IHS Boasts Its Share Of Civic Pride, Spirit And Talent

Right: Lori Stelting and Janelle White dress in the fashionable colors, black and orange, during the Neewollah festivities.

Behold your smiling faces. You are young! You are free! You are proud! Life stands before you as a granite mountain daring to be conquered and you, being what you are, smirk at the thought of such a simple challenge. Take a look. Can you not see the enthusiasm expressed by the gleam in someone's eye, the smile on someone's lips, the look on someone's face? Such emotion's very nature compels it to be spread from one person to another. Search these pages, examine the people, and you shall find that in each one, there exists a zeal for life. And it is this zeal that makes life itself worth living.

Yesterday Once More

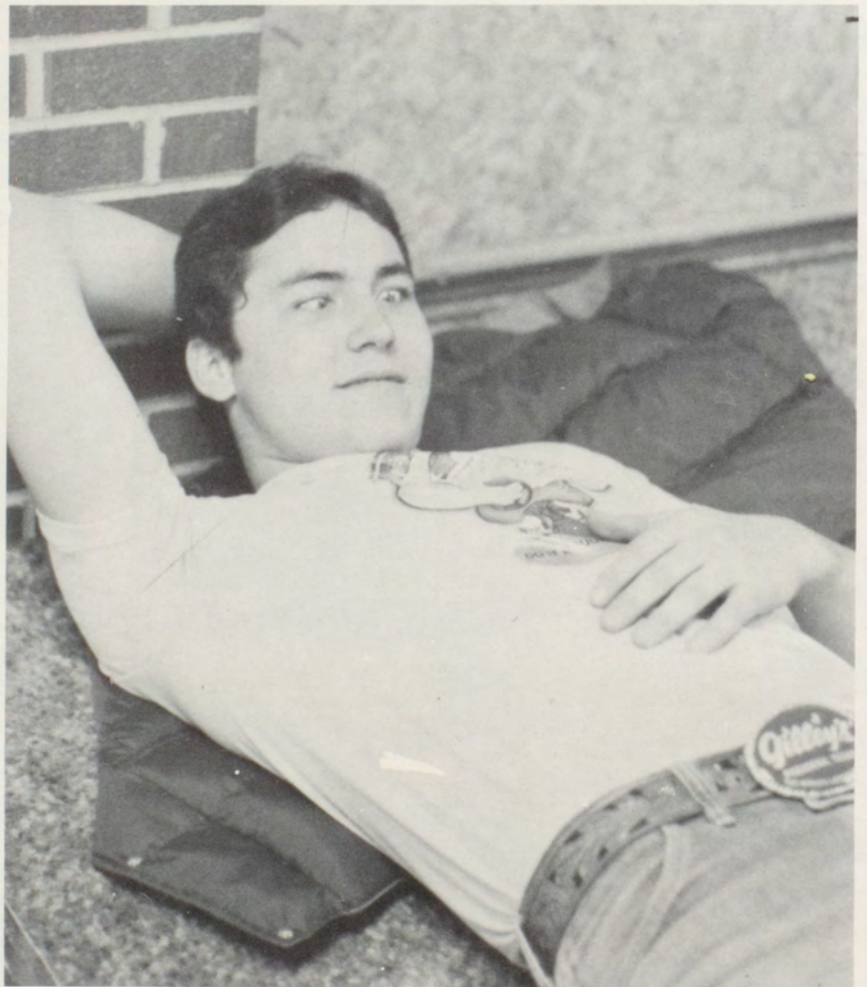

Remember when:

... Rusty Sharer and Bruce Bell were serious in biology class.

... John Lind got tongue-tied speaking French with Gloria Shire.

... Scott King unwound in the foyer.

“Sail On” Provides Theme

The junior class worked hard to make this years prom something unique. The dance was held on May second at the Civic Center, which was decorated with fish nets, oars, paper fish, and seaweed to fit the sail on theme. The prom committee consisted of Lauri Farless, Twila Scott, Lisa Hull, Traci Briggs, Janelle White and Randal Hernandez.

With only 10 returning Seniors, the IHS Bulldogs were in a rebuilding season. This was evident as they wound up at a 2-7 mark. The Tindle Award was given to Brian Schuler. This year's Bulldog Award went to Mark Root. Making the All-State and SEK teams was Chip Schuler. Several Bulldogs made Honorable. Mention All-SEK, including Robert Dunham, Brian Schuler, Doug Harlin, and Jeff Jones.

Sarah Reigns As Football Queen

Sarah Scovel proudly reigns as the 1980-81 Football Queen. Her attendants were Traci Cook, Jamie Taylor, Rhonda Schlatter and Betsy Danke. Escorts for the event were Scott King (not pictured), Jimmy Miller, Phil Near, Mark Root and Curt Horning. Serving as flower girl and crown bearer were Lori Hendrix and Lee Horning. The announcer for the ceremony was James Teats.

Betsy And Traci Co-Reign As Winter Sports Queen

For the first time in I.H.S. history there was a tie for the Winter Sports Queen. Sharing this honor were Traci Cook and Betsy Daneke. Their trio of attendants was Kyrie Debo, Yvette Carvalho and Rhonda Schlatter. Acting as escorts to the queens and their court were Mike Moore, James Teats, Eddie Mason, Alan Borovetz and Phil Near; (not pictured). The flower girl and crown barer were Amy Spencer and Darik Salem. Announcers were Beth Maxwell and Curt Horning.

Janelle Banz, Rhonda Schlatter and Lauri Henisey sing the "Big Mac Song".

Big Mac Song (in part)
 Our team is super great
 at really fighting back
 When we get in a slump
 we have a Mac Attack
 Big Mac, Funky, Funky Mac
 She must get her thrills
 When we do the shuffle drills
 Big Mac, Funky, Funky Mac
 Our team is in good shape
 We really have no lack
 And we never ever will
 Unless we lose our special Mac
 Big Mac, Funky, Funky Mac
 She must get her thrills
 And we hope she always will
 Big Mac . . . We love her so!

The IHS volleyball team had a highly successful year. They compiled a 22-8 record for the campaign. They captured 1st place in the Eureka Round Robin and Post-Tournament affairs. They won 2nd place at the Garnett and Southeast Invitationals. In addition, they finished 3rd at the Chanute Invitational.

R. Schlatter, C. Speer and L. Daniels agonize over a lost point.

Roxy Schlatter goes up for a spike.

'Dogs Shoot For The Top

The 1980-81 season was an up and down one for Coach Jerry Hart and his charges. Although they finished with a disappointing 8 wins and 12 losses, there were a few bright spots.

Senior Mike Moore received All-SEK accolades. Alan Borovetz and Charles Thomas, also seniors, were awarded All-SEK Honorable Mention status. In addition, the team placed seventh in the prestigious Interstate Classic at Coffeyville.

Assistant Coach Pete Peltzer and Head Coach Jerry Hart.

Charles Thomas(55) strains to tip the ball to Robin Boyle(53).

Managers Zach Webb, Tony Thomas, and Marty Harding relax in the equipment room.

Alan Borovetz(50) takes a breather as Jeff Jones(30) shoots a free throw.

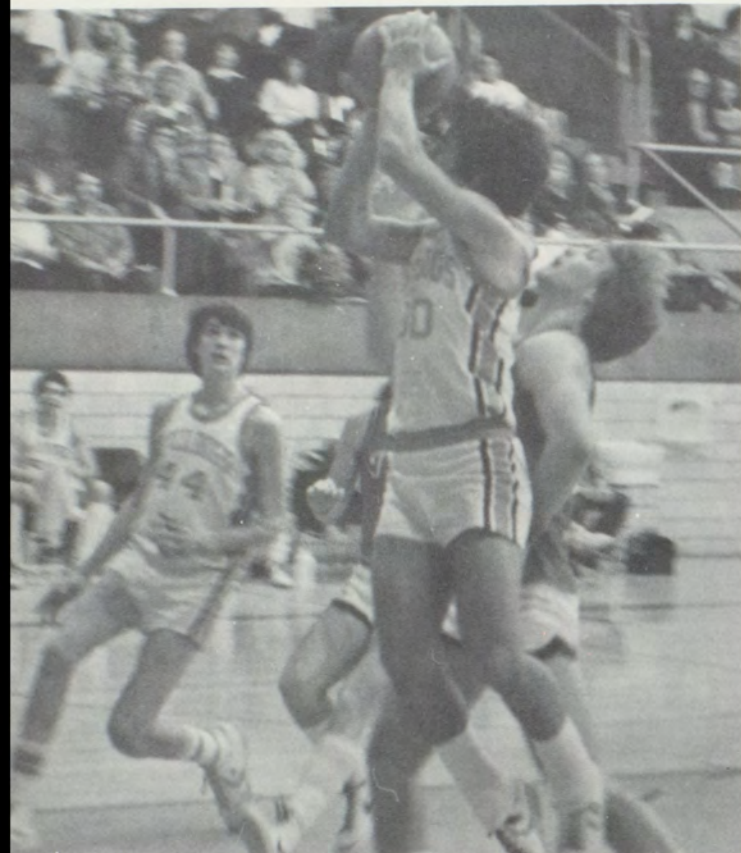

Bulldogs Phil Near, Mike Moore, Charles Thomas, Mark Hastings and Scott Leonard warm up before a game.

Cagers Strive For Perfection

Mike Moore (52), IHS senior, was awarded All-SEK League First Team Honors for his outstanding play this year.

