Given the current political climate, the national debate policy is a hot button issue.

"Debate taught me to always look for the truth and to never take things at face value," said Ian O'Rourke (9). "I listen to the other side's topic and plans and think critically about what they claim."

"This year's debate season was a success in terms of trophies and growth. We brought home several trophies from large tournaments and our team gained skills and leadership abilities throughout the season. I could not have asked for a better group of students, " said Mrs. Connors, head debate coach.

The IHS Dance Team enjoyed a successful camp experience, which prepared them for success on the field and court as they entertained Bulldog fans. Their performances at halftime of home football and basketball games, as well as pep assemblies, always pumped up the crowd.

"This year was unique in so many ways," said Rene Stanley, dance team coach. "We had more All-American recipients than ever before but also ended basketball season with a team half the size of our original team. Various injuries and complications kept girls from participating the full year, but we pushed hard and finished strong. Coaching these girls frequently feels like I've been gifted a second family, and I enjoy watching them learn, grow, and perform."

2018/19 officers included Morgan Mavers, captain; Kylie Wilhelm, co-captain; Kaydn King, first lieutenant; and Addison Julian, second lieutenant.

Buildog dancers who earned All-American honors at camp were seniors Kylie Wilhelm, Addison Julian and Morgan Mavers, junior Kaydn King and freshman Brynn Bertie.

"Dance team helped to build my confidence in every way," said Kylie Wilhelm. "Stepping on the field or court in front of hundreds of people is very nerve wracking and truly helped to shape me into who I am today. I had the best four years on the team with the other two seniors and the best coach around and would not trade the memories for anything!"

Lady Bulldog basketball was back and forth throughout the year but never gave up ending their season 11–10. We had a good season for as inexperienced as we were. We had an excellent core group returning, and also had a talented group of young girls that that stepped in and played well while gaining valuable experience for the future of the program. We had out ups and downs but overall we did a good job of learning and getting better both as players and as young ladies. Our staff was very proud of these girls and are confident they will continue to grow and be successful in all they do." - Dale Reynolds, head coach

The Independence boys basketball team had a great 10-2 start to their season. The team captured first place at the Burlington Tournament, beating Caney in the championship.

"This was our fourth year playing this tournament, so coming away with the win felt good," said Marcus Lanning (head coach).

The team suffered six mid-season losses and knew it was important to finish strong at Sub-State. They beat lola in the first round Sub-State game, but then lost to Parsons in the championship.

"It was disappointing to Parsons again at Sub-State," said Aidan Brumley (12). "However, finishing with a winning season is a great memory for my senior year."

IHS ended its season with an overall record of 13-9. "I was pleased with the season and proud of my seniors and how they led our team," said Coach Lanning.

"The group of wrestlers really helped send this program in the right direction sending four guys to the State Wrestling Tournament," said Zack Camacho, head coach. One highlight was finishing second in the SEK as we continue working towards winning our first ever SEK title."

Ryan Bruce (12), wrestling at 160, finished his senior season at 24-20, after competing at State. "Ryan developed a style that worked for him. He put the hard work in this year, and it paid off," said Coach Camacho.

Vocal Music

IHS maintained its strong vocal music program with Concert Choir earning straight 1s at the Large Group Music Festival. Also earning 1s were soloists Ashantea Hayden (12), Emily Loomer (12), Maeson Bryant (11), Justin Turner (11) and Quint Skaggs (11).

The Ladies Choir and Mixed Chorus both received 2s at the festival. Keimara Jones (9), Katelyn Graham (10) and Chloe McDill (11) also earned 2s for their solos.

Per tradition, Indy Ensemble performed for local groups, especially during the Christmas and Valentine seasons, as well as sang the national anthem for all home basketball games. Their rendition of "Parting Blessing" closed graduation festivities and marked the final performance for the senior members.

Justin Turner Gets a Taste of 'The Great White Way'

Justin Turner (11) wants to be a Broadway star. With Mrs. Bennin's, drama instructor, and her husband Roger's help, Justin submitted his audition for Broadway Evolved via YouTube... and waited.

In the spring Justin found out he was one of only 12 students picked from across the nation to travel to New York City and get firsthand experience of what a Broadway career will entail. "I was the only student from the Midwest who was chosen," said Justin. "I was lucky to get this opportunity."

Justin organized a concert at Memorial Hall to help raise funds for his trip. In addition to performing a few solos, including "Maria" from West Side Story, "Santa Fe" from Newsles and "Waving Through a Window" from Dear Evan Hansen, Justin sang duets with his sister Jessica, and Independence resident Meagan Moore.

"I didn't charge for tickets," said Justin. "I didn't feel like it was fair to charge people, so I just asked for donations." Justin raised enough money to allow him to tour the Theater District and meet with his idol Jeremy Jordan.

