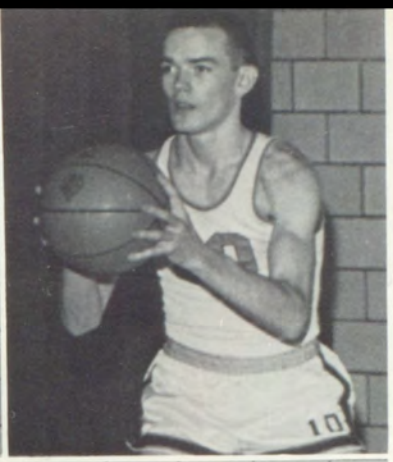

The Pirates then were toppled at Parsons, which earned the Bucs a co-championship with the high-jumping Cardinals. In the playoff game, the Cards erased an 18-10 half-time deficit and went on to a 41-39 thrilling win on a last second shot. The weary Pirates then dropped their finale at Hutchingson to finish the season with a 21-4 record.

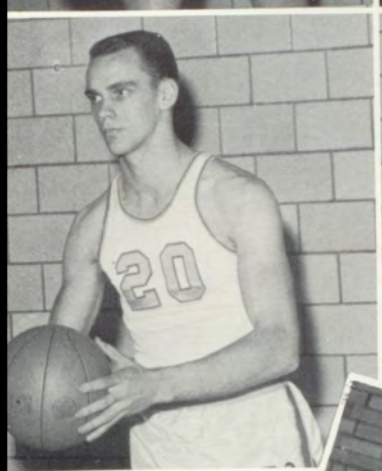

Eight sophomores, spearheaded by all-stars Tom Russell and Harry Stephenson, along with Bob Rumfelt, Tom Hallacy, Easy Ed Starnes, Sheldon Bergstrom, Frank Grasso, and Gary Knackstedt, ended their Pirate cage careers after having helped to write the most illustrious chapter in ICC basketball history. Under Coach Bob Sneller, they have won conference, State, regional, and national honors as freshmen. As sophs, along with such freshmen as Jim Hill, Joe Beverly, Bill Clark, Bill Thompson, Steve Brown, Larry Miller and others, the 1959-60 Pirates were again conference co-champs and became the first Pirate team in history to be rated the No. 1 team in the nation over the regular season.

Coach Bob Sneller, commenting on the loss of eight sophs off his first ten, said "We will all miss these fine players. My only hope is that they will be as successful in their lives from now on as they have been as Pirate basketball players. I hope that they have learned some things and taken some memories with them that will help wherever they might go."

Thus, the book closed on another thrilling Pirate basketball year. There were many thrills, plenty of enthusiasm, and some heartaches. Next year, new faces will replace the old and the old familiar chant of "Go, Pirates, Go!" will again echo through the arenas.