Jeff Jones(30) puts up a shot as Mark Hastings(44) gets set for a rebound.

Left: Charles Thomas(55) was an important cog in the Bulldog machine. Above: Alan Borovetz(50) provided an outside shooting threat in addition to his defensive skills.

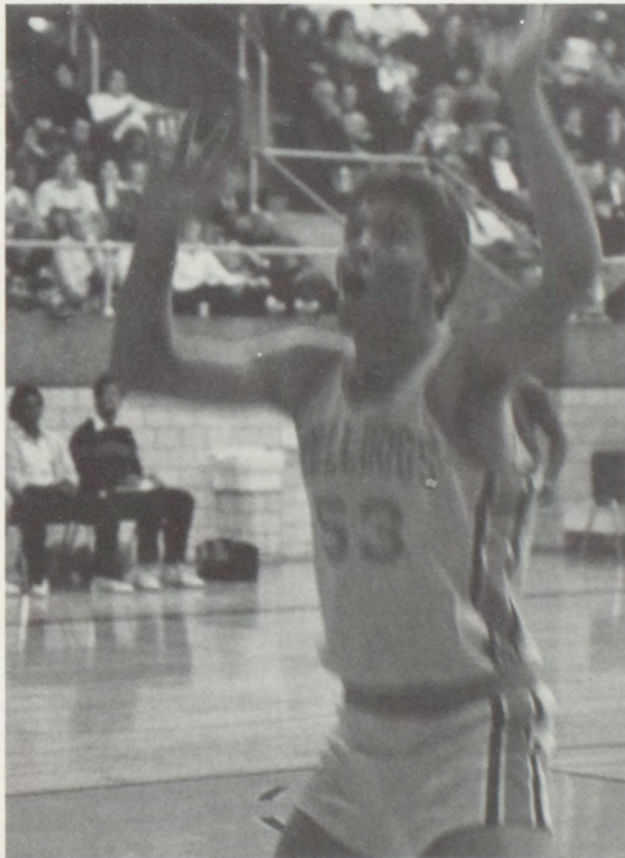

Jeff Jones (30) advances the ball down court as Robin Boyle (53) breaks into the open looking for a pass.

James Teats(51) looks on as Phil Near(54) attempts a free throw shot with one hand.

Robin Boyle(53) bolsters the 'Dogs defense.

Charles Thomas(55) muscles in for two points, while Mike Moore(52) prepares for a rebound.

Girls Basketball Goes To State Again

Lana Daniels tries to keep a grip on the ball as she drives to the basket.

The IHS girls basketball team reached the state play-offs for the fourth consecutive year. First year coach Penny Sobba's charges compiled an overall record of 12 wins, and 11 losses. After upsetting their way through the sub-state tourney, they went on to play highly ranked Emporia. Behind the offensive play of Rhonda Schlatter, the Bulldogs led after the first quarter. But the strength of Emporia eventually overcame this lead, and ended the season for IHS. With only one graduating senior, virtually the entire team, including standouts Roxy and Rhonda Schlatter, will be back next year.

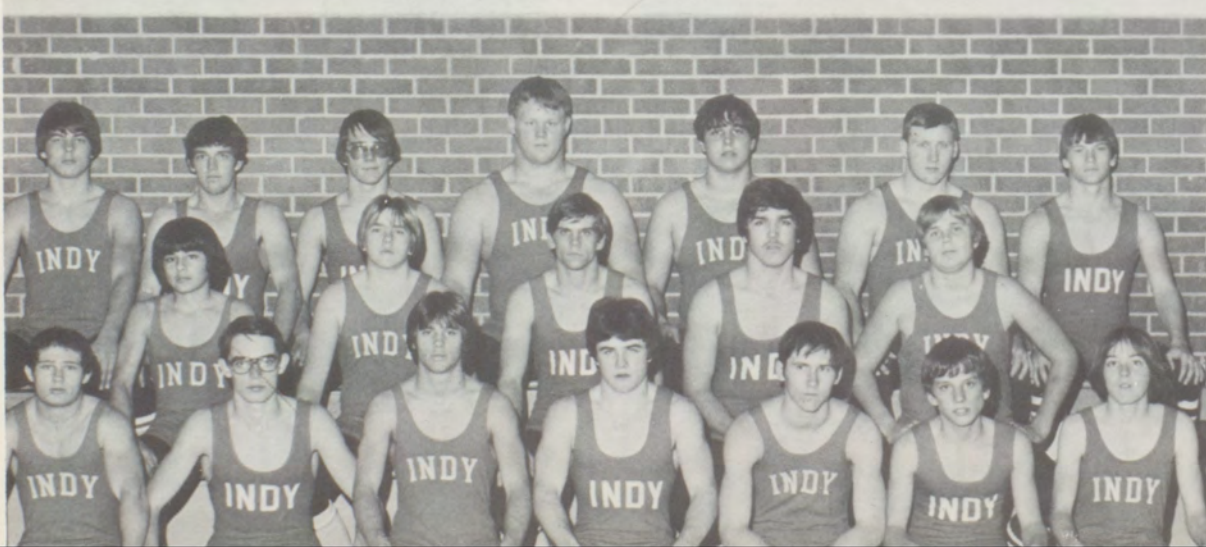

Wrestlers Place Eighth At State

The IHS matmen did very well this year. They finished eighth in the state meet, even though they had only four team members competing. Chip Schuler finished second, while brother Brian placed fourth. Mike Taylor garnered a fourth place award, and Ryon Knop competed, but did not place.

Right: The referee slaps the mat to signal a pin for Shawn Allen.

Cross Country Is Off And Running At IHS

In only its second year at IHS, the cross country team did exceptionally well. They placed two members in the SEK meet. Doug Crawshaw finished third in the boys division, and Nancy Babb placed fifth in the girls division.

Girls Tennis Team Smashes Win Record

Varsity team members are Laurie Farless, Lauri Thomison, Teresa Ferguson, Betsy Daneke, Traci Cook, Shelley Boyle.

Senior Traci Cook was one of five Bulldogs who participated in the State Tournament.

Betsy Daneke rejects the offering of her opponent.

The IHS women's tennis team had a very fruitful year. They topped the school record for most consecutive victories for a varsity team, with 57 dual wins in a row. In addition, they sent five players to the State Tourney. Lauri Thomison and Laurie Farless took third in the doubles bracket. Also representing IHS were Traci Cook, Betsy Daneke, and Shelley Boyle.

Shelley Boyle keeps on her toes as she strives to vanquish another adversary.

Betsy Daneke gets into the swing of things as she sweeps aside the challenge of another opponent.

Traci Cook lurks at the net, ready to pounce upon an unsuspecting tennis ball.

Girls Golf Goes To State

IHS was once again a powerhouse in girls golf. They placed fourth at regionals. In addition, Janelle White competed in the state tournament for IHS.

Alicia Long goes for the green with an iron shot.