"He's my idol because he's proof that you don't have to be jacked or incredibly good looking to be a Broadway success- normal is possible," said Justin.

That taste of Broadway lit a fire in Justin to pursue his education at either NYU or Ithaca College.

Concert Bound

Ten IHS soloists, percussion quartet and junior/senior quintet earned 1s at the State Music Festival, Soloists included Jordan Cardwell (9), Brooklyn Ward (12), Jasmine McManus (12), Kiara Islam (9), Kaleigh Miller (11), Lille Taylor (9), Caitlyn Smith (10), Payton Ward (12), Cy Smith (12) and Dylan Penrod (12).

Cy Smith earned a perfect 80/80 for his xylophone solo "Flight of the Bumblebee," accompanied by Erin Shelton, band director.

Concert season is a busy time for band students, as they play at home basketball games.

Orchestra

For the first time in 25 years, the IHS orchestra earned straight "I" (superior) ratings from all three judges at the KSHSAA Large Group Adjudication Festival, which was held on the Pittsburg State University Campus.

At the State Solo & Ensemble competition in Larned, Ashton Johnson (11) earned a I for his viola solo, and the Junior/Senior Quintet of Cy Cmith (12), Ashton Johnston, Ashlyn Roten (12), Jasmine McManus (12) and Brayden Smith (12) earned a I, as well.

Five IHS soloists earned a II (Excellent) at State, including Brayden Smith, Cy Smith, Jasmine McManus, Ashton Johnson and Cody Sundquist (9).

IHS orchestra students also took part in the Wichita State University Orchestra Festiva for the first time. Students attended master classes with WSU faculty, listened to a performance by the WSU Symphony Orchestra, performed for three adjudicators and had a clinic with a WSU orchestra

Second Row: Chris Ortolani, Cole Farris, Trace Smith, Aidan Brumley, Landon Hines, Jakob Vowell and Austin White.

While the IHS boys golfers played well this year, there were other league players who simply played a little better.

Jakob Vowell (12) and Nate Morrison (12), both of whom played all four years, provided important senior leadership to an otherwise young team. Also stepping into leadership roles were Trace Smith (12) and Aidan Brumley (12).

The guys just enjoyed playing together. They called themselves "Scrub Nation" because they loved playing the game and didn't care what they looked like. Jakob Vowell led the team tradition calling, "Shake and bake" before play began.

Christopher Ortolani (11) shot a 95 at Regionals, which was good enough to qualify for State. State started well for Chris, as he was in seventh place after the first day. Then the late spring weather wrecked havoc in Ark City. After a thunderstorm flooded the course, the tourney was moved all the way west to Dodge City, but the time delay was a problem.

"I just lost my momentum," said Chris. "I ended up shooting a 91, which was only enough to put me in 50th place at the end."

The IHS boys varsity tennis team put in the hard work at practice and it paid off with several tournament wins, especially toward the end of the season when it's important to be ready for league and Regional tournaments.

The team came away as champions of the McPherson tournament when Logan Payne (12), took third place at #1 singles, Sam Grice (10) took third at #2 singles, Dominique Mendoza (10) and Sawyer Hayward (11) placed second at #1 doubles and Samson May (11) and Brecken Bertie (9) were champions at #2 doubles.

In late April the team then captured its seventh consecutive SEK league championship, although it had to share the win. Then a week later the team claimed the Regional Championship, Ryan Stoner (IO) and Samson Mahtook third, while Dominique Mendoza and Sawyer Hayward were champions, Sam Grice finished in fourth place in singles, and Logan Payne took third.

At the State tournament in Pratt, Sawyer and Dominique earned ninth place in doubles and in singles Sam finished in twelfth and Logan in eleventh place.

IHS started league play with two big wins over Fort Scott. Then in mid-April IHS split games with Iola. After sweeping the Labette County Grizzlies, the team went on to beat Parsons 20-0 and 16-1 the following week.

The softball team won their third consecutive undefeated SEK title beating Chanute 14-4 and 10-1.

Sadly, the season came to an end when the Lady Bulldogs lost to Anderson County in the Regional Championship. "We lost a tough game, but Garnett was just better that game," said Danny Burnett, head coach. "We have no reason to hang out head."

Post-season honors are as follows: All-SEK first team- Emma Short (9), Morgan Mavers (12), Taylor Howland (12) and Sydney Rinck (12); second team- Kayley Thorpe (10) and Katy Chapman (12).

All-State honorable mention went to Emma Short, Morgan Mavers, Taylor Howland and Sydney Rinck.