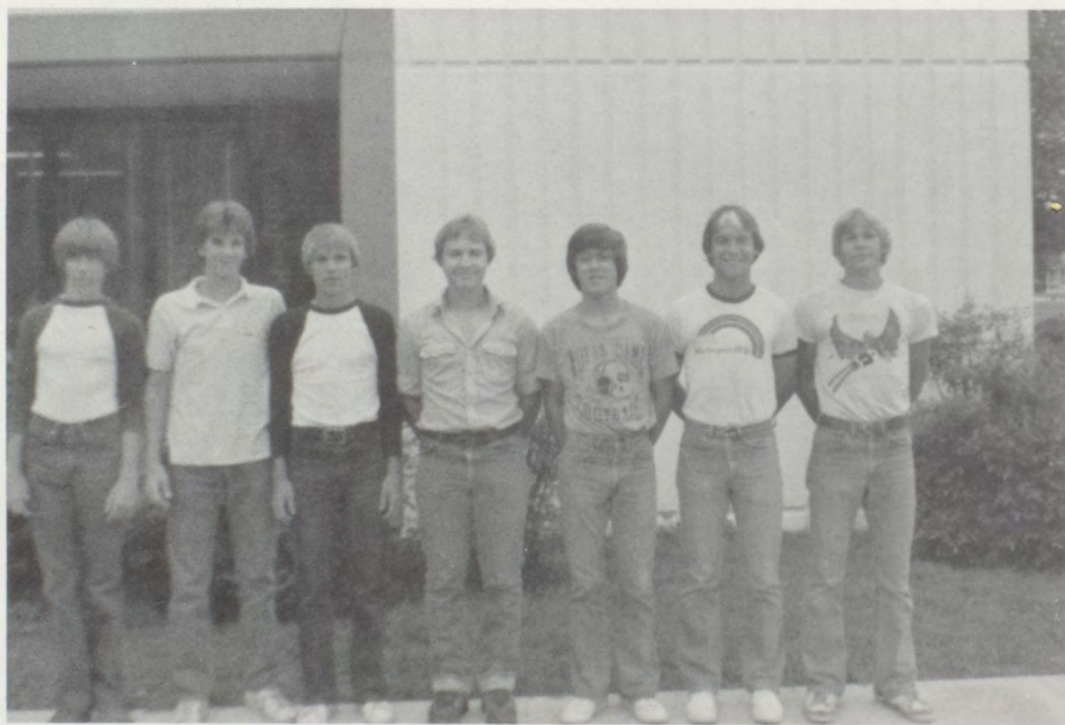

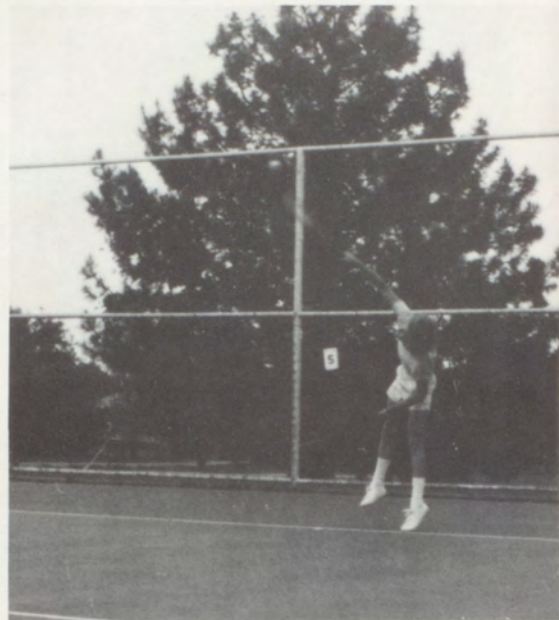

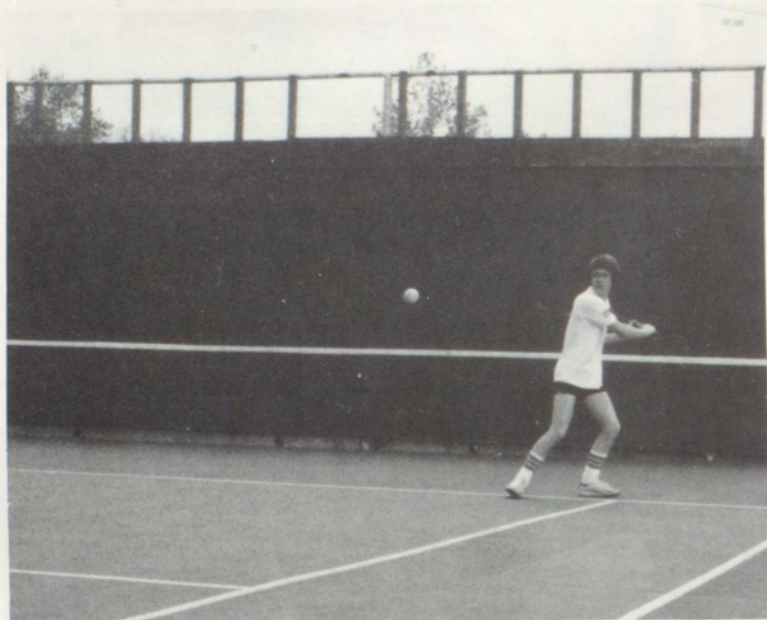

Sonia Rose displays the proper follow through for an accurate shot.

Liz Berberick concentrates on sinking her putt.

Boys Tennis Has Smashing Season

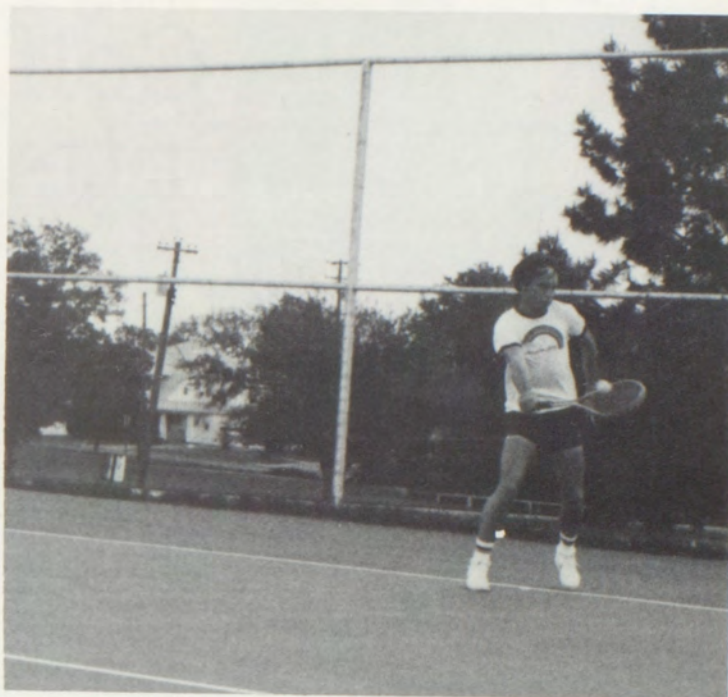

Leonard Barton (below left) and Randy Payne (below right) teamed up to form one of the most formidable doubles teams in the state. Barton and Payne are both juniors.

Team members were: Curt Freeman, Scott Leonard, Randy Payne, Tracy Latham, Leonard Barton, Keith Stone, Mike Linn. Not pictured is Randy Carr.

Junior transfer Keith Stone provided a big lift to the team, playing the number one position all year long.

Senior Mike Linn teamed with Randy Carr to claim second place at the regional tournament in doubles.

The IHS men's tennis team continued the success it has enjoyed over the past few years this year. In addition to once again winning the SEK title, they advanced all six players to the state tourney. At the state meet, the doubles team of Barton and Payne placed fourth. Also participating were Mike Linn, Randy Carr, Keith Stone, and Curt Freeman.

IHS Golf Team Putts For Perfection

Brad McKinney, IHS junior, displays extreme confidence and concentration as he swings at the ball.

Danny Walters, the only senior on this years team, was called on for leadership in addition to his golfing abilities.

The IHS golf team had a fine season. Despite low finishes, they displayed character all year long. Only Danny Walters will not be back next year.

Mike Coffey, IHS junior golfer, practices his swing on the IHS campus.

Girls Track Sprints For The Top

Andrea Shelton, Jaci Kawulok, Susan Renfro, Chris Harvey, Shelley Hemminger, Becky Coker, Peggy Quinn, April Winton, Teresa Bennett, Lori Reeves, LaDonna Hadley, Toni Meade, and Lana Daniels.

The IHS women's track team was small in number, but large in success. They advanced two members to the state meet. Coaches for the track squads were: Head Coach Thornton Shelton, Bill Singleton, Lea Shepard, and Charles Gann.

Volunteers helped make the Frank Sicks Invitational a big success.

Jeff Thomason easily soars over the pole vault bar.

The IHS men's track team had an outstanding year, sending seven members to the state meet. For the third consecutive year, Danny Williams captured first place in the 100 meters. On the basis of his performance, he was one of about 100 seniors nationally to be invited to the Golden West Invitational in San Francisco.

Rochelle Jones leans for the tape, as he strives to edge out his opponent.

IHS Is A Cornucopia Of Sports

Sean Lovett scores two points against an opponent.

Jeff Jones (30) watches as Alan Borovetz (50) shoots a free throw.

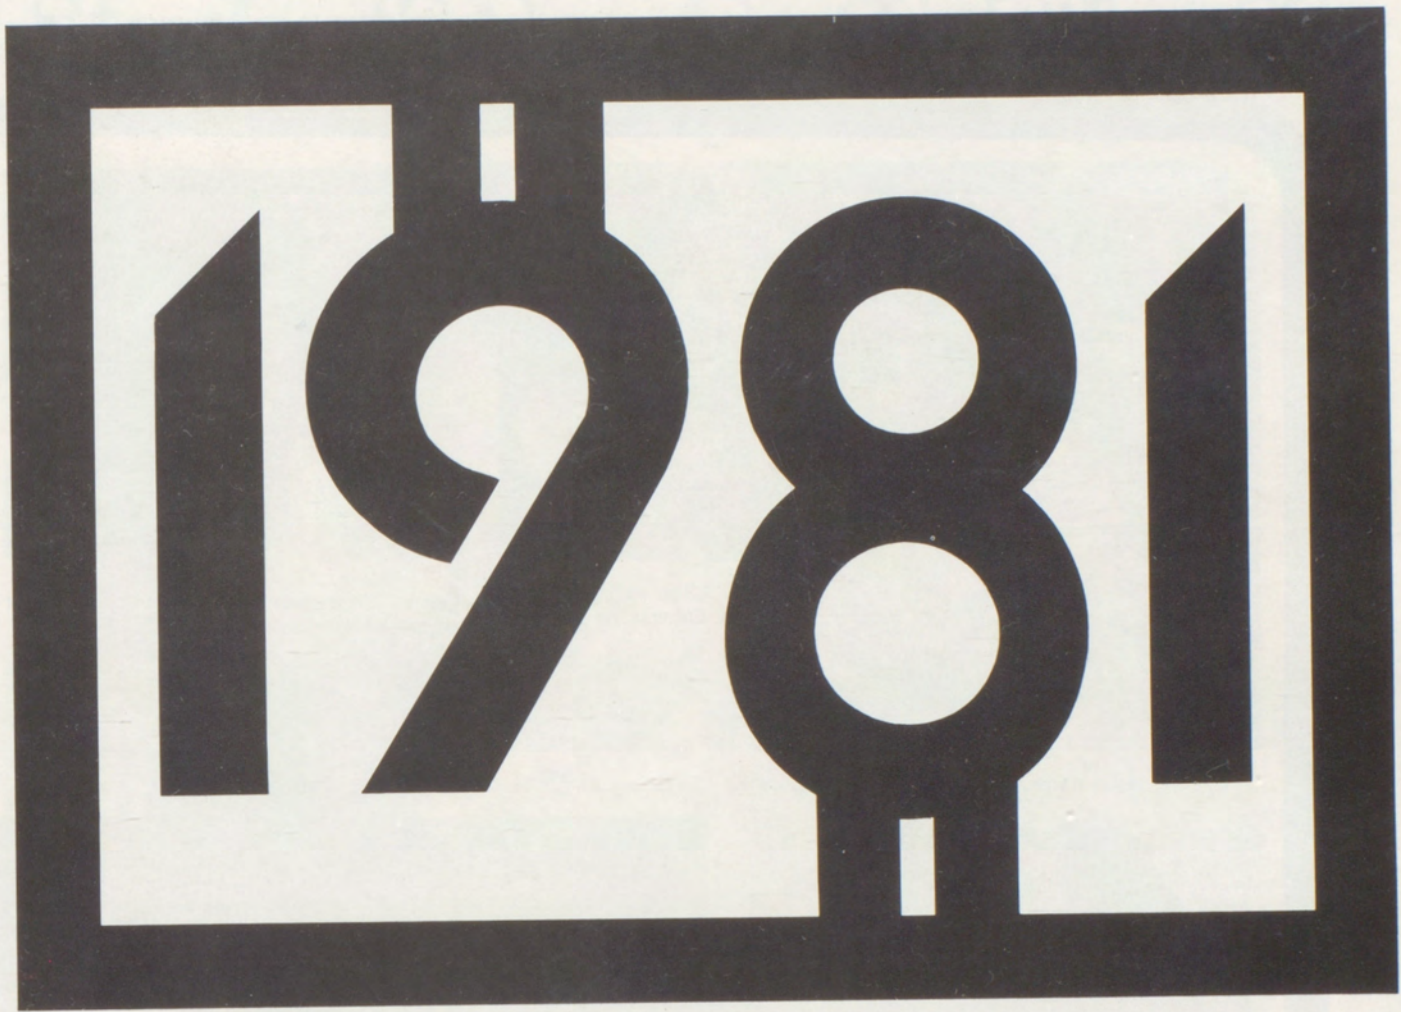

Roxy Schlatter shows her imitation of a midget basketball player.

Curt Horning becomes another casualty of the wrestling wars.

Gina Moya and Terry Stamps promote a new sport at IHS: Arm Wrestling Challenge of the Sexes.

ACADEMICS

English Prepares Students

Shawn Allen enjoys Junior English. Or was he enjoying a nap?

Teresa Schreiber seems to be enjoying whatever she is listening to.

Everyone seems busy-Yvette Carvalho day dreaming, Shawn Allen looking around, Daniel Clarkson, Doug Crawshaw, and Darin Locke studying as usual.

The Language Arts Department worked toward preparing students for college or work by improving their language skills. Not only was emphasis put on grammar and literature, but also on getting students prepared for the future by reading various kinds of literature and teaching writing skills. Many interesting classes were featured such as Informal Speech, Dramatics, Debate, Forensics, Words I & II, Creative Writing, Critique, Science fiction, Myths, Bible Literature, and Research Tech.

Students See Exotic Places

Jane Jones and Lori Reeves study diligently in Gloria Shires' sixth hour French class.

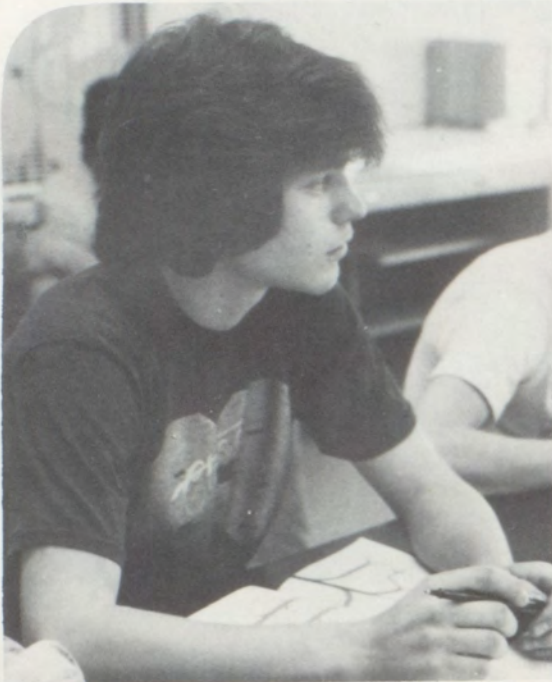

Tony Meyer is being fed taco chips while Belinda Smith watches, fascinated.

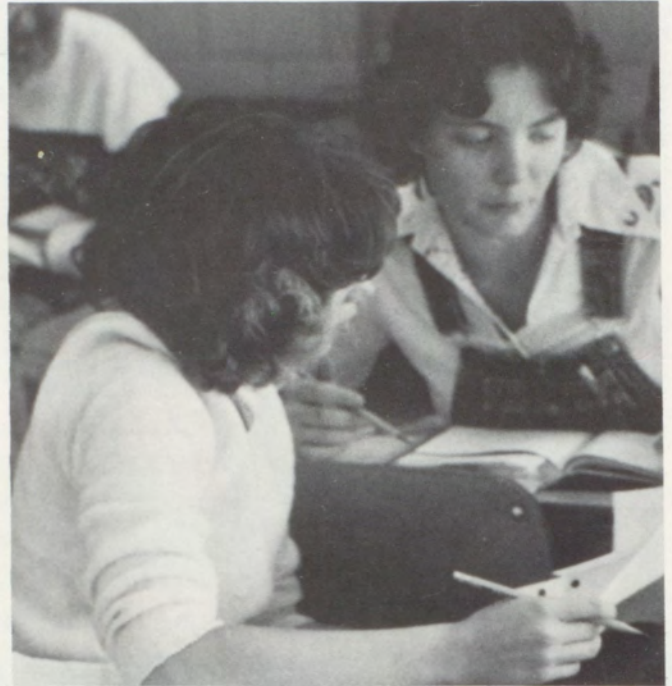

Kim Potts and Roger Housel are listening intently. French must be very difficult.

Foreign language students kept busy this year. Spanish, Latin, and French were taught at IHS, Spanish students had the opportunity to go to Mexico during spring break. The trip included visits to Acapulco, Taxco and Mexico City. This learning experience was enjoyed by all who attended.

It All Adds Up

Terry Chaput listens carefully as he learns about plants.

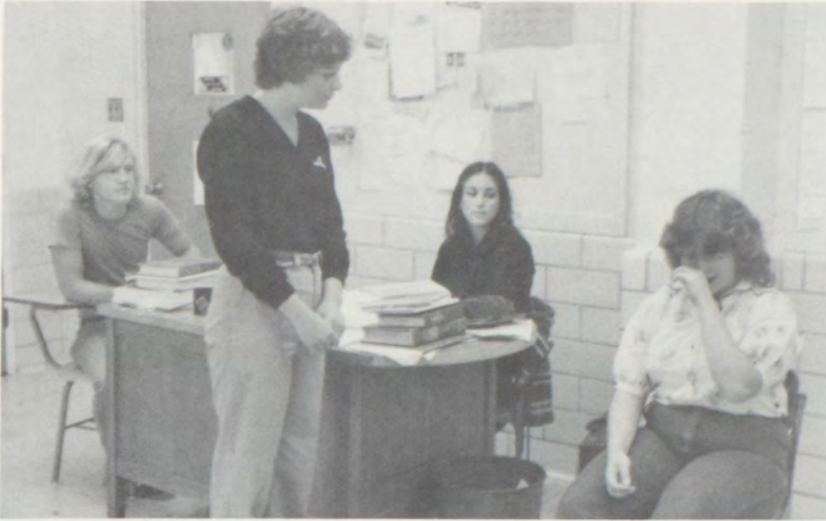

Tina Winebrenner and Susan Courtney collaborate on a tough math problem.

Donna Johnson, Gina Moya, and Crystal Goad study dilligently in chemistry.

The math and science departments worked on various projects all through the year. Both departments made good use of the two TRS-80 computers owned by the school. Almost everyone got a chance to learn to use them. The biology classes did some fun experiments such as dissecting frogs and learning a lot about all kinds of plants and animals.

Students Learn Citizenship

Jeryl Tribble, Kim Potts and Romy Hafner are conducting a trial to decide the innocence or guilt of Chris Cathcart.

Wayne Burnett seems less than thrilled to be in class. Maybe his leg hurts.

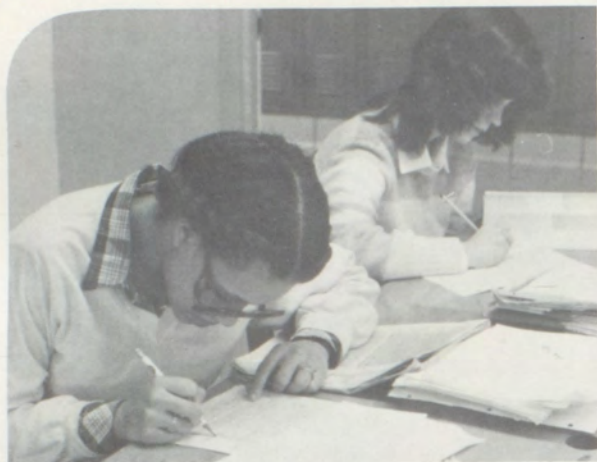

Clifford Thompson is registering to vote in the mock election.