The season didn't go as the Bulldogs had hoped. "We had several close games that didn't go our way, " said Marcus Lanning, head coach. "Throughout the year we had some younger kids come in and really improve our team. I'm looking forward to having a group of players with a lot of varsity experience next year."

The team finished the season with a 5-13 record, with the final 4-2 loss coming at the hands of Anderson County in Regional play.

Even though the team struggled, there were several players who earned postseason honors: Gavin Haines (12) and Ryan Leiker (9)- first team All-SEK, and Landon Ewing (12) and Brayden Coller (11)- second team. Ryan Leiker was also selected to the Montgomery County Chronicle's All-Area first team, while Gavin Haines and Brayden Coller were named to the second team and Landon Ewing garnered honorable mention.

GETTING HEALTHY ONE SHAKE AT A TIME

Mrs. Jean Wason closed out her teaching career after six years as the Family and Consumer Science teacher at IHS.

Mrs. Wason experienced the transition from the home economics curriculum, which included cooking and sewing courses, intended primarily for girls, as they were considered the homemakers, to our current curriculum that still includes cooking courses, but now it's called culinary essentials and baking and pastry.

Mrs. Wason looks forward to traveling with her husband Dave to visit family in her retirement.

CTE Students Experience Hands on Instruction

Career and Technical Education (CTE) is no longer the traditional vocational education that many people think of. CTE offers a wide range of courses and opportunities for students to be college and career ready when they graduate from IHS.

In addition to cabinet making, construction and welding courses, IHS offers courses in small gas engines, computer aided drafting and manufacturing, animation, game design, and culinary arts. In the near future, IHS will add courses for an aviation pathway, as well.

Sawyer Hayward (11) hammers out a project in Production Welding 1.

Textron Aviation presented a clock to IHS in recognition of our partnership with the aviation industry.

Cristal Neese (9) and Sandra Neese (10) work together in introduction to metals class.

Cody Sundquist (9) and Miles Kaiser (9) watch as Mr. Stanley helps them with a project.

Colton Eytcheson (10) measures a piece of lumber for a project in construction class.

Jacque Wilson (10) rolls out chocolate chip scones in culnary essentials class.

Nijah White (9) works with dough in preparation for making scones in culinary essentials.

Travareus Wilson (10) uses a drill in constructing his toolbox in introduction to metals.

Skyler Tate (9) drills a hole while putting together a project in introduction to metals.

Lori Jimenez-Quigley (9) works with a piece of metal for her toolbox.

Cole Swearingen (12) works on a project in cabinet making and furniture design class.

Bryson Bright (11) works on a project for Production Welding Processes II.

In July, Kate Gordon (11) traveled to Manhattan Beach, California, where she competed in the USA National Beach Tour Junior Championship. She and her partner Riley Mattoon finished in 17th in the gold bracket.

Kate wants to pursue a career playing beach volleyball. She plans to play indoor volleyball in college and later move on to beach volleyball.

Kate discovered the Tulsa Beach Volleyball Team online and traveled to Tulsa. OK to tryout. There were around 50 other teams in each division.

The biggest differences between beach and indoor volleyball are that it's slower, harder to jump and there are less girls on the court. making it more difficult.

One of the many activities for AVID students is college visitation opportunities. (Left and below left) IHS student traveled to Pittsburg State University and the University of Kansas to tour the campuses, selected buildings and to get a sense of what life on these college campuses will be like.

In its third year at IHS, AVID (Advancement via Individual Determination) is making difference in the lives of its participants.

AVID students learn to improve their note taking skills with Cornell notes and get cademic help from tutors who volunteer their time.

Each Wednesday AVID students and faculty are encouraged to dress in College Wear Vednesday to promote college awareness. Students often ask faculty members about heir alma mater and get insight into a school they may be haven't considered.

AVID not only encourages students to apply to colleges and universities, but AVID taff helps juniors and seniors with applications for schools and scholarships.

IHS Class of 2020

Feel like you've taken some double-takes this year? That's because IHS has seven sets of twins this year, and three of them are in the senior class!

Singletons usually think it would be cool to have a twin, but this isn't always the case. Twins, especially identical twins, sometimes feel as if they have to share their identity with their twin.

"The worst thing is having to explain to my teachers that I have a sister," said Caitlyn Smith

(10), "Mrs. Cox didn't realize there are two of us for the first week of school,"

Ryan Piper (11) and his sister Taylor are fraternal twins. Ryan thinks the best thing about having a twin is having someone to talk to who is my own age. "However, the worst thing is being compared to Taylor when she does something better than I," said Ryan.

Brecken Bertie (9) and Brynn Bertie (9) are also fraternal twins. "I could say she wasn't planned because I was born first," said Brecken. "But really the only thing that gets on my nerves is when people call me Brynn."