The Social Science Department was very busy this year. A mock election was held prior to the Presidential Election in November. Students in the American History classes held "trials" in order to learn how our judicial system works. The Criminal Law class attended a trial at the Montgomery County Court House. These and many other activities kept students involved, busy, and out of trouble.

HERE COME THE JUDGE

Scholars Acquire Skills

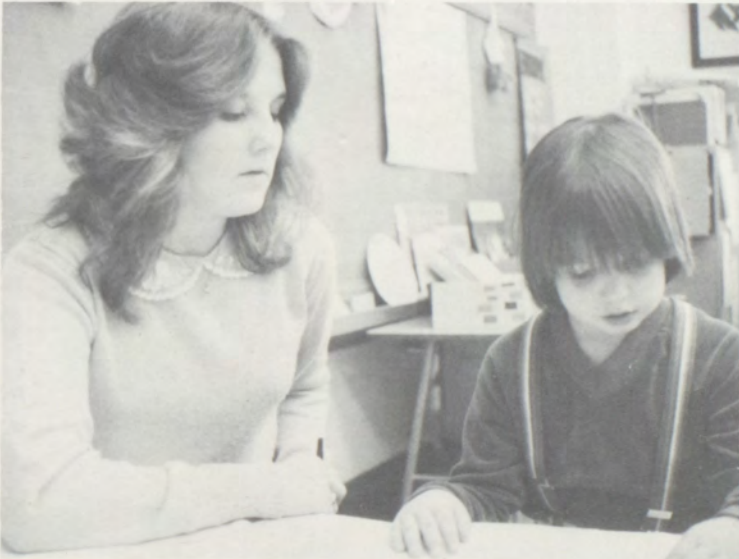

Top Left: Marlene Kinnard and Linda Foster prepare income tax returns in Larry Maskus' recordkeeping class. Top Right: Linda Lane gets ready to type a paper in typing class. Bottom Right: Debbie Cox and Cherie Speer talk together about their shorthand assignment. Bottom Left: Allen Jabben completes a page in his recordkeeping workbook.

Students at IHS have the opportunity to acquire valuable skills by enrolling in classes in the business department. Students are offered such classes as typing, shorthand, business machines, recordkeeping, and accounting. Many of these classes may encourage the student to go into a business career.

Students Learn And Teach

Linda Terrill prepares to change the sign outside the First Baptist Church.

Community Volunteer is for students who wish to learn more about our community from actual experience. Students do various things such as tutor at the elementary schools, the junior high and the high school. Students may also be working in various business places in the community. The adviser for Community Volunteer is Larry Murdock.

Arts Stir Creativity

Fine arts covers many areas here at IHS. Choir, band, and the art classes keep students working at the things which develop their creativity. During the year, there were several music concerts and the art department had students' work on display quite often.

Tina Vineyard works with clay in Bill Trouskies' ceramics class.

In Tammy Schultz's case, the alternative to boredom seems to be suicide.

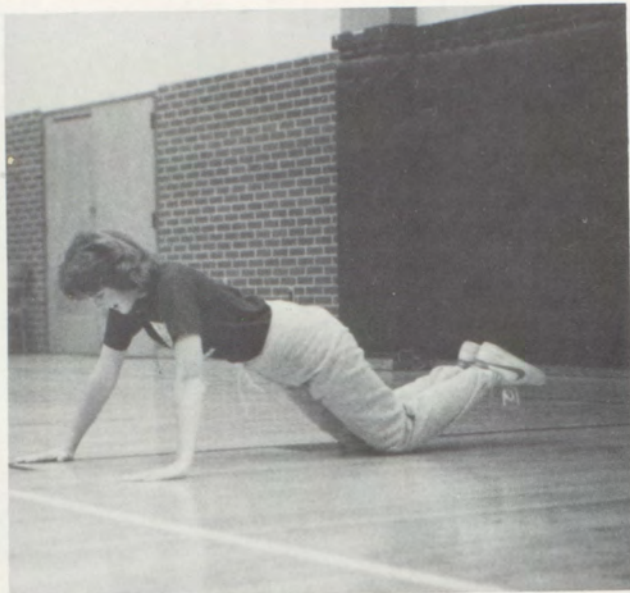

Cindy Isom gets ready to sew. Maybe she's making longer sleeves for her shirt.

The home economics classes did many projects this year. Students learned to cook, bake, sew, and run a home. For Thanksgiving, the classes fixed an entire dinner. Reports have it that it was delicious. Students in the 200 hall could smell yummy things cooking quite often.

Becky Daniel prepares to torture dieting classmates by making a chocolate cake.

Although the only people pictured here are females, IHS does have male Physical Education students. The classes are designed to teach students games, rules, and techniques as well as sportsmanship and teamwork. Physical fitness of the students is stressed as well. Activities include calisthenics, weight lifting, archery, and games such as basketball and volleyball.

Kids Learn Useful Skills

The Special Education class, taught by Mrs. Dorothy Rockers, did many projects this year. They received six tool kits from the Regional Resource Center at Greensburg which they got through Tri-County. These sets were designed to acquaint the students with the tools of their community. They included Wood and Metal Construction, Food Service, Medical Service, Small Engines and Barber and Cosmetic kits.

Darrell Simmons tried his hand with the metal construction tools.

Romal Kinnard discusses the days lessons with Mrs. Ulery.

Students Learn By Doing

Bert Quisenberry is opaquing a negative in Charles Belts' printing class. This will keep small spots from showing on printed materials.

Chip Schuler tries to even up the ends of the boards before he cuts them.

The industrial arts department was very busy this year. Students learned such useful skills as drafting, welding and printing. They also learned how to use many different types of machines. Woodshop classes did many useful and interesting projects, including Toys for Tots at Christmas. Donated toys were repaired by the classes and given to needy children. Other special projects included a tour of Hackney by the welding classes and the printing classes printed all materials for area schools.

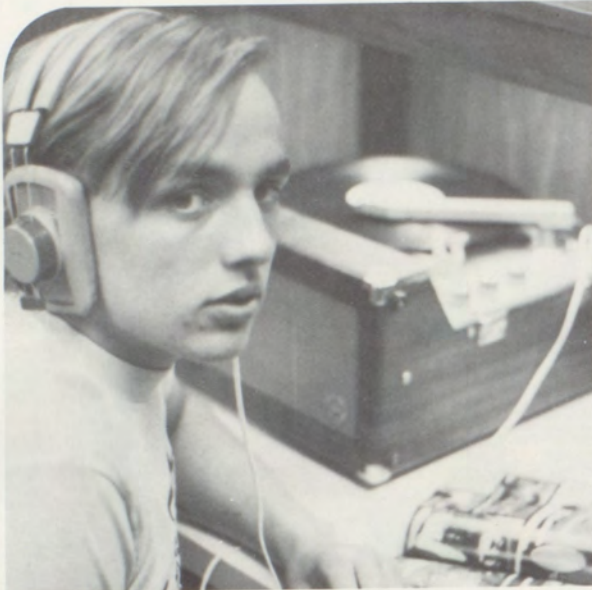

SEK Vo-Tech Teaches Trades

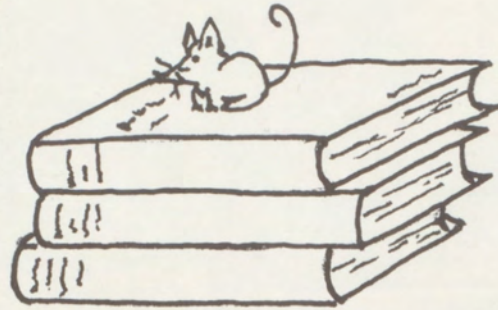

Top Left: Bricklaying students are David Darnell, Walter Lyon, and Brad Kendrick. Top Right: Machine Shop students are David Aeschliman, Kenneth High and Vincent McDiarmid. Not shown: Kelly Coy. Middle Left: IHS Welders are Randy Spears, Bill Hartpence, Rick White and Mark Spellman. Not shown: Larry Mattes, Greg Cummings. Bottom Left: Auto Mechanics students are Steve Lawson, Ronnie Howard, Doug Loomer, John Linn, Keith Prather, Morris Sutton, Scott Pendleton, Dan Townson, Belinda Smith and Darla Cleland. Not shown: John Edwards, Jeff Martens, Bobby Mills, Jerald Rinck, David Wilson and Kelly Wilson. Bottom Right: Alisa Long and David Taylor discuss such things as Drafting and Building Trades.

Thirty IHS Juniors and Seniors have figured out how to get a maximum of three classes and how to avoid the cafeteria crowd by getting out of school for lunch before anyone else. These intelligent students are those who go to the SEK Vo-Tech classes in Coffeyville every day. Classes included are Auto Mechanics, Bricklaying, Building Trades, Drafting, Machine Shop and Welding. The students are preparing for employment in their selected field.

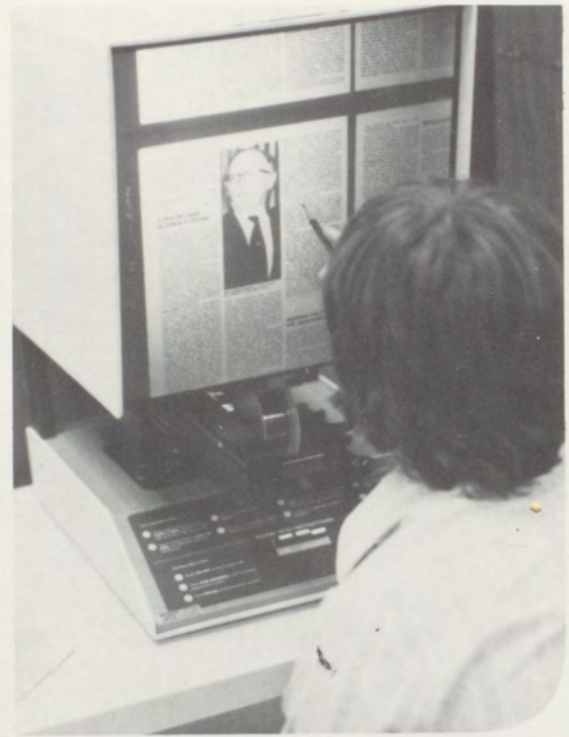

Library Serves IHS

Larry Mattes enjoys listening to a record and reading a magazine while sitting in the library.

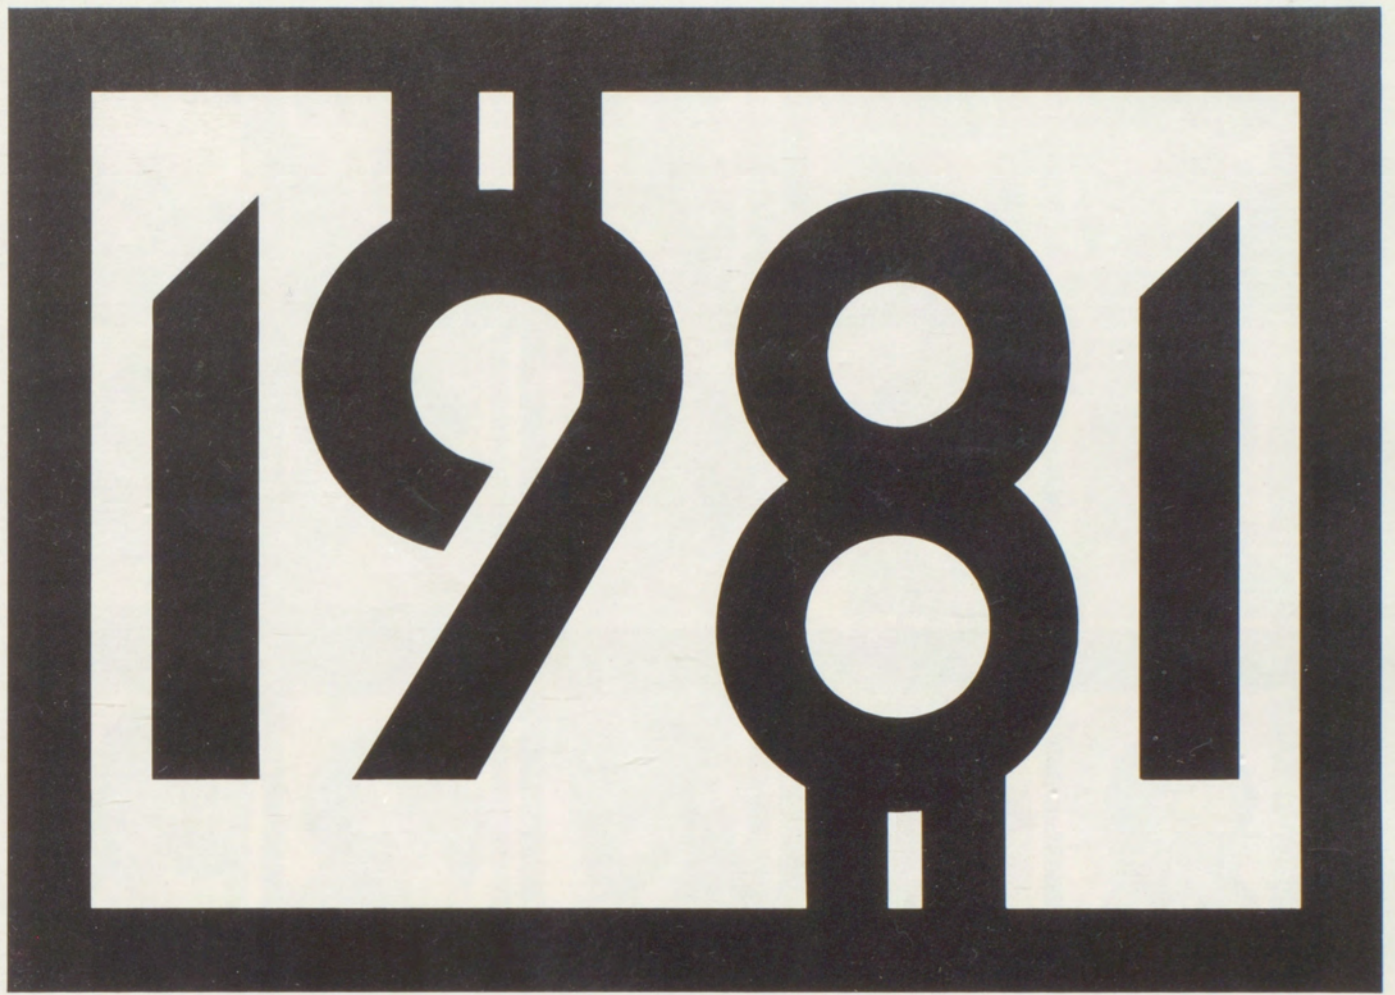

Can you believe that Randy Payne spent the entire hour reading one edition of the Tulsa World?

Mark Willard uses the microfilm projector to do research for a Research Techniques paper.

The IHS library, under the supervision of Shirley Slater served students and faculty all year by keeping books in order, making sure magazines were available for research or pleasure reading, keeping records available for use by students and acquiring other books from other libraries in the SEK area when necessary.

“Teachers Tell What They Would Be Doing If Not A Teacher.”

Judith Rutledge: Math. “I would have been an engineer or geologist.”

James Markle: Math and Science, “Farmer or a rancher.”

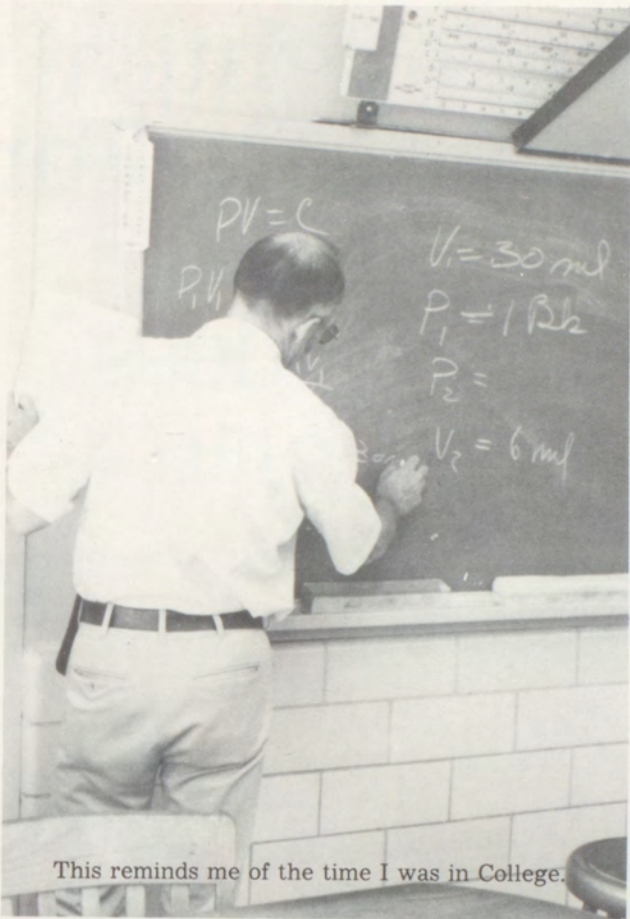

Lloyd Harding: Math and Science, “A rich contractor or an engineer.”

Juliana Wetter: Business. “I would probably be in a bank or working in an office somewhere.”

This reminds me of the time I was in College.

Charlie Gann: Math and Science; "Living a sane sensible, well ordered life as a research biologist."

Thorton Shelton: Math and Science; "I would have been a millionaire."

Don Farthing: Music. "I would have become a salesman or eventually owner of a large fruitcake company."

... then you take this imaginary number ...

Jodie Russell: Music and Drama.

Teachers Enlighten Students For The Business World

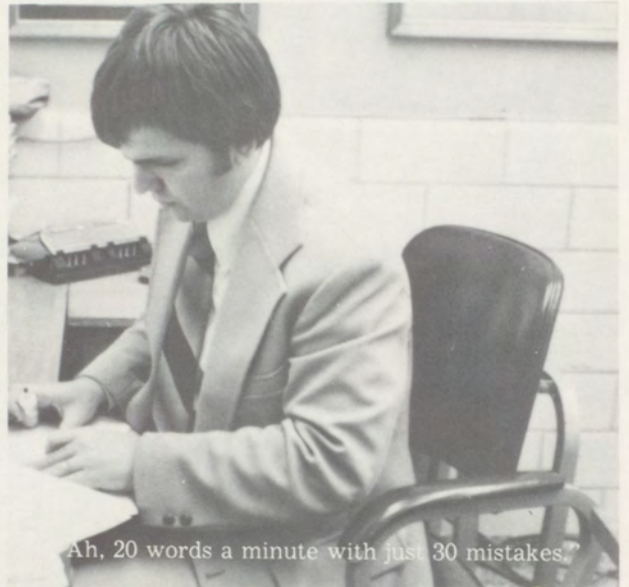

Carol King; Business Education. "I would have been an executive secretary or a commercial artist."

Peg Courtney; Home Economics. "I would probably still be selling energy conservation for KG&E."

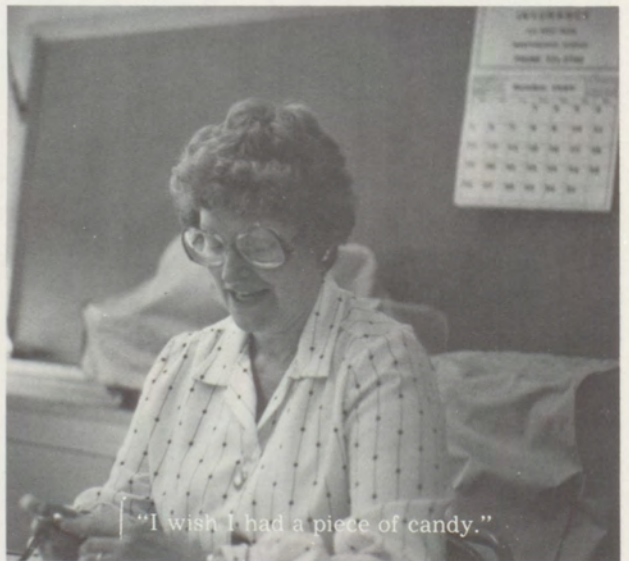

Larry Maskus; Business. "I would be working in some phase of accounting, but my original ambition was to be a professional baseball player."

"Ah, 20 words a minute with just 30 mistakes."

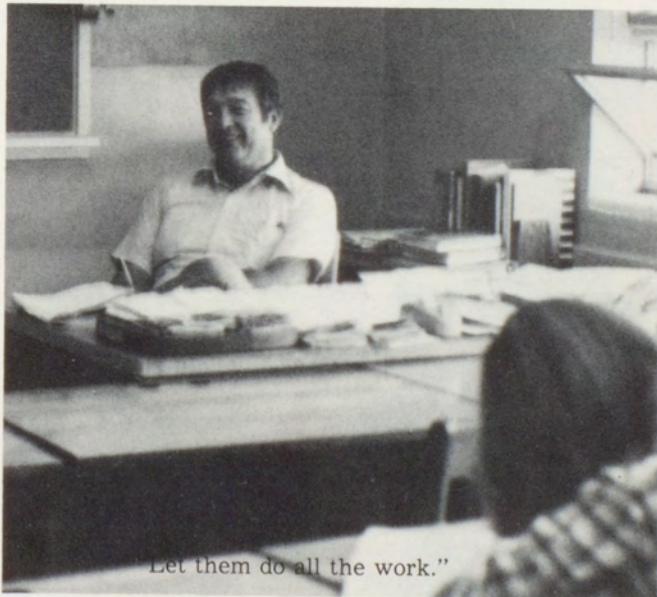

Jackie McKenzie; Developmental Reading. "At one time I had planned to become a dress designer, using my French first name of Perrine for the name of my dress line."

"I wish I had a piece of candy."

"If I've told you once I've told you"

"Let them do all the work."

Larry Murdock; Community Volunteer. "I would have been an accountant or administrative manager, restaurant management, or nursing home administration."

Shirlene Turner, Home Economics.

Dorothy Rockers, Special Education.

Louanne Marshall, Art.

Shirley Slater, Library.

Linda Spencer, English, "Nothing but teaching."

Counselors Help Student's Plan Their Future

We have two guidance counselors - Mr. Paul Fairbank and Mrs. Marolyn Hardy. They have worked hard to help all of the students. They love watching us kids get nervous while taking the Achievement, PSAT, ACT, National Math, and the ASVAB tests. They helped make us the tested generation.

Mrs. Payne is the counselors' secretary. She keeps them organized and in line.

STUCO Modifies The

1. Dave Torbitt supervises the Stuco. 2. Cheryl Eisenbart, Twyla Scott and Gina Moya work on their project. 3. Beth Maxwell works hard on one of the Sadie Hawkins days.

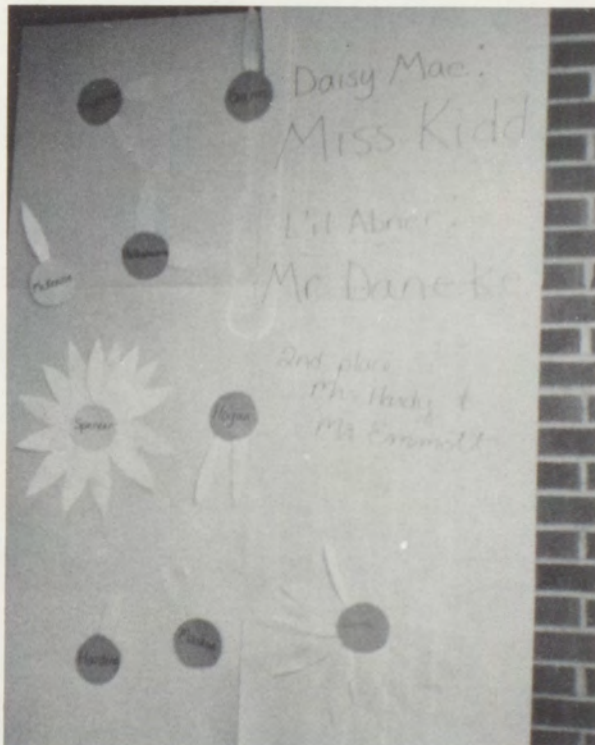

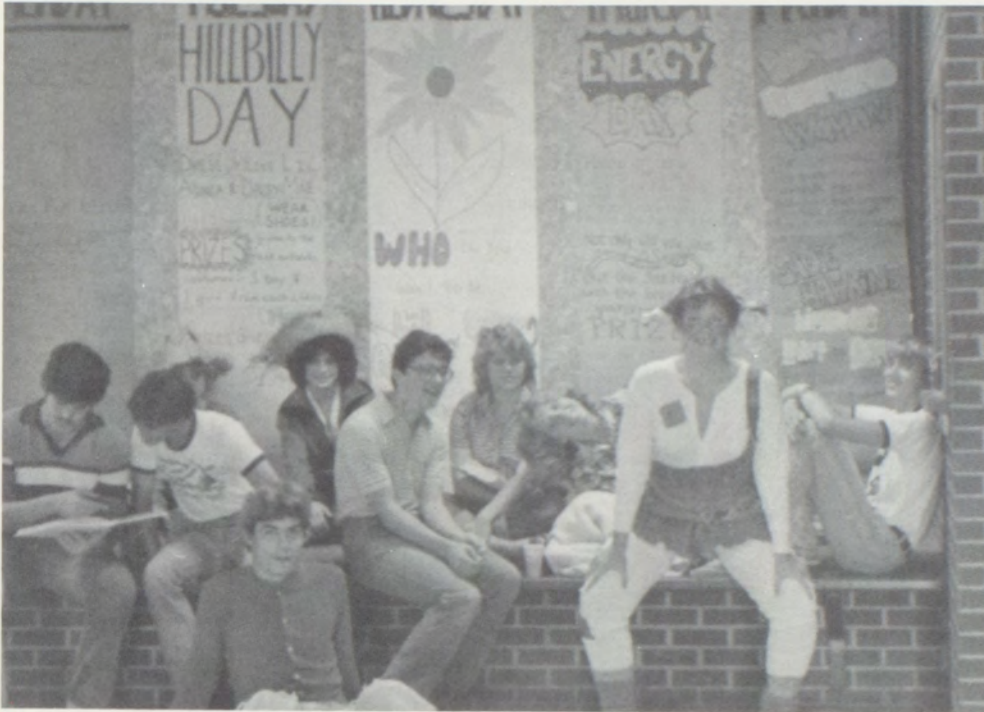

4. Betsy gets every one working for Sadie Hawkins Week. 5. Rhonda Schlatter — Vice-President; Traci Cook — Treasurer; Beth Maxwell — Secretary; Betsy Daneke — President of Stuco.

Student Body

The STUCO sponsored a Sadie Hawkins week. Monday was a picnic and a volleyball match. Tuesday was Hillbilly Day. Winners were the following: BOYS, Senior — Kevin Pankey; Junior — Joe Tucker; Sophomore — Graig Nickel. GIRLS, Senior — Alison Leach; Junior — Mary Robertson; Sophomore — Ann Rutledge. Wednesday was the day to buy a flower petal for a teacher. Thursday was Energy Day. Friday was Pick Your Right-Hand Woman Day, and the Necking Party was the night. The Outstanding STUCO member award was given to Gina Moya.

Cheerleaders Capture Grand Champs

Yes, once more the IHS Cheerleaders were victorious. In July the twelve girls went to the KU cheerleading camp and won Grand Champs. Jami Taylor was recommended for an ICF instructor. Along with cheering for all sports, the cheerleaders also do money making projects to buy some of their uniforms and extra items. This year they bought new jackets, vests, spirit gifts, and sent themselves to camp by washing windows at the drive-in, holding gun show concessions and selling sweaters, caps, scarves, and firecrackers. The squad did pom-pom routines for an ICC game at the Coffeyville Classic. Their final event was a performance at the State basketball tournament at Emporia. Mrs. Torbett will no longer sponsor due to Amanda Lee Torbett's arrival.

Cheerleaders are FRONT ROW: Leah Miller, Jill Singleton, April Winton, Michele Perry, Lauri Henisey, Lori Sterling, Janelle White, Yvette Carvalho, Jami Taylor, Head cheerleader; Beth Maxwell, Traci Cook, Crystal Goad.

The pepsters show the form that helped them win various ribbons, a spirit frisbee and the camp firecracker at KU.

April Winton displays the spirit that she and Michelle Perry were nominated for at camp.

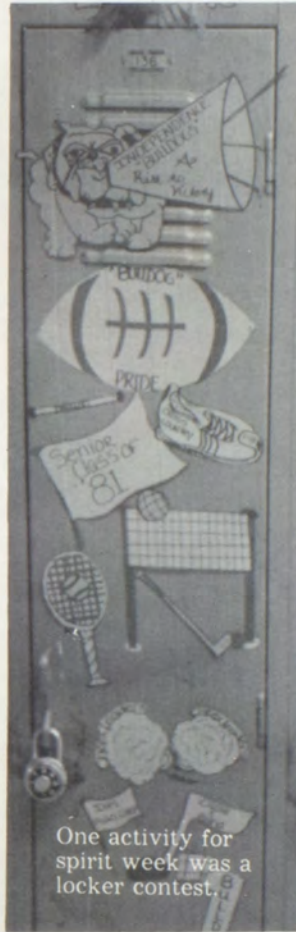

Spirit Board Sparks IHS

One activity for spirit week was a locker contest.

The spirit board had a hard time of keeping spirits up this year, but the hard working group managed well. They held pep rallies for football and basketball, sold T-shirts, made cookies, cakes, and any other kind of goodies you can imagine for all sports, held poster parties, held a spirit week, gave the coaches spirit sticks, and held a most spirited girl and most spirited boy contest. The winners were Bruce Williams and Gina Moya.

The girls come to the end of "Fight Song," only one of the routines they performed at State Basketball.

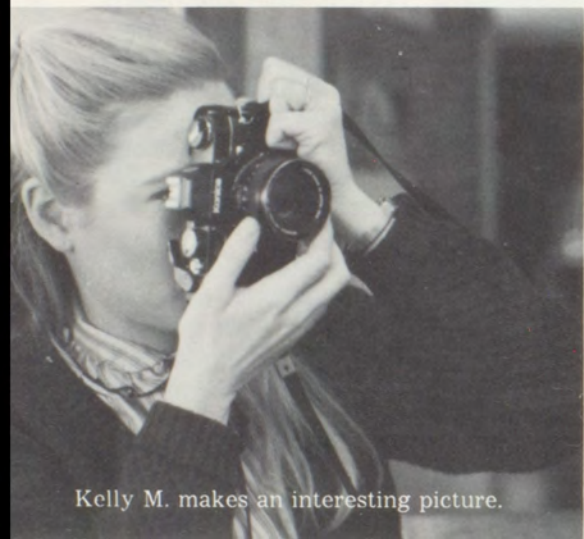

Kelly Muse catches the spirit at the stuco sponsored pop game.

The Yearbook Staff Records The Year

The yearbook this year was created by a very unique staff. It consisted of Teresa Gail Tattershall, Editor; Mark Willard, Assistant Editor and Sports; Kelly Henson, Business Manager; Mark Tarrant, Advertising; and Cenogenesis; Mike Mann, Faculty and Administration; Kelly Muse, Senior Portraits; Lori Stelling, Junior Portraits; Bruce Williams, Sophomore Portraits and Art; Lori Thornberry, Academics; and Gerald McDonald, First Semester Photographer. Pictures this year were taken by all members of the staff. The yearbook sponsor was Mrs. "Dingy" Baird.

Kayettes . . . Work Nonstop

Kayettes, headed by Miss Jayne and Miss Willis, kept on the go. By working nonstop the Kayettes seem to spread good cheer through many activities. They regularly had parties for and visited Tri County and Nursing homes, baked birthday cakes for teachers, held faculty breakfast, made red stockings for Christmas babies to be taken home from the hospital in, donated books to the library, and sent clothing to the veterans hospital. The girls not only had fun working on these projects, they also had many parties for themselves.

Spanish Club Goes To Mexico . . . El Clube Del Español Va A Mexico

The Spanish Club has been busy this year. They, and the French Club held their annual "Fiesta de Noël." The Students brought Mexican, French and Latin food for all to eat. Attending the festivities this year was a young Mexican, Oscar Castagne. This years highlight was a trip to Mexico City, Taxco, and Acapulco. The Spanish and French Clubs ran a concession stand during Neewollah and at basketball games to help fund the trip. So looking at all their activities for this year we can say as our Mexican brothers would say: ¡Nosotros hemos tenido un buen ano!

The Beat

The IHS Band suffered a temporary set back after receiving a disappointing IV at the WSU Marching Festival. Then the eighty-six member band came home more determined and spent more 7:30 to 9:00 early band practices on the field in preparation for the Neewollah Festival. Their reward for hard work was a II, an excellent rating.

Throughout the year the band kept very busy with money making projects such as selling popcorn and calendars. They also performed at various home football game halftimes and at many pep rallies and assemblies.

Far Left: Director Don Farthing takes time to look over "Introit and Celebration" before rehearsal. Below Left: Drum majors for the 1980-81 year are Kate Bross and Dwayne Hagan. Below: The Flag Corps received a superior rating at both the WSU and Neewollah Marching Festivals. They also won Grand Champion at Arkansas University last summer. They are Lynn Farthing, captain; Cindy Bracken, Jody Schlotman, Kelly Muse, captain; Beth Snyder, Kim Potts, Sonja Toomey, and Jane Jones. Right: Showing many fine performances this year were twirlers Terri Carr, Cherie Spear, captain; Belinda Smith, and Crystal Harvey.

Band Tours

The Concert Band got much practice at performing this year. Along with several home concerts they went to Pittsburgh where the group received a 1 rating. Many solos and ensembles also received superior marks. The band later toured and played for other schools on their way to the Worlds of Fun music festival. There the band received a 2. The last performance for the year was given at Graduation.

Science Club Visits Nation's Capitol

Washington, D.C. or Bust! That was Science Club's goal for the year. But organizing and executing such a trip is no small task. There were funds to be raised, travel arrangements to be established and tours to be correlated. Fortunately Science Club was blessed with a phenomenal sponsor: Lloyd Harding. With Mr. Harding masterminding the entire operation, things began to take shape. Money was raised from athletic events, bake sales and the club's main project, a Neewollah concession stand,

By Spring Break the members were ready to go. With a total of forty-two aboard the bus left at 8 a.m. on March 14 and arrived 27 hours later in Washington, D.C. The week that followed was filled with numerous tours, shows, and visitations. The group's itinerary included the Capitol building, the Supreme Court Building, the National Archives, Mount Vernon, Arlington Cemetery, the White House, the Library of Congress, the FBI building, the Smithsonian Institute, the Washington Monument, and the Lincoln and Jefferson Memorials. The club also received an invitation from Anatola, the Soviet Attache, to tour the Soviet Embassy. They consequently spent an afternoon on Soviet soil.

CLOCKWISE (Opposite Page Top): Rhonda Schlatter does her part to send the Bulldogs to first round State play. Teresa Schreiber and Alison Leach sing with joy at the end of a long school day. Gerald McDonald gives Teresa Schreiber a lift because her legs got tired. Creativity was taken a step too far when Lori Stelting was posed in front of the Men's Room. Jim Surface, however, seems to find it a humorous pose. Erin Turner practiced long hours in preparation for band concerts. Jeff Thomason creates a unique piece of pottery.

(Far left) Betsy Daneke, Valedictorian and receiver of the Kansas State High School Activities Association Citizenship Award, accepts her diploma. (Middle) Julie Allen, Salutatorian, thinks back on her parting words to her fellow classmates, "Each today is your own personal graduation . . . your private mark in time between the past and the future . . ." (Left) Arlen Briggs, second winner of the KSHSAA Citizenship Award, feels the excitement of the moment as James Arnwine shakes his hand. (Below far left) Phillip Fienen thinks about those miles of running when he returns to camp after graduation exercises are over. (Lower Middle) Peter Mah contemplates the shrinking number of diplomas as Linda Linn congratulates him. (Below) Mark Tarrant, Mark Willard and Gerald McDonald take one last time to hassel psychology instructor Wayne Landwehr.

High school graduation — one of those milestones in a person's life — came Sunday night, May 31, at the Memorial Hall for nearly two hundred seniors of the Class of '81. It was a day of excitement and adulation, pride and just a twinge of fear and anticipation, as each student shook hands on-stage and self-consciously changed his tassel, signaling the formal completion of twelve years of education.

Hall Of Fame Awards . . .

Walter "Kayo" Emmot was honored this year by his admittance to the KSHSAA Hall of Fame. On March 12 - 14 at Emporia, Mr. Emmot was honored and received a plaque for his coaching. Through his outstanding coaching efforts and the performance of the teams, the Bulldogs held a 49-game winning streak between 1957 and 1962. Mr. Emmot now teaches Current Events, American Government, and Criminal Law. The portrait pictured below was done by Louanne Marshall, the art teacher of IHS.
